truthful in his accusation, i.e., one testimony of husband is equivalent to four testimonies;

c. and, the fifth time, his oath is to say that ALLAH's curse be upon him if he has been from among the liars.

24:08-10

a. And similarly, punishment is averted from his wife, if she gives testimony and swears four times by ALLAH that he, the accusing husband, is certainly from among the liars in accusing her, i.e., one testimony of wife is equivalent to four testimonies;

b. and, the fifth time, her oath is to say, that ALLAH's wrath - condemnation - be on her if he - the husband — has been among the ones who are truthful.

c. Thus, ensuring equal justice to both, the husband's accusation is to be regarded as proven if the wife refuses to take an oath to the contrary, and vice versa.

d. And had it not been for ALLAH's mercy upon you and HIS grace to open a way to repentance, then you would have been more perturbed under such circumstances,

e. and that ALLAH is surely Acceptor of Repentance, all-Wise.

Beware of Slandering

24:19 and 23

a. As for those who enjoy spreading unfounded allegations of immorality against any of the believers; or, those who love to see immorality spread among the believers,

b. for such slanderers there is grievous suffering and an agonizing punishment both in this world and in the Afterlife.

c. 49:12 states: 'Avoid any gossip about one another, for, beware, such gossip is in itself a sin.'

d. Al-Bokhari quotes a report from the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always: Never does a believer draw a veil over the nakedness (baring his fault/weakness/perceived sin) of the other believer without ALLAH's drawing a veil over his/her own nakedness on Resurrection Day.' Or as the Prophet may have said.

e. And ALLAH knows the exact truth as well as the intentions of such people, whereas you do not know.

f. Surely, those men who slander honorable, innocent believing females with a false charge without remorse or regret are cursed in this world as well as in the Afterlife.

g. And for such s/anderers shall be terrible punishment.

h. 33:58 states - And those who undeservedly malign male believers and female believers for no wrong they might have done, they shall have surely burdened themselves with the guilt of perjury and slander and a flagrant sin.

Refining Social Morality

- a. Direct the believing males to a/ways restrain their gaze/looks, or to turn it away from looking at the females, whom it is lawful for them to marry;
- b. and to safeguard their chastity and private parts so as to prohibit all illicit acts for fulfilling unlawful passions. The initial act is to cast eye, and the ultimate act is adultery.
- c. This is more conducive to their purity. See also 40:19.
- d. Surely ALLAH is all-Aware of what they contrive.

- a. And direct the believing females a/so to always lower down their gaze/looks, or to turn their looks away from looking at males, whom it is lawful for them to marry,
- b. and to safeguard their chastity and private parts,
- c, and not to expose, display or show-off their attractions and beautification in public except that part of it what is apparent thereof, i.e. face, hands and feet. Nevertheless, in case there is a risk of stimulation of illicit desires by looking at feminine face and hands, then its uncovering may be avoided. They should also avoid tight and/or see-through attire that may reveal shape of one's body as well as eye-catching dresses.
- d. And their head-coverings, scarves, veils or shawls must be drawn over their bosoms, i.e., show modesty in dress as well as a protection against potential male harassment, and
- e. not to expose, display or show-off their attractions to anyone except to:
 - their husbands, or
 - their fathers, grandfathers, great grandfathers, father-in-law, husband' grandfather and great grandfather, or
 - their husbands' fathers, or
 - their sons and step sons, or
 - their husbands' sons, or
 - their brothers and step-brothers, or
 - their brothers' sons, or
 - their sisters' sons and step-sons, or
 - their womenfolk, or
 - those female war captives whom they rightfully acquire during/after the qital, or

- such male attendants as are free of physical desire, and/or deranged persons, and/or of third gender, or
- boys who are as yet unaware of women's adornment, i.e. who have not attained puberty. See also 33:55.
f. And let them not stamp their feet or swing their legs while walking so as to draw attention to their hidden adornment, i.e. bosoms and hips; alludes to a deliberately provocative gait.
g. If you have erred in following the foregoing injunctions, then turn to ALLAH - the One God, altogether in repentance and forgiveness, O The Faithful!
h. so that you may succeed in the Sight of ALLAH by implementing these injunctions in your lives.
i. See also 33:59 and 24:60.

Promote Purity Among the Unmarried

a. And arrange the marriage of those men and women, who are unmarried singles despite reaching the age of marriage from among you through their guardians,

b. and also arrange the marriage of such of your servants and maids who are morally and physically fit.

c. If they are poor, /et this not deter you for ALLAH - the One God will enrich them from HIS bounty, i.e. do not reject the proposal of marriage on the basis of someone's current financial condition. ALLAH may bless them with infinite bounties after the marriage.

d. And ALLAH is all-Encompassing in HIS Mercy, all-Knowing.

e. Al-Tirmidhi and al-Nasdt' report that the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, said: "... support ... those who want to marry in order to guard their chastity.'

a. As for those who do not find the means to marry should wait with patience and keep chaste, until ALLAH enriches them from HIS bounty.

b. And if any of your males or females captives of war whom you rightfully acquire in/after the qital desire to be freed by paying mutually agreed money,

c. then grant them their wish, if you recognize some goodness in them, i.e. their ability to earn productively, be socially responsible, and make the payment.

d. And give them something of the wealth that ALLAH has given to you in order to win freedom. The injunction pertains to a moral obligation for ensuring independent economic status for the under-privileged.

e. And do not force your female youth whom you acquire as war captive in/after the qital, or the house maids, into prostitution while they desire to remain chaste and honorable, in your quest to seek the temporary pleasure of the worldly life. It does not imply that in the absence of an expressive desire, it is permitted to force them into it. No. It is not!

f. And whoever should force them {fo it against their free will,

g. yet after they have been forced fo it, ALLAH shall be Forgiving and Compassionate, and pardon their sin, and that sin will be passed on to the one who had forced the sin on them.

Cosmic in its Infinite Luminosity

a. ALLAH - the One God is the Light of the heavens and the earth: the Light is purported to be the light of Guidance and Truth.

b. The parable of HIS Light is like a concave mirror within a lamp.

24:36-37

a. The Light of ALLAH illumines such houses as ALLAH has enjoined to exalt, and HIS Name is commemorated therein.

b. These are houses of people in which HIS glory is extolled, by the morning and by the evening - see 10:87 for a parallel.

c. The people who benefit from this blessed light are those men and women, young and old, who are not distracted either by profits of trade or turnover of sales - anything that may bring them worldly gain, from the Remembrance of ALLAH,

WHO causes

Relaxation of Rules - Dress Code

24:60

a. While the dress code has been mandated via 33:59, it may be noted that the elderly ladies who are past the child-bearing age, as well as past the prospect of marriage, incur no sin if they put-off their additional outer garments/coverings,

b. provided they do not flaunt, and make any showy display of their adornment.

c. But even so, to maintain modesty is better as it is preferable that they abstain from removing additional outer garments/coverings.

d. And ALLAH is all-Listening, all-Knowing.

Sharing with Extended Family

a. O The Faithful!

b. You are all brethren among yourselves, hence

c. there is neither any restriction, or blame on the blind person, and

 - in houses of which the keys are in your possession,
- or houses of your friends.

g. You will incur no sin whether you a// eat together, or separately.

h. But whenever you enter any of these houses, greet your people with salutations, as enjoined by ALLAH, full of blessings and goodwill.

The Qur'an - Gradual Revelation

a. And those who disbelieve quiz the believers by asking:

b. 'Why has the Qur'an not been revealed onto him all in one single revelation,' like the way it was with the Torah to Moses?

c. The divine response was instantaneous:

d. 'Thus, it has been revealed gradually and in parts so that by this WE may impress it on your mind, and strengthen your heart O Prophet Muhammad, furthermore, it provides specific Divine Guidance on critical issues as they kept coming during the tenure of its revelation and then provide general guidelines for the future, and

e. WE have so arranged its component parts that they form one consistent integral and whole.

f. 17:106 elaborate it further: WE have divided The Qur'an into consecutive parts so that you may read it out to people slowly, distinctly and clearly with deliberation. And WE have indeed revealed it gradually, little by little and made it into one integral whole to be properly understood when considered in its entirety, i.e. when each of its passages is read in its macro context.

Strive with The Qur'an

a. So O The Faithful!

b. Pay no heed, and do not follow the likes and dislikes of the disbelievers;

c. strive against them with this Message of the Qur'an in a great striving, and make great defense for the Faith. Read it in the perspective of 41:26.

Featuring the Servants of Al-Rahman

a. And, the true servants of AL-RAHMAN, the Lord of Infinite Mercy, are those men and women, young and old, who demonstrate the following thirteen traits through their conduct and general behavior:

b. (i) walk humbly and modestly on earth, as opposed to with pride and arrogance,

c. and (ii) who, whenever the vicious and ignorant, i.e. the disbelievers, notwithstanding that they might be educated speak to them something unlikable and against their beliefs, they keep composed and answer with calmness and words of peace;

d. and, these are the ones (iii) who stay up far into the night in worship/fi/ meditation of their RABB — the Lord Supreme,

(iv) prostrating before their RABB — the Lord Supreme, and, standing.

e. The Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, is reported by al-before your time; this will bring you closer to ALLAH and will expiate the evil and keep you away from sins.' Or, as the Prophet may have said.

25:67-68

a. And, those (v) who, when they spend both for their own and others' needs, are neither wasteful nor are they stingy, and their spending is always based on a balance and is reasonable in between the two extremes;

b. 17:27 states: 'Surely the wasteful are brethren of Satan.'

c. The Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, is reported by Ahmad and Ibn Kathir to have said: It is the sagacity of man to adopt the middle path in spending; and, the person who sticks to the middle path and moderation in spending will never become poor. Or, as the Prophet may have said.

d. Those are the people (vi) who never worship, or invoke any entity, real or myth, besides ALLAH - the One God,

e. and, (vii) who do not kill any human being - the life which ALLAH has willed to be sacred, except in pursuit of justice and/or for a lawful cause after due process,

f. and, (viii) who do not commit adultery and/or fornication.

g. And, whoever disregards the foregoing and commits any of this, faces a severe penalty due for the sin.

25:72-74

a. And the true servants of ALLAH are those men and women, young and old, (ix) who do not witness/testify the falsehood/false testimony, or they do not participate in meetings where lie and falsehood has currency, and

b. (x) whenever they happen to come across indecencies and absurdity, or people engaged in frivolity, they pass by observing caution with dignity;

c. and those are the people (xi) who, whenever they are reminded of the Messages of their RABB — the Lord Supreme, do not fall before them deaf and blind, i.e. do not turn a deaf ear and a blind eye to them, but to it listen attentively, and act with due diligence;

d. and those are the people, (xii) who submit while making plea:

e. '(Oour RABB - the Lord Supreme!

f. Kindly make our spouses and our children a source of happiness by living a life of righteousness,

g. and, enable us to become a leader in setting good example, and a means of promoting piety.'

25:75-76

a. They shall thus be rewarded with highest place in heaven (xiii) for their patience and steadfastness in all adversities and persecutions in the Cause of ALLAH,

b. and shall be welcomed therein with greetings and peace; and living in it - the Paradise - forever.

c. Great place to live in, and glorious a destination!

d. Read 25:63-64, 67-68, 72-74 and 75-76 together with 23:01-08 and 11.

It is only Allah - the One God, Who Guides

28:56

a. The truth is that whoever you like to bring on to the Path of Guidance, you cannot bring him/her to Guidance, just because it is not your duty to force Faith through someone's heart.

b. In fact, it is only in ALLAH's control, WHO guides whoever HE wills through your teaching and motivation.

c. And HE knows best those men and women, young and old, who are amenable to and will follow the Path of Guidance. See also 42:52.

Korah—An Arrogant Capitalist

a. No doubt, Qariin/Korah was of Moses' people, an Israelite, yet he betrayed them and was insolent towards them.

b. And WE had granted him such great treasures that even their keys were too burdensome for a group of strong men to carry.

c. And his people warned him:

d. 'Do not exult in your riches; do not be self-conceited;

e. for sure, ALLAH does not like those who are exultant, self-conceited.

a. But Qariin/Korah would answer:

b. Why should I not exult?

c. [I have come to possess this wealth by virtue of my own professional knowledge, wisdom and skills.]

d. Did he not realize that ALLAH had destroyed people from the communities before him, who were far more powerful than him in might, and far greater in riches and wealth?

e. And the criminals of this sort shall not be asked at the Time of Judgment to explain reasons for their impieties in order to defend themselves; they will only be subjected to the consequences of their sinful crimes.

a. And so on one occasion he came out to his people in his splendor, and his people were fascinated by his great fortune.

b. Those who cared only for the life of this world, marveled at him, and said:

c. 'Would that we had the like of riches what Qariin/Korah has been given!

d. He is truly a man of immense luck and great fortune!'

e. But, on the other hand, those who had been granted true spiritual knowledge, and did not really care for the life of this world, said:

f. "Woe for you!

Title: The majesty of Qur'anic style and the comprehensiveness of its Divine Message in Arabic can never be

Size: 441,951 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

The majesty of Qur'anic style and the comprehensiveness of its Divine Message in Arabic can never be abridged to reduce its volumetric size. The very idea of reducing the volume caused a sense of sinful guilt in my heart, notwithstanding my inadequacy to do so. The fact that a large body of the Muslims make a highly selective reading of the Qur'an implies that an attempt in good faith to develop an anthology of the highlights and for a good cause of motivating the Muslim youth to draw closer to the Divine Message should not be met with resistance, remaining mindful that 'Allah alone guides whoever He wills as it is only He who knows best the ones who are amenable to guidance' — 29:56.

Thus giving my soul some comfort, I found guidance in one of the key expressions in 03:07, viz. Umm ul-Kitab, i.e. Mother of the Book or Essence of the Qur'an. Hence, for purposes of this exercise and remaining in spiritual and physical purity, the essence of each Sirah was captured followed by identification of the common and variant themes between and among the one hundred and fourteen Sirahs.

The language and narrative of the Qur'an is deliberately left with gaps so that the reader may actively participate in its comprehension, thereby stimulating thinking process. The Qur'an is not for a passive reader; it is for conscious people. Furthermore, the Qur'anic Ayat/Statements appear to be repeated several times. The purpose is to lay stress on certain teachings.

Nonetheless, there are ensembles of narratives which are presented with a specific purpose, but none of these usually present a complete picture in one place. A piece told in a given Sirah is likely to be Sirah-specific. For example, the narrative about Abraham" appears in Sirah six, twenty-one, fifty-one, sixty and twenty other instances. In each of these, a different part of his biography is told. Sirah Six is mainly addressed to the idolaters and criticism of idolatry figures prominently in it. Thus, the Sirah selects from Abraham's" life that incident in which he is shown as refuting his idolatrous people.

The connection between the incident and the Sirah's theme is obvious, both making the point that the then idolaters of Pagan Makkah, if they wished to follow Abraham" as their spiritual ancestor, they must abandon idolatry and worship the One True Allah, a point relevant for all times for those practicing idolatry and worshiping saints and spirits, objects and entities, real or myth, besides One God, Allah.

Similarly, while Moses" is treated in great detail and at length, the episode highlighting his role as a liberator, a lawgiver and a channel of Divine Revelation - that resembles the most with profile of Muhammad's Mission - has been retained and so is the narrative of Jesus."

The narrative about the creation of Adam and the fall of Satan and Adam, and the episodes from the chronicles of history and other thematic issues are recounted on several occasions. But consideration has been given to the choice of the one at 07: 11-27 that appears to give a compact account of the episode captured in Divine-Adam-Satan dialogue and the subsequent events. Thus, the exercise endeavors to limit itself to one Ayah/Statement or narrative in each case, and cross referenced to facilitate better understanding of the subject, its context as well as provide the whole message.

There are some eight hundred and eighty three Ayat/Statements that were revealed in response to specific situations and circumstances, and/or in connection with a particular person or a group. For example, 49:11 contains three injunctions relating to social behavior:

- o No one should ever jeer or mock the other, for it is quite possible that they may be better than them.
- o Their women should not ever jeer or mock other women, who may after all be better than them.
- o Do not find faults with one another, and do not taunt by using offensive nicknames for one another.

The first came for one Thabit Ibn Kais Ibn Shammās who mocked someone for his low social status in the presence of the Prophet”. The second was a stern warning to Sayedah A’isha (613-678) and Sayedah Hafsa who made sarcastic remarks about Sayedah Umm Salamah - all three were wives of the Prophet”. The third was revealed in response to two complaints - one by Sayedah Hafsa, wife of the Prophet’, and the other by one Ibn al Dahak.

Notwithstanding their specificity to individuals and time, all three injunctions are for general application and for all times. This compilation covers most of these injunctions. The Ayat/Statements sketching out the scenes of the Time of Resurrection and Judgment, and the Afterlife have also been selectively retained as some of the seven hundred and fifty Statements dealing with natural phenomena.

b. So there was no one who could come to his rescue, and help him against ALLAH and he was of the ones who were helpless in saving from the punishment.

c. And, on the following day of this catastrophe, those who were, the day earlier, longing to be in his position of prominence, were saying:

d. 'We had forgotten that it is only ALLAH, WHO spreads the bounty to whom HE wills among HIS servants, in as much as HE restricts it to whom HE wills.

The Divine Enlightenment

- a. O Prophet Muhammad!
- b. Never have you ever been able to read a Divine Book like the Torah and/or the Injil before this Qur'an was revealed onto you,
- c. nor have you ever been able to write one with your own right or /eft hand; if-you had been a literate and done so, the Followers of Falsehood who wish to falsify you would have had a cause to doubt the Divine descent of the Qur'an.
- d. Rather, this Qur'an is self-evident and consists of enlightening Statements to the hearts of those endowed with çrue spiritual insight.
- e. And no one deliberately repudiates, negates or rejects OUR Statements other than the unjust and wicked.

30:20-21

a. Allah has set up numerous wonders all over the universe as a witness to His Supremacy and Power. The following Q.30:20-25 and 30:46 draw attention to seven of these great wonders.

b. And among His Great Wonders is that He created you, as the first human being, out of earthly dust; and since then, c. you have grown into a human population, spreading far and wide, across the earth planet.

d. And, among His Great Wonders is the fact that He created for you spouses from among yourselves: same species as with all other living creatures,

e. so that you may live with mutual comfort and tranquility, and

f. He has instilled affection and kindness between you so that you live together as mutually loving and caring married couples.

g. Indeed, in this are clear signs for a people who ponder and reflect upon what Allah has created.

30: 22-23

a. And, among His Great Wonders is the creation of the cosmos, the celestial space and the earth, and

b. the diversity of your languages, your forms, and your colors, even though all of you are originally the offspring of one parenthood: Adam and Eve.

c, Indeed, in this are clear signs for a people endowed with knowledge of the phenomenon of creation.

d. And, among His Great Wonders is your sleep, by the nighttime or by daytime, as well as your pursuit for livelihood out of His Bounty.

e. Indeed, in this are c/ear signs for a people who listen to Allah's Messages.

30:24-25

a. And, among His Great Wonders, too, is that He causes you to see the lightning, giving rise to both fear of being struck, and inspires hope of relieving rain, and

b. that He sends down rain water from the sky clouds, wherewith He revives the earth/soil to life after it had been lifeless so that it produces vegetation once again.

c. Indeed, in this are clear signs for a people who use their faculty of reasoning and understand and reflect.

d. And, also among His Great Wonders are that the cosmos, the celestial space and the earth that stand firm by His Command.

e. Then, as the Time of Resurrection approaches, He shall call you with One Single Call, through Angel Seraphiel, from your graves in the earth, and you shall all come out instantaneously.

Islam —A Natural and Rational System

a. O Prophet Mohammad and The Faithful!

b. So set your face, i.e. stand firm in devotion and commitment, to the True Religion of Islam as a way of life - free from dogma, rituals, hypocrisy and polytheism - demanding only a state of submission to Allah — The One God.

c. This is the natural and upright Religion that Allah embedded in human beings in pursuit of the truth. So adhere to it.

d. There can be no altering the phenomenon of natural disposition in Allah's design of this creation.

e. This is the Religion, the unswerving; but most of the people do not realize it, and, hence remain ignorant of the truth.

Luqman Shares Wisdom

a. And, when Luqman said to his son, by way of advice, when he was enjoining him to do good and forbidding him to engage in evil:

b.'O My Dear Son!

c. Do not ascribe partners with Allah in His Unity, Divinity and Uniqueness;

d. for, ascribing partners with Him is certainly a tremendous injustice and a terrible sin.

a. And Luqman continued:

b.'O My Dear Son!

c. Whether good or bad, even if the deed should have the insignificant weight of a grain of a mustard seed,

d. and even if it is hidden in a rock, or anywhere in the cosmos, the celestial space, or in and on the earth,

e. Allah shall bring it to light for its judgment and reward.

f. Truly, Allah is All-Perceptive of the minutest dimensions of all things, All-Aware of their location.

31:17-19

a. O My Dear Son!

- Establish the daily Mandatory Prayer in conformity with its conditions and preferably in congregation, and

- enjoin to promote the doing of what is right, virtuous and good, and

- forbid and try to prevent the doing of what is wrong, vice and evil, and

- have patience and endure steadfastly with whatever may befall you.

b. Truly, these three things - enjoining good, forbidding evil and steadfastness - demand great determination, and are the most honorable traits.

c. And, do not turn your cheek/face away from people in false pride and contempt,

d. and do not walk about arrogantly and with pride on earth.

Abraham Makes a Plea

37:100-102

- a. And later Abraham made a plea:
- b. OMy Rabb!
- c. Please grant mea son of the righteous.
- d. Thereupon, We gave him the good news of a righteous and resolute boy, named Ishmael.
- e. So the boy, Ishmael, was born, and when he was old enough to work alongside of his father and understand his faith and aims;

1.O my dear father!
- m. Please do as you are commanded fo do, and,
- n. in due course, you shall find me, by Allah's Will, to be of the ones who remain patient and steadfast in momentous ordeal dedicated to Allah.

37: 103-105

b. Abraham laid him — Ishmael — down on the side of his forehead for making a sacrifice of him at a hillock in Mina, outskirts of Makkah.

c. Just at that point We called out to him:

d.OAbraham!

e. You have undoubtedly made the purpose of your dream come true by having reached this point; thus you no longer require offering Ishmael in sacrifice.

f. Thus, truly do We reward those who are obedient to Us and devoted to righteousness.

Great Sacrifice

37:106-107 and 109

a. All this was clearly a difficult ordeal for both Abraham and Ishmael to prove their true obedience and commitment to Allah.

b. Then We substituted him — in place of Ishmael - with a great sacrifice of a ram.

c. Our Peace and blessings be upon Abraham for having stood firmly in the Service of Our Cause.

d. And peace and blessings be upon Ishmael too who was pleasing to his Rabb - 19:54 - 55 and 21:58 - 86.

Title: Allah Speaks to you, us and them individually and collectively through His ennobled Prophet

Size: 375,530 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Allah Speaks to you, us and them individually and collectively through His ennobled Prophet Muhammad, Allah bless him always with honor. His Speech is filled with providential care and guidance. There are over five hundred Ayat/Statements where the Divine Voice speaks through a set of imperatives signifying an emphasis on matter of faith; like Oud - say, tell, declare, pronounce, proclaim; O The Prophet/Messenger; O Prophet's Wives; O The Faithful; O Descendants of Adam; O Followers of Former Divine Scriptures; O Israelites; O The Disbelievers; O People of the World. More important and non-repetitive of these imperatives have been taken as the highlights.

There are certain passages which talk about the ultimate reality of all things, of the real and final nature of the universe, of mind and the interrelation of mind and matter. A fair sample of such passages and almost all Ayat/Statements speaking of righteous behavior and of practical life have been retained.

Overall and in resonance with split of the Qur'anic subjects, sampling of beliefs occupy the larger part; morals and social behavior come next, followed by legal provisions. This constitutes one hundred and ten five Ayat/Statements, or approximately fourteen percent of the full Qur'anic text, thereby making the volumetric size considerably concise, yet presenting a fairly representative sample of the essence of the Qur'an and its profound excellence.

The Qur'an is a unique and unmatched masterpiece of Arabic literature. The spirit, the beauty, the eloquence, the depth and the comprehensiveness of the Arabic text can never be captured by any other language. Translations can be dull and convey the apparent meaning, but remain devoid of the true spirit, divine sanctity and powerful beauty of its eloquence and hence its impact. Strongly mindful of these limitations and my inadequacies, I seek Allah's guidance and support to accomplish a faithful translation embedded with true spirit.

This work is not strictly a translation. It is a blend of translation and brief explication, wherever necessary, by adding words to make the translation comprehensible, dubbed as 'paraphrasing'. It purposely avoids long wording in parentheses, and does not burden the text with footnotes. Extreme care has been taken to capture the closest meaning in English of every word/expression in Arabic of an Ayah/Statement, and not to let it smudge with extended language. The closest meanings are expressed in straight type script appearing in bold; the extended meanings appear in italic script. The two embedded in each other present one simple, harmonious and expressive Ayah/Statement in modern and friendly English. Best endeavors have been exercised to convey the Truth as the Whole Truth.

It is quite probable that an Ayah/Statement may not be understood on its first reading but clarity should develop on the second or later readings. Similarly, a set of words or phrases may offer more than one interpretation; hence there could be considerable variance among available translations as well as whether or not the translator is a Muslim. In order to understand certain Ayat/Statements one might also need to get proper perspective, notwithstanding that understanding would be influenced by one's attitude, prejudice, and interest in Islam and The Qur'an.

This book is not and can never be a substitute for The Qur'an. It is only intended to motivate men and women, young and old, to draw closer to The Qur'an by reading and understanding the highlights of Allah's Final Message to humanity conveyed through His Final Prophet Muhammad, Allah bless him always with honor.

The Qur'an is not paper and ink. It is a Guide for ethics, morality, decency, righteousness and societal change with focus on shaping one's life on Allah's Will. It is blessed and full of blessings. Let blessings of The Qur'an live in us, and enliven our souls!

Journeying Through The Qur'an

Listen and Follow

a. And for those men and women, young and old, who shun al-taghiit; and

b. turn in faith to Allah;

c. for them is the good news.

d. So announce the good news to such of My servants of Mercy and Blessings.

e. My servants are those men and women, young and old who listen attentively to the Speech of the Qur'an, and

f. thus follow and practice it in the best way possible.

g. It is they whom Allah has guided aright, and

h. it is they with intellects, capable of contemplation.

Never Despair Allah's Mercy

39:53-54

a. Say, O Prophet Mohammad, thus speaks Allah:

b. O My Servants!

c. Those of you who have harmed themselves by having squandered their lives in pursuit of worldly pleasures and thus transgressed against the benefit of their own souls through disbelief, idolatry, adultery and murder.

d. Never lose hope of Allah's /nfinite Mercy.

e. Undoubtedly, Allah forgives all sinful mistakes of those who seek forgiveness.

f. Indeed, it is He Who is The Most-Forgiving to all those who repent, and The Ever-Compassionate towards those who die repentant.

g. And turn to your Rabb in penitence, and

h. submit to Him in wholesome obedience before the ultimate suffering of death and resurrection descends upon you,

i. for then it would be too late and you can no longer be salvaged.

The Trumpet Sounds

39:68-70

a. And as the Time of Resurrection is to approach, the Trumpet shall be sounded - the First Blast,

b. whereupon everyone in the cosmos and the earth shall be stunned with the intensity of its lightening noise and fall down senseless, except whomever Allah Wills to be spared.

c. Then the Trumpet shall be sounded once again, the Second Blast, and

d. whereupon they shall all rise up, standing and staring as they shall begin to see the reality; or waiting to see what shall be done with them.

e. And the earth shall glitter with the Light of its Rabb, and

f. the book of worldly deeds shall be spread out for everyone; and

g. the Prophets shall be summoned, and the other witnesses, who shall testify for or against those to whom they conveyed Allah's Message.

a. O The Faithful!

b. In matters of Faith, He has ordained for you the same Faith that He once enjoined upon Noah, and

c. that which We reveal on to you O Mohammad, and

d. that, which We enjoined upon all former Prophets like Abraham and Moses and Jesus.

e. And all it denotes is that you should always uphold the same one true Faith of Islam, and

f. never make any dissension, deviation and/or factions within it; preserve its unity.

g. It is very hard upon the polytheists to comprehend the concept and respond positively to which you call them: the Unity and Uniqueness of Allah as they set up partners with Him—The One God.

h. But Allah chooses to His side in faith and in obedience whomever He pleases,

i. and He guides to Himself of those men and women, young and old who turn to Him heartily, penitently and obediently.

a. And those who shun major sins and shameful deeds,

b. and when they get angry or furious, even then they are willing to forgive rather than retaliate,

c. and those who respond to the call of their Rabb,

d. and establish the daily Mandatory Prayers in the prescribed manner and at designated times, preferably in congregation,

e. and conduct their affairs by consultations and deliberations among themselves,

f. and spend generously in Our Cause and for the needy out of that We provide for them,

g. and those who, when they suffer aggression and injustice, defend themselves and show a bold front by retaliating against those who wrong them in the same manner in which the latter wronged them.

h. And the reward for an evil deed is the like of that evil deed,

i. but whoever foregoes retaliation, forgives his adversary and reconciles, his huge reward is with Allah.

j. Truly, He does not take fancy of those who are unjust and the wrongdoers in initiating wrong and undue acts of revenge.

k. However, there is no cause to blame or retaliate against the one who defends oneself in a lawful manner after having been wronged.

1. Rather blame or retaliation lies only on those

- who oppress people, and

- commit aggression in the land without right or reason.

m. And, it is they for whom is painful suffering.

n. And surely, whoever endures patiently in such an adversity and forgives the wrong done to him/her;

Boys and Girls are from Allah

a. For Allah alone is the sovereignty of the cosmos, the celestial space and the earth.

b. He creates whatever He Wills.

c. He blesses with baby-girls whomever of the married couple He Wills, and

d. He blesses with baby-boys whomever of the married couple He Wills.

e. Or He gives the married couple both baby-boys and baby-girls, and

f. He causes infertility of the married couple whom He Wills.

g. Surely, He is both The Knowing of whatever He creates; The Powerful in bringing about whatever He Wills.

a. And it is not for any human being that Allah should speak to him face-to-face,

b. except it be through Revelation, or

c. should speak from the other side of Veil of Grandeur, where He makes the person able to hear His Speech but without seeing Him, or

d. He may assign an Angel-Envoy to reveal, with His authorization, whatever He may Will to reveal.

e. Surely, He is both The Exalted - more exalted than all created beings, and The Wise in His command and decree.

a. And, thus, in the same way, We have revealed on to you O Prophet Mohammad the Spirit from Our Command, i.e. the Qur'an by which hearts are revived.

b. And before this Revelation you neither knew the Revelation/ Book,

c. nor did you know through your own endeavor and insight the details of the injunctions of the faith.

d. But We have brought it, the Spirit/Our'an, as a Light,

e. by which We Guide whomever We Will of Our servants.

f. And, indeed, you O Prophet Mohammad guide people to the Right Path by means of the same Spirit, the same Light.

The Message Transcends Humans

46:29-30

a. And when WE directed a small group of jinn - beings outside the human visible spectrum - to you O Prophet Muhammad in order that they may listen to the Qur'an.

b. As they were present there, they said to one another:

c. Be quite and listen attentively!'

d. As this Recital was concluded by the Prophet, they rushed back to their people carrying a warning.

e. The event is reported to have happened in Batn Al-Nakhlah, outskirts of Makkah, while Prophet Muhammad, ALLAH bless him always, was returning from a preaching mission to Tai'fin Year 620 - a hilly resort ninety km east of Makkah. See also 72:01.

f. They - group of jinn - said:

g.'O Our People!

h. We have listened to the text of a Divine Book, that has been revealed after the Torah to Moses, confirming all divine origin of the truth that are still contained by the previous Revelations.

i. It guides to the Truth, and to a Straight Right Path that leads one to the realization of servitude to ALLAH - the One God.

b. O Our People!

c. Respond positively to the one who calls you to ALLAH - the One God, i.e. Prophet Muhammad, and believe in him and the truth of his mission.

d. Thus, ALLAH shall forgive some of your past impieties and sinful offences, and HE shall protect you from a grievous suffering in this life as well as in the Afterlife.

e. But whoever does not respond positively to the one who calls to ALLAH, then cannot render ALLAH helpless in persecuting him/her on the earth,

f. and, s/he shall have no friends for him/her besides ALLAH, and they shall thus be in clear error.

Believers Not to Fight Each Other

a. And, as and when, two groups of the believers fight to kill each other, then seek reconciliation between the two promptly.

b. And the one of them which is insolent and commits aggression against the other, then fight the one who commits aggression until it submits to ALLAH's Command: returns to peace on equitable terms.

c. So if it complies, then seek even-handed reconciliation between the two of them, and be scrupulously equitable.

d. Surely, ALLAH likes those who give everyone their due right, and are scrupulously equitable.

e. All believers are indeed in one single brotherhood: they are like one family.

f. Therefore, seek reconciliation between your brothers and/or sisters, and/or brotherly families/communities /nations when they are at odds with each other, and stay conscious of ALLAH S: instruction so that you may be blessed with mercy.

g. Al-Bokhari quotes a report from the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always: Cursing a Muslim is transgression, and fighting to kill him amounts to disbelief. Furthermore, al-Muslim quotes: The believers in their mutual kindness, compassion and sympathy are just like one body. When one of the limbs suffers, the whole body responds to it with wakefulness and fever. Or as the Prophet may have said.

Do Not Mock; Do Not Taunt

a.O The Faithful!

b. No one should ever jeer, ridicule or mock the other, for it is quite possible that whom they mock may be better than them.

c. Nor should their women ever jeer, ridicule or mock other women, who may be better than them.

d. And, do not find faults with one another; do not defame and negatively criticize one another; and, do not taunt one another by using offensive nicknames.

e. The social message is that a Faithful, both male and female, shall never ridicule or mock or belittle one another, and thus promote an environment of social wickedness.

f. As evil is the return to such a wickedness after having attained the Faith.

g. And whoever does not fee! remorseful and repent this behavior, then such people are the wrongdoers, and, surely the curse of ALLAH is upon the wrongdoers - 11:18. 06:82 also gives a similar message. See 104:01-09 for a comparable theme.

h. Al-Muslim reports on the authority of Abii Huraira that the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, once said: ALLAH does not look at your apparent forms, appearances and your possessions, but HE looks in your hearts and your deeds. The Prophet also said: One of you will notice the speck in his brother's eye, but ignore the tree stump in his own eye. Or as the Prophet may have said.

Do Not Eat the Flesh of a Dead Brother

a.O The Faithful!

b. Avoid a great deal of the suspicions as some suspicions are sinful.

c. And do not be curious o find out faults of others, and do not spy on one another — both at individual and communal level; and

d. do not speak ill of people behind their backs, i.e. do not backbite one another:

e. Would any one of you like to eat the flesh of his dead brother?

f. This comparison matches the hideousness of backbiting with the most disgusting thing imaginable.

g. You would surely consider it repulsive.

h. So stay conscious of ALLAH's injunctions, and do not backbite one another.

i. But if it happens inadvertently, and you seek repentance, then surely, ALLAH is both Acceptor of Repentance, and Ever-Compassionate.

The Recipient of the Qur'an
Muhammad

The Seal of the Prophets and Mercy for Humanity
(Allah bless him always with honor)

Muhammad was born in Makkah, a commercial metropolis and a pilgrims' hub in the Arabian Peninsula, in 570. He was the only child of his parents — Sayed Abd Allah bin Abd Al-Muttalib Al-Hashemi and Sayedah Aminah bint Wahb Al-Zuhriyya. Shepherd in early life, and then, as a young person, he was a successful merchant. He married Sayedah Khadijah in 595 at the age of twenty-five. They made a happy couple and became the parents of two sons and four daughters.

Muhammad was popularly reputed as friendly, trustworthy and a gentleman of impeccable character. As he was attaining maturity, he was getting deeply disturbed by social and moral environment around him. He found the idolatry and fetishism vulgar and social injustices distressing. He increasingly began to search for a response to his own agony at the injustice and chaos around him by resorting to meditation. He would go away from home for several days in a row and stay in a small cave on Mount al-Nur, named Hira', on the outskirts of Makkah.

The seclusion continued for a considerable period of time. It was in 610 that he underwent an experience of his life in Hira'. It was one night, after midnight, during the last ten days of the month of Ramadan, that he received the Divine Call. It was the beginning of the Divine Prophetic Mission for Muhammad, Allah bless him always. The Mission focused on three principal themes. First, Allah - the Lord Unitary, is the absolute source of all social, religious and legal authority. Second, all human beings are equal regardless of lineage, race and color. Third, the governance must be based on humaneness and social responsibility.

Prophet Muhammad's life and mission made an overwhelming appeal to the masses. It uplifted the status of women, gave rights to the under privileged, and regulated the moral and social life of the disenfranchised. Obviously, it undermined the social and political authority of the ruling and the privileged in Makkah. They felt threatened. They started a systemic campaign of intimidation and persecution of the newly formed nucleus of Prophet Muhammad's followers. The campaign of oppression and torture continued for ten long years.

Finally, Allah "guided His Last Prophet Muhammad" and his companions to emigrate to Madinah in 622. It took him several years to strive and battle against tyranny, oppression and social injustice. He created a generation of highly inspired Faithful for whom his words were the guiding star of their lives. His words continue to be the guiding star for millions - past, present and future. The Qur'an portrays this group of the Faithful in Statement 110, Surah 03 * Al 'Imran. It says:

- You are the noblest community that has ever been raised up for the human race.
- As you enjoin wholesome justice, equity and fairness, and, you forbid all that is wrong.
- As you firmly believe in the oneness, supremacy and un-shared divinity of Allah.

It was in Madinah that he, slowly but steadily, set up the foundations of the first Islamic Welfare

State. He wrote the charter that guaranteed the political and economic rights of all men and women. He established the code of ethics for times of peace and times of war. He set a track record of personal examples of social responsibility and egalitarianism. It is to this time that the Muslim Faithful, around the world, are inspired to re-establish this model state as a political and economic system.

While he was approaching the sixty-third year of his life, the Last Prophet" prepared himself and his family for the Hajj - the only Hajj that he performed in his lifetime. On this occasion he was pleased to be in the company of over hundred thousand Believing Faithful who gathered at Arafat

Power of the Faith

- a. O The Faithful!
- b. Undoubtedly, you strike greater fright in their - disbelievers and polytheist - hearts than that of ALLAH for HIS ultimate judgment/punishment.
- c. That is because they are a people devoid of understanding, who cannot grasp the Divine Truth.
- d. They will never fight against you, even when opportunistically united together, except from within fortified strongholds, or from behind high security walls - how accurately does it portray the situation in the twenty first century for Afghanistan, Iraq, Palestine, and elsewhere in Lands of Crescent.
- e. While their hostility among themselves is severe, you may reckon them to be united, but in fact their hearts are at odds and divided towards diverse ends, because they are a people devoid of reason and sense.

Bond with Allah

59:19

- a. O The Faithful!
- b. And do not be like those Jews and hypocrites who are oblivious of ALLAH's rights by abandoning HIS worship and obedience.
- c. So HE punished them and caused them to be forgetful of themselves by not performing any deed of righteousness that could salvage them - read it with 45:34.
- d. They are the corrupt in Faith.

Power of the Qur'an

59:21

- a. Had WE sent down this, the Qur'an, even onto a mountain,
- b. you would have surely seen it humbled, and shattering apart with its power and shaking influence, and in its awe of ALLAH - the One God.
- c. And such are the examples in symbolic language WE cite for a people, so that they may contemplate.

59:22

- a. HE is ALLAH - the One God, besides WHOM there is no one and can never be any entity worthy of worship, reverence and obedience,

60:01

a.O The Faithful!

b. Do not take in friendship and alliance My enemies and your enemies, showing them affinity or affection,

c. even though they belie and deny of what has come to you of the truth — The Qur'an and Islam,

d. and even though they have driven out The Prophet

e. If you have mobilized to strive in the Service of My Cause, and seeking My Pleasure, then

f. how can you secretly seek their friendship and alliance and extend affection to them, while you know well that I am all-Aware of what you conceal and of what you reveal.

g. And whosoever among you does so, then, he has definitely strayed off the Right Path, i.e. from the path of true guidance.

h. This pertains to those of the disbelievers who are actively hostile to you and ridicule your religion and its oracles.

a. Should they encounter you, they would treat you as enemies, and

b. stretch out their hands against you to assault and kill, and their tongues /oaded with malice - to insult, abuse and slander you,

c. for they wish for you to deny the truth the way they do it.

No one to benefit anyone

a. Bear in mind that if you were ever to reject your Faith of Islam then your relatives and your own children would not be of any benefit to you at the Time of Judgment;

b. for then He would decide between you on merit alone.

c. And ALLAH is all-Watching of whatever you do: good and evil.

a. ALLAH - the One God does not prevent you from being kind and equitable with those men and women, young and old, who

c. Ibn Kathir quotes from al-Bokhari and al-Muslim, that the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, said: The mark of the hypocrite is threefold — when s/he makes a promise, s/he breaks it; when s/he tells of an event, s/he tell a lie; and when s/he is given a trust, s/he betrays it. Or as the Prophet may have said.

d. It incurs great hatred in the Sight of ALLAH that you say things and then you do not do for the Faith and lying/hypocrisy are not mutually compatible.

on Friday, the 09" of Dul-Hijjah, in 632. He addressed the Faithful from Mount al-Rahmah. The essence of his address sets the foundation of his teachings and Mission for all times:

- Treat the life and property of every Muslim as a sacred trust.
- Hurt no one so that no one may hurt you.
- Do not inflict inequity and, as a consequence, do not cause yourselves to suffer inequity.
- You are forbidden for all times to get involved in usury business.
- Treat your spouse with kindness. They are your partners in life and faithful helpers.
- Stay fully committed to the worshipful obedience of One Allah....Offer the daily Mandatory Prayers....Fast during the whole month of Ramadan.....Give a part of your wealth in Zakat.
- All human beings are equal. The superiority of one over the other is only by ones reverence to Allah, deeds of righteousness and responsible social behavior.
- The Muslim Community constitutes One Family.

This appeared to be his last public address. This was also the time when he received the last revelation (05:03), which wrapped-up his Divine Prophetic Mission to humanity. The Qur'an was completed.

Back in Madinah from the Hajj, he was frail, weak and unwell. He was running intense fever. In the forenoon of hot sandy summer of 632, while he was in his chamber, he was preparing to leave this world, he raised his index finger and eyes to the Heaven and called out: "Better the next world..." With these words he peacefully left this world for a better world. His body was respectfully laid to rest in the place where he breathed his last.

The green dome of the Masjid al-Nabi al-Sharif in Madinah al-Munawarah makes the canopy of his resting place.

May Allah, His angels and all righteous souls send their wholesome blessings on Muhammad. Muhammad, the person - Gem of a Person. Muhammad, the Prophet - Gem of a Prophet.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

c. And bear in mind that ALLAH - the One God brings about ease in affairs of the one who stays mindful of HIM.

Duties towards Divorced Women

a. House them, the wives you are divorcing during their waiting period of three lunar months according to your means, wherever you live yourselves, and

b. do not coerce or harass them so as to make their stay difficult, and hence make them leave the residence earlier.

c. And if they are in a family way, then bear their expenses until they have delivered their burden of child.

d. Then once delivered, if they opt to breast-feed the child for you, then give them their compensation.

e. And consult together in these matters as is the custom and with fairness,

f. but if you make difficulties for each other and reach a deadlock, then let another woman breast-feed the child for him, and he should settle the compensation.

a. The rich man/husband should spend for the child according to his means, and the one whose livelihood is constrained, should spend from whatever ALLAH has provided him.

b. ALLAH - the One God does not burden and makes one liable beyond what HE has provided him.

c. ALLAH - the One God shall soon bring about ease after difficultyardship.

Blessings of Repentance

a.O The Faithful!

b. Turn to ALLAH - the One God in sincere repentance, genuinely and remorsefully.

c. Al-Bokhari and al-Muslim quote the Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, to have stated: O People! Repent to ALLAH, for I repent a hundred times a day. ALLAH accepts HIS servant's repentance provided s/he is not struggling with his/her last breath. Or as the Prophet may have said.

d. It may be that your RABB — the Lord Supreme will accept your sincere repentance, and absolve you of your sinfi/deeds, and cause you to enter into the Gardens of paradise through which streams flow.

e. At that Time, ALLAH - the One God shall not disappoint _ the Prophet by rejecting his intercession, and those who believed with him.

f. Their light shall race around/before them, and on their right hand that would hold record of their good deeds, as they shall say:

In Devotional Worship and Meditation

73:01 and 20

a. OAI-Muzzammil! O Muhammad!

b. Surely your RABB — the Lord Supreme, is well aware that you stand in pre-dawn tahajjud prayers for almost two-third of the nighttime,

c. and at times, half of it, and at other times, even a third of it, and

d. so do a group of those men who are with you in Faith.

e. And ALLAH - the One God determines the measure of the nighttime and the daytime, which HE created.

f. HE knows that you will not be able to continue it regularly, therefore, HE has turned to all of you in mercy.

g. So recite/comprehend as much of The Qur'an as is easy for you, but do it regularly.

h. HE knows that some of you may be ill, and some of you may travel the land, seeking ALLAH's Grace, and, yet still others fighting in the Cause of ALLAH.

i. Therefore, recite/read as much of The Qur'an as is easy for you.

j. But establish the daily Mandatory Prayers preferably in congregation,

k. and pay out the Zakat - and thus advance a good loan to ALLAH - the One God.

l. And whatever good deeds you will thus send ahead for your own selves, you shall find the same with ALLAH, much better in condition, and with a greater reward than all that you leave behind in the world.

m. And always seek ALLAH's forgiveness.

n. Indeed, ALLAH - the One God is both Ever-Forgiving and Ever-Compassionate.

Title: Allah — It is an Arabic expression, a proper name for the Almighty and Supreme Being: The One

Size: 462,271 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Glossary

Allah — It is an Arabic expression, a proper name for the Almighty and Supreme Being: The One God, singular, who does not have a gender, parents, siblings, spouse, daughters and/or sons. Allah is above and beyond all description; there is nothing whatever like Him. Faith in One Allah is the fulcrum of Islamic monotheism and obedience to His Will is the focus of the Muslim way of life. Allah is not a contraction of al-ilah, but a totally different word. While pronouncing the word Allah, the stress in accent is on letter 'L' like 'b' in abbey. It appears 2,697 times in The Qur'an. Names and Attributes of Allah, al-Asma al-Husna, are traditionally enumerated as ninety-nine epithets, on which is based its systematic expositions about the divine essence —dhat - and its attributes — sifat.

Ayah/Ayat (pl) — Sign, parable, symbol, miraculous event, a Statement of The Qur'an. I have retained the Arabic expression without translation because it cannot be rendered appropriately in English. Translators usually translate Ayah as 'Verse' which I consider absolutely incorrect because The Qur'an is not poetry to have a verse or a set of verses.

Blasphemy - Speech or writing that is derogatory to Allah*” which is the closest translation of Sacred Text expression of takdhib - 'giving a lie, denial' and iftira, 'fabrication', In as muchas Allah*"" and His Messages represent the ultimate truth, blasphemy is denial of that truth or propagation of falsehood in its place. Blasphemy by denial (takdhib) is the outright rejection of revealed religious truths, such as the revelations and warnings of Allah's Emissaries, revelation and inspiration, warning, and the announcements of the Time of Resurrection and Judgment, and finally the Meeting with Allah*"" (Q. 06:31; 10:45; 23:33; 25:11; 82:09)

Blessing - Allah*"" bestows blessings on humankind by way of creation and ordering of life and the universe, sustenance, progeny, material wealth, health, protection, deliverance from enemies, and so on. Expression of gratitude for Allah*""'s blessings is a fundamental obligation and failure to do so is tantamount to disbelief. (Q. 14:28; 16:114.)

Dhikr — Translated as remembrance, commemoration, admonition, etc. In its context, it implies following the Qur'an and keeping of the oracles of Allah; Remembrance of Allah. The expression and its various forms occur 292 times in the Qur'an.

Hadith/Ahadith (pl) — A corpus of explicit statement, text, maxim, saying or action attributed to the Prophet Muhammad""; always naming both the transmitter(s) and the original source. Sometimes translated as the Tradition. A number of compilations made after about two centuries of the demise of the Prophet"" are regarded as authentic on the subject; these comprise: Al-Bokhari, Al-Muslim, Al-Tirmidi, Sunan Ibn Majah, Sunan Abu Dawood, Sunan Nesa'i, Mauta Imam Malik, and K@fi, etc. See also 'Sunnah' below, where the two are comingled.

Haram - Sacred, forbidden; Sanctuary surrounding the Ka'bah (Makkah); also the Prophet's Masjid in the premises of his final resting place in Madinah.

Hajj —The annual pilgrimage to Makkah in the month of Dhul-Hijjah, the twelfth month of the Islamic Calendar; required of all adult Muslims once in their lifetime, if possible. The Hajj stations comprise of al-Masjid al-Haram, Mina, 'Arafat (essential parts of the Hajj ceremonies occur here) and Muzdalifah (a location some half-way between Mina and 'Arafat where the pilgrims returning from 'Arafat spend the night in worshipful devotion) - all in Makkah and within its 13-mile periphery. It is one of the five Pillars of the Faith of Islam.

Halal- A practice, custom or an act sanctified/made lawful by a Divine Decree contained in The Qur'an.

It is the opposite of Haram.

Sama'/Samawat' (pl) is normally translated as 'the heavens'; in fact, the expression is a metonym for all the stars, moon, sun, galaxies, nebulae, etc. Thus, it has been paraphrased as 'the cosmos.' The other connotation is the spiritual plane of eternal happiness. In Arabic Sacred Text, however, there have always been two separate expressions used, sama' and jannah. The word sama' is used for the cosmos and the word jannah denotes Paradise, the land of eternal bliss, the permanent home of the righteous believers, and the opposite of Hell. 'As-Sama' has also been used in The Qur'an to imply the realm of unperceivable to which ascend the good words and good deeds.

Hijrah — The emigration of Prophet Mohammad"" from Makkah to Madinah; the year it occurred 622 is the base-year of commencement of the Muslim era/calendar. The Hijrah Calendar is different from the Arabic Calendar.

h, Al-Bukhari, Abii Dawiid, al-Tirmidhi and al-Nasa't relate that Sayedah 'A'ishah, may ALLAH be pleased with her, said: The Prophet when getting into bed to sleep, would recite 113:01-05 and 114:01-06, and, blow into both hands and would run his palms over his head, his face and the front part of his body, before running them over the rest of his body. He would do it three times.' Or as the Prophet may have done.

Title: Badr Hashemi (BH) was born (1944) and raised in a religious family

Size: 284,045 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

About BH

Badr Hashemi (BH) was born (1944) and raised in a religious family environment which inherited a legacy of the centuries' old tradition of dispensing values, virtues and education. He completed the elementary learning and partly memorized The Qur'an while under ten and continued with learning the Arabic language, grammar and exegesis of The Qur'an and Hadith in parallel with formal western education in social sciences and development studies.

BH attended sandwich courses at Al-Azhar in The Qur'anic Arabic and lectures in interpretation of The Qur'an and Fiqh by Shykh Ali Al-Tantawi (Faqih) in Cairo, and Shykh Yusuf Al-Qaradawi (Faqih) in Qatar. He had periodic learning sessions with Professor A. J. Arberry (Roman Catholic, translator of The Qur'an and Ahadith, etc.) during the mid-sixties while BH was a student at the University of Cambridge (UK), and, later in the late-eighties with Muhammad Asad (Jewish convert to Islam, translator of The Qur'an and Ahadith, etc.) in Gibraltar.

BH is a Professional Economist and a Fellow of the World Bank Institute of Development Economics in Washington DC, and the United Nations Asian Development Institute. Worked as a civil servant in Pakistan and was part of the international civil service with the United Nations. He has been a keynote speaker at international seminars/conferences in Europe, the Middle East-North Africa, and the Far East; widely traveled with long periods of stay in the Arab Middle East and North Africa.

Well versed in Arabic and English and well read in the Torah, the Psalms, the Injil, Islamic history and culture, ancient civilizations and comparative religions, BH has held interactive discussions with Jewish Rabbis and Christian Priests in North America and Western Europe. He has visited various sites and places of history enumerated in the Torah, the Injil and The Qur'an — scattered from the Nile Delta through the Levant to Babylon.

BH initiated work on 'English Translation and Paraphrasing of The Qur'an' in 1999 with the aim of understanding The Qur'an with The Qur'an. This research project has progressed to reach its conclusion. Five of its six volumes are available from The Holy Qur'an Research Foundation, 60-C, Nazimuddin Road, F-8/4, Islamabad. In addition, he has published 'The Divine 99' available from Islamic Research Institute, International Islamic University, Faisal Campus, Islamabad, Pakistan.

He is also exploring the principal thematic issues in the Hadith literature that form the common heritage between the Shiite and the Sunni schools of thought in Islam. BH can be reached via email at hashemibadr@gmail.com and visited at www.quranhighlights.com

Title: Islam — Surrender/submission to the Will of Allah; theoretically the term is applied to the religion

Size: 495,783 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Islam — Surrender/submission to the Will of Allah; theoretically the term is applied to the religion proclaimed by all Prophets of Allah from Noah to Mohammad, Allah bless them all. However, the name has eventually become synonymous with the followers of The Qur'an and Prophet Mohammad". Jihad — Struggle, effort, endeavor, a state of striving for the Cause of Allah — utilizing all physical, mental and spiritual faculties in accordance with the Shari'ah/Muslim Law to suppress tyranny, ensure the right of an individual to home and freedom, prevent persecution in religion and guarantee freedom of belief to all people; it also includes war/qital - there are different opinions as to the circumstances under which it becomes necessary. Jihad is a non-violent activity and is not meant to impose Islam or spread it by force — Q. 02:190, 256; 03:20, 104; 04:90; 05:14; 10:100; 16:125; 24:54; 109:01-06. The expression is also applied to a person's own struggle against one's baser impulses. The expression occurs about 41 times in its various forms.

Jinn — Affirmed by the Qur'an as Allah's creation, are the conscious beings, intelligent, corporal that cannot be seen by human beings. The Qur'an presents the Jinn, like humans, as good or bad. The expression occurs about 201 times in its different forms.

Ka'bah - The cube-like structure within the al-Masjid al-Haram in Makkah, which is clad with black covering. It is towards this site that the Muslims direct their Prayers; but do not worship it.

Madinah - ~250 miles north of Makkah, the name given to the agricultural settlement of Yathrib after emigration of the Prophet".

Masjid - Usually translated as Mosque; place of worship for Muslims where the Salat/Salah is performed - daily five times in congregation.

Makkah - the Epicenter of Islam and houses the Holy Ka'bah; birthplace of Prophet Mohammad". It lies about 45 miles east of the Red Sea port of Jeddah, Arabian Peninsula.

Muslim - Derived from Islam, means surrender/submission of one's being to One Allah and obedience to Divine Revelations. In contemporary context, it implies obedience to The Qur'an and Prophet Mohammad"; the one who has accepted the Faith of Islam.

Prophet/Emissary - Two terms used for prophethood, expressed as nabiyy and rasil in the Arabic Sacred Text; the later denotes a divine office which does not necessarily bring a new Shari'ayah/Divine Law; the former entails bringing a new/revised Divine Law. Prophet Mohammad" is called by both. Rasiil is also used for angle-envoys sent to Abraham"" and Lot".

P—appearing as mounted" on the name of a Prophet of Allah implies 'Peace be upon him.'

Satan — Shaytan in Arabic occurs about 88 times in The Qur'an. Arabic/Qur'anic dictionaries term it as the one remote from all that is good and true; exceedingly evil; rebellious; obstinate; perverse; far from Allah's mercy; the impulses in human soul which run counter to truth and morality. It does not necessarily mean devil.

The Qur'an —Also transliterated Qur'an, Koran, Qur'an, Coran, Kuran, Quraan, Kura'n and Al-Qur'an. Divine Scripture revealed by Allah to Prophet Mohammad". It is the absolute and unchanging Word of Allah with spiritually nourishing latent content: a divine, eternal and dynamic text. Among other matters, The Qur'an identifies scientific phenomena including creation of cosmos, space and earth, astronomy, earth science, water cycle, animal and plant kingdoms, human reproduction, etc. The term qur'an which, whenever it appears without the definite article 'al', i.e. Al-Qur'an (The Qur'an), denotes a solemn recitation, recital or discourse. In all its manifestations, it appears about 89 times in The Qur'an; it comprises 30 Chapters of equal length, and consists of 114 Surahs of unequal length. See 'Siirah' below.

Rabb - The expression is used for Allah about 969 times in The Qur'an. It is usually rendered in English as Lord, which I consider as too limited to convey essence of the expression 'Rabb.' Hence, I have retained it as it appears in the Arabic Sacred Text. It conveys not only the idea of fostering, bringing up and nourishing but also that of regulating, completing, accomplishing, sustaining and perfection. It also means originator of things and their combiner to create new forms. The lexicons of Arabic language speak of all of them, and more, when they give the detailed meaning of the root Rabb, the stress in accent is on letter 'b' as 'b' in abbey.

Ramadan — Fasting from dawn-break till sunset/dusk; abstinence from foods, drinks, smoking, wife-husband cohabitation, and human baser desires during 29 or 30 days of Ramadan — ninth month of the Islamic Calendar. Obligatory on all adult Muslims, except for reasons of old age, sickness and travel, etc. It is one of the five Pillars of the Faith of Islam.

Salat/Salah — A series of acts/postures of worship, encompassing spirit, mind and body, performed in a fully described manner by Muslims five times a day — early morning, afternoon, late afternoon, dusk and night, preferably in groups, facing toward the Ka'bah; including the special group prayer of midday on Friday. It comprises short recitations from The Qur'an. It is the cardinal form of worship for the Muslims and is one of the five Pillars of the Faith of Islam.

Sunnah - The body of recorded words, actions, gestures and practices of Prophet Mohammad" that have been established as legally binding. This material constitutes the second foundation of the Faith of Islam and its legal system, The Qur'an being the first and prime source. See also 'Hadith' above, where the two are comingled.

Sirah/Suwar (pl) — Literally means a fence, enclosure, or any part of a structure. In the Qur'anic context it means an embodiment of a collection of Ayat, which may vary in length from 286 to 3 Ayat. The Qur'an comprises 114 Sirah.

'Umrah — Mini Hajj; consists three worshipful acts of al-ihram, al-tawaf and al-sa'y - all are performed within the premises of al-Masjid al-Haram in Makkah.

SWT - This is the Acronym for Arabic 'Subhanahu wa Ta'ala' meaning Allah is pure of having partners, and He is exalted from having a child.

Zakah/Zakat — The word is linked to zaka (to be pure); it implies expiation or purification of one's material possessions, i.e. money, wealth and property - a fixed proportion of which is supposed to be paid out yearly by the well-to-do Muslims as obligatory charity to the poor and/or for other defined causes. It provides social security and is an important parameter of Islamic fiscal system. It is also one of the five Pillars of the Faith of Islam.

Notes:

« The Arabic Particle waw, which is usually translated as 'and' does not always mean so; it can also imply 'but', 'yet', 'at', 'then', 'when' whilst, 'however', 'otherwise', and a number of other words and particles. Always to render it as 'and' is to misrepresent rather than be faithful to it. Thus, it is translated as the sense required, but not left untranslated as it constitutes a party of the Divine Revelation.

e There are three Ayat/Statements at 22:18, 22:77 and 84:21, which have an evidence to portray the Prophet's practice of performing 'sajdah' - prostration-as part of the reading and /or listening has been shaded.

Arabic transcript has been inserted from Microsoft World Quran Plugin.

Title: Transliteration Guide
Size: 305,340 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Transliteration Guide

There are ten characters in Arabic alphabet which comprise: & € bob? 2d & Co In English t which do not have equivalents in English. These the same sounds are some times spelt in more than one way, and the same letter may be used to represent more than one sound , e.g. ‘C’ represent ‘S’ in ‘face’ but ‘K’ in ‘cloth’. Arabic spellings are much more regular and one letter or symbol represents just one sound.

Over the years several attempts have been made to bridge the gap for transliterating the Arabic sound correctly into the English language. Currently, a combination of three different techniques are employed for transliteration of certain Arabic alphabets, which do not have an equivalent in the English language.

- 1. Placing a macron (-) over the English alphabets to indicate long vowels of the Arabic language; for example:
Iman 04) Rasal Js) Inj = de!
- 2. Placements of dots (.) under certain English alphabets; for example:
Hajj & Muhammad sins Tawaf Gijb Salat suc
- 3. Underlining (_) certain alphabet or combination of alphabets; for example:
Uthman ola Hadith ews

Notwithstanding the foregoing, there remains a considerable confusion in the systems in practice.
A normally authoritative and careful encyclopedia employs, within the space of a dozen pages, three different versions of a common name like ‘Quraish’. At least three more spellings of the word are commonly used, and another twelve spellings are theoretically justifiable according to the various principles of transliteration of Arabic.

Thus, in practice building a usable romanization involves tradeoffs between Arabic and English characters. Pure transcriptions are generally not possible as Arabic contains sounds and distinctions alien to English. The choice of transliteration for this Study has been made as presented in the table below which is a template developed by IRLIUI.

Alphabet Symbol my

- e th Sound between /s/ and /th/ as in thing, maths and teeth.
- a “harsher” sound than the English initial /h/, and may occur medially and in word-final position as ct h well, Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat
- [a kh as /ch/ in Bach in German, and in Loch in Scottish, but rougher
- 3 dh Sound between /z/ and /th/ as in this, father, worthy and with.
- uw no close equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing it as /sw/ or /s/ farther $ back in the mouth, with a hissing sound as in ‘bus’
- rs d no close equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /d/ and /z/ farther back in b t no close equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing // farther back in the mouth, a little thicker pronunciation as for 'tumble'

b z no close equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing 'the' farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated palatal /z/

Fa 7 no close equivalent in English, a guttural sound in the back of the throat. [a] say a-a-a-ah and try a to raise the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled

3 no close equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing it like the French /t/ in & gh 'rouge', and /t/ of Paris. Guttural /g/ but soft; requires that the throat muscles be in gargling position,

Size: 386,772 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Journeying Through The Qur'an

@ The Qur'an is meant for the welfare of humanity. Thus, it shall forever be guarded against all corruption and all attempts to destroy it.

@ Mockery and opposition to the Word of Allah would never go unpunished. Whenever it is read with faith and reverence, it serves as a healing of hearts and spiritual ailments and a blessing.

@ The main theme is the Faith, and the main issues that surround it: Allah's Unity and Supremacy, submission to Him, His Revelations, the Resurrection and its correlatives. This life is transient to another permanent life after the Resurrection, where everyone will be rewarded in accordance with ones performance in this life. The losers will be those who deny Allah's Sovereignty and neglect His Guidance.

@ Everyone's dignity must be respected, regardless of one's religion, race, ethnicity, gender, or social status. It is by Divine Will that human creation follows different religions.

@ There is neither any coercion in matters of faith nor it is to be followed blindly or accepted unquestioningly. It invites humanity to use reasoning and to reflect on the teachings of The Qur'an to find the indisputable truth and attain ultimate salvation.

@ The Muslims are treated as any other religious community by being told that, when it comes to justice and judgment, they shall not be afforded any special concessions. For them, as for all human beings, reward shall be commensurate with conduct and behavior in resonance with Divine Injunctions.

@ The battle between right and wrong, truth and falsehood, would never cease, but the final triumph shall always be to the believers. Stand firm on the right; do not cross the limits set by Allah in matters of belief, acts of worship, business dealings, morals and human relationships, etc., for it is the cause of all disorder and corruption in material and religious life.

@ The Qur'an is Prophet Muhammad's"" outstanding miracle that if all creation, human and jinn, were to work together they could not produce the like of even one Qur'anic Sirah. However, the real miracles are those which are inspired by teaching of The Qur'an and work within a human soul - the transformation which it is to bring about in the world, the moving away of the great mountains of ignorance which are obstacles to the spread of truth, and the awakening of those who are dead in spirit.

@ Allah does not change a people's condition unless they first change what is in themselves: thinking, attitude, conduct and behavior—a mindset reflected in social behavior and public dealings.

e@ Allah orders social righteousness where materialism cannot dominate a Faithful's character and conduct; urges fight against social corruption by preaching and drawing upon public opinion; forbids obscenity, sodomy, adultery, fornication, commercial dishonesty and economic exploitation.

e It commands not to tamper with the property of orphans and under privileged; be fair and transparent in business dealings, not to cheat and steal; speak for justice even if it affects one's family members; respect the rights of the others: do not slander, do not malign; be generous but not a squanderer; be pure at heart and mind: do not backbite, do not gossip, do not conspire, do not support vanity, do not bribe; be modest and unpretentious: do not boast and do not show off.

@ Satan, the evil, has no real power over human beings. All it can do is to tempt and mislead those who allow themselves to be misled. Thus they will have only to blame themselves for their choice of falling into error.

@ People need to be vigilant against all satanic temptations, realizing that as long as Allah's Laws are not violated or abandoned, He will be forgiving and generous, otherwise His wrath can be overwhelming, devastating.

e Affluence and economic injustice are first symptoms of corruption and oppression, and the two are incompatible with a system based on divine revelation, and, for this very reason, the punishment for its negligence is very severe.

@ Every person's ability to hear, to see and to think shall be interrogated and called to account at the Time of Judgment.

@ Whoever looks forward with hope and awe to meeting one's Lord Supreme at the Time of Judgment, must do deeds of righteousness, not associate anyone or anything in worship, reverence and obedience to Him, and firmly believe in the Message of The Qur'an revealed onto His Last and Final Prophet to humanity, the Seal of Prophets — Prophet Muhammad"', may the blessings of Allah, His Angels and all righteous souls be on him to eternity. Amin

All Praise, All Glory to Allah

a. The praise and gratitude is only for ALLAH - the One God, while one can never adequately praise HIM and express gratitude - 14:34, 16:18 and 28:70;

b. RABB - the Lord Creator and the Lord Sustainer - of all worlds; all existence;

c. the Lord of Mercy: the Infinitely Merciful to everyone;

d. the Lord of Compassion: the Ever-Compassionate to all; and

e. the Supreme Authority at the Time of Judgment.

We Submi

01:04

a. Itis YOU - we consciously obey in worship and reverence, and

b. itis to YOU - we call for help, mercy and compassion.

... and make a Plea

01:05-07

a. Please guide us to the Righteous Approach of understanding and practicing Islam and set us firmly on it so as to attain Ultimate Salvation;

b. like the approach of those men and women, young and old, whom YOU bless: the Messengers, the Righteous, the Martyrs and the Virtuous - 04:69 - and the Faithful - 23:01-08; and,

c. not of those upon whom anger falls - 60:/3, and not of those too who are /ost and confused, and are disfavored by YOU.

d. Amin - O RABB - the Lord Supreme!

e. Please accept our plea.

Guidance Spelt Out

02:02

a. This Qur'an is the Divine Book.

b. Let there be no doubt in that this is the Absolute Word of ALLAH - 32:02 - and no one can ever change its word - 06:34, 115 and 18:27.

c. This is a manifesto that provides enlightenment, direction and guidance for those men and women, young and old who endeavor to shape their individual and collective lives as well as their social behavior in a manner that seeks ALLAH's pleasure and eternal blessings: the ever ALLAH-conscious persons.

Belief in the Imperceptible, etc.

02:03-05

a. These are the persons who:

- firmly believe in the imperceptible and
- regularly establish the daily Mandatory Prayers, preferably in congregation, in the prescribed manner and at designated times; and
- spend a good part out of their wealth/possessions, which WE have favored them with, in the Cause of ALLAH, and community welfare.

b. And they a/so firmly believe in:

- authenticity of the Qur'an as the Absolute Truth from the Ultimate Truth that has been revealed on to you O Prophet Muhammad, and
- all Divine Scriptures that were revealed before you to the earlier Prophets containing one and the same Faith and offering the same Guidance; it included the Scriptures of Noah, Abraham, Ishmael, Isaac, Jacob and others; the Torah, the Psalms and the Injil, and

c. they firmly believe in the a//-embracing concept of the Resurrection, the Time of Judgment, and the Afterlife.

d. Thus, it is they who are the true recipients of Divine Guidance from their RABB - the Lord Supreme.

e. And it is also they who are blessed with success in the Afterlife.

The Deniers' Denial

02:06-07 and 10

a. As for those who stubbornly deny and belie the truth of these beliefs despite your preaching,

b. it is a matter of gross indifference to them whether or not you pursue them and explain the consequences of holding belief vs disbelief, they would never come to believe.

c. ALLAH has sealed up their hearts and minds, and their hearing, and their vision of right and wrong, truth and falsehood is impaired with darkness of ignorance.

d. And an enormous suffering is set for them in the Afterlife.

e. In fact, there is spiritual sickness in their hearts that dries up the source of their spiritual life.

f. So ALLAH - the One God ets their sickness grow.

g. And a grievous suffering awaits them for denying and belying the Truth.

The Right Paradigm

a. O The Faithful!

b. You should declare: we have firm belief in:

- ALLAH- the One God, and

- that which has been revealed for us by way of the Qur'an, and

- that earlier Scriptures were revealed to Abraham, Ishmael and Isaac and Jacob and the descendants, and
- that which was given to Moses - the Torah, and Jesus - the Injil and other Prophets by their RABB - the Lord Supreme.
- c. We do not differentiate or discriminate among anyone of them in matters of their Prophethood, and the truth of their respective Divine Missions.
- d. And to HIM alone we submit in worship, devotion and reverence.
- e. In case they are prepared to accept the Faith of Js/am the way you have accepted, only then they shall be guided aright.
- f. However, if they do not do so and turn away, they shall be truly going too far in antagonism and discord. .
- g. But ALLAH shall be sufficient for you in dealing with id them for HE is All-Listening, All-Knowing.

h. The Islamic belief takes its Color from ALLAH and which Message could give a better color than ALLAH's Message in The Qur'an. This appears to be in response to the baptismal water mixed with a color/dye by the then at present Christians that signified that the baptized person took anew color in life.

i. And to HIM alone we are devoted in our worship, reverence and obedience.

Giving Life for the Truth

02:154-157

a. And never say of those chosen brave persons who are slain in the battle/war to uphold the Cause of ALLAH, where lives have to be sacrificed, that they are dead.

b. In fact, they are living; but you do not perceive their existence dimension and living situation. See also 03:169.

c. And besides, WE shall also be testing your commitment to Faith with a certain degree of fear and insecurity, hunger, impoverishment and famine, and loss of the property, and the lives and the fruitfu/ means of livelihood. This is necessary to sift true believers from hypocrites, and thus make them worthy of Paradise.

d. So announce the good news of ALLAH's infinite blessings to those men and women, young and old, who endure these situations with self control, fortitude.

e. And they are the ones who, whenever they are inflicted with an adversity, they say in all sincerity:

f. Indeed, we and our lives are dedicated to the Service of ALLAH - the One God, and to HIM we turn for mercy and blessings as HE controls our fate.

g. It is such people on whom descend wholesome blessings from their RABB - the Lord Supreme, and HIS mercy,

h. and, it is they who are guided aright.

Law of Compensation for Murder

02:178-179

a. O The Faithful!

b. Revenge/retaliation is decreed for you in cases of deliberately murdered victim:

- if a free person is guilty then retaliation for it is the same free person, and
- if not-a-free person is guilty then retaliation for it is the same not-a-free person, and
- if a female is guilty then retaliation for it is the same female - see 05:45, and

c. As for the one who is pardoned by the aggrieved brother/family, let there be prosecution according to goodness in vogue, and recompense for blood paid in peaceful settlement.

d. This is an act of leniency from your RABB - the Lord Supreme, and a merciful dispensation.

e. Anyone who transgresses against the murderer after granting pardon or accepting the blood money shall be sternly punished.

f. 178(b) does not imply that a free person shall not be liable to retaliation for a crime against not-a-free person or against a female and/or vice versa.

g. The Torah Law as detailed in Deuteronomy, while decreeing murder for murder, does not provide for remission. Thus, the Islamic Law provides an egalitarian and humane version with its respect to human life and ensures a balanced and equitable social system.

h. And you would find security and safeguard for your lives in this system O People of Wisdom.

i. Thus you may attain piety and ALLAH-consciousness.

j. The so-called 'Honor Killing 'is a practice in some societies of ignorance and it has nothing to do with Islam and the Quran. In fact, the Qur'an does not encourage the death penalty where various rules are put in place to save lives, including the lives of murderers.

g. Furthermore, cohabitation with your wives is not allowed while you are secluded in I'tikaf for devotional retreat and meditation in the Masajid for ten or twenty nights and days during the later part of Ramadan.

h. These are the limits set by ALLAH - the One God; thus never draw anywhere near them and cause a breach.

b. And do not commit excess and war crimes.

c. Surely ALLAH does not like those who commit aggression, excesses and war crimes. See 09:01-06 for principles of war; also 60:07-09, and

d. spend your wealth/resources generously in upholding the Cause of ALLAH and to support defensive measures.

e. By not doing so, do not cast yourselves into destruction with your own hands, i.e. if you are not prepared to pay what it takes to defend yourselves, then you shall bring ruin on yourselves.

f. And devote yourselves to doing good.

g. Surely, ALLAH likes those who are generous and devoted to doing good.

h. In Islam, war is exception; peace is the rule. Most Ayat relating to war encourage patience, self sacrifice and strength during a war that is already in progress, a war to be concluded when an assuring peace is insight. This conduct is, therefore, a consequence, and not a cause of war. Furthermore, the Faithful fight not to lay upon lands, or to plunder, or to conquer and humiliate people, but for freedom of belief: A Faithful does not find security in treasures, but with solidarity of Islamic society.

- b. In case you happen to be prevented from doing so for reasons of war or hostilities, then send the offering/animals for sacrifice what you may afford.
- c. And do not shave your heads or trim the hair, injunction for males only, until your offering/animals have reached its appointed place.
- d. However, if any one of you is ill or suffers from an ailment of the head or scalp and is not able to do so, then one must redeem oneself

- by Fasting for three days, or

- by giving away alms in cash or provide meals to six poor persons , or

- by offering a sacrifice of one sheep/goat.

- e. Once the hostilities have ceased and security has returned to you, if anyone wishes to take advantage of performing the 'Umrah before the Hajj - a/-Tamattii - one shall offer animal(s) for sacrifice as one may afford - camel, cow, sheep or goat.

f. In case one lacks the means to do so, then let one:

- keep the Fast for three days during the Hajj, and

- seven more days of Fasting upon one's return to normal place of residence;

- that is, ten days in all.

g. This is incumbent upon the persons whose families do not live permanently within the municipal limits of the Masjid al-Haram/City of Makkah.

h. Act in due reverence to ALLAH's Decrees failing which remain mindful that ALLAH is severe in punishment.

02:197

- a. The Hajj timings are specific and well known from the ninth to the thirteenth of Dhul-Hijjah, twelfth lunar month of the Islamic Calendar. The pilgrim would state the intention whether the Hajj to be performed is al-Tamattii, or al-Qiran, or al-Ifrad, i.e. Hajj and 'Umrah separately, or both combined, or Hajj only. Basically, it involves different pattern of timings for abandonment of the consecrated state - ihram- on the part of the pilgrim.

b. The one who undertakes the Hajj during this period must abstain from all sort of behavior that conflicts with, or disturbs, or distracts from the spirit of devotion and meditation; in particular:

-no cohabitation with your spouses, and/or

- no aggressive and obscene language, and/or

-no disputing, arguing and wrangling.

c. And whatever good you do, rest assured that ALLAH knows it.

d. Provide well for your pilgrimage of Hajj, yet the best of all provisions is piety: ALLAH-consciousness.

e. So stay mindful of ME and MY Directives O People of spiritual understanding and true Wisdom.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

02:198-199

a. You incur no blame if you seek the bounty from your RABB - the Lord Supreme by engaging in trade or commercial activity during the Hajj/'Umrah, provided you do not violate observance of the devotional duties.

b. When you return from 'Arafat - on the ninth of Dhul-Hijjah, before the sun sets, the grand day of Hajj, in a concourse, continue the Remembrance of ALLAH as you approach al-Mash'ar al-Haram: the landmark of Muczdalifah on the tenth.

c. And commit yourselves to HIS Remembrance in the manner as you have been guided even if, in the past, you acted like those who were lost and confused.

d. Then move with the crowd of pilgrims impetuously.

e. And seek ALLAH's forgiveness for the mistakes you have done in lifetime as well as during the Hajj.

f. Indeed, ALLAH is always all-Forgiving for everyone and Ever-Compassionate for all.

02:200-201

a. And once you have completed the sacred duties comprising Tawaf of the Ka'bah, stay at Arafat-Muzdalifah-Mina, Ramy of Jamarat and slaughtering of the animal, devote yourselves to the Remembrance of ALLAH like the remembrance of your forefathers, if not more; or, preferably more intensely and with deeper reverence.

b. For there are some of the persons among the ones Remembering ALLAH who pray:

- 'Oour RABB- the Lord Supreme!

- Please bless us with abundance in this world."

c. Then such people shall have no share in the reward of the Afterlife.

d. While there are others among the ones Remembering ALLAH who pray:

- 'Oour RABB - the Lord Supreme!

- Please bless us with whatever is good for us in this world and that is good in the Afterlife.

- Kindly spare us from torment of the Hellfire.'

02:203

a. And dedicate yourselves to wholesome Remembrance of ALLAH during designated days of the Hajj, i.e. eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth of Dhul-Hijjah.

b. In case a person hastens to leave Mīnā after two days instead of three days, it shall not be a sin, in as much as it shall not be sinful for the one who stays on longer provided one is sincerely conscious of ALLAH's indictments.

c. And stay ALLAH-conscious by being obedient to HIS Directives and Commandments.

d. And be assured that to HIM you shall w/timately be gathered during the Time of Judgment.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

Unqualified Submission

02:208

a.O The Faithful!

b. Enter the fold of Islam - total and unqualified submission to ALLAH - the One God wholeheartedly and in its totality, not selective or piecemeal.

c. And do not follow the Satanic footprints: temptations that can ultimately lead you to ALLAH's disobedience,

d. for sure he is your open enemy, seeking to lure you to disobey ALLAH.

02:214

a. O The Faithful!

b. Being mindful of the history prior to your time, and the difficulties confronted in pursuing the Path of ALLAH,

c. would you reckon that you may still find an easy way to the Paradise without first undergoing the suffering that befell those communities before you? See also 09:16 and 29:02 and 11-12.

d. In fact, they were made to suffer worst forms of affliction and adversity, and they were so ferribiy shattered in spirit, that even the Messenger at that time, and those who shared Faith with him and followed his teachings, cried out in helplessness:

e. 'When and where is ALLAH's help and support coming?'

f. They were assured that ALLAH's help is definitely close athand!

g. Notwithstanding the historical perspective, testing of the quality of Faith and obedience to ALLAH continues.

Ruling on Marriage to a Polytheist

02:221

a. O The Faithful!

b. And do not take in marriage polytheist, an idolater and/or pagan women unless they enter the fold of Islam.

c. To marry a believing slave woman is certainly better and preferable than a free polytheist, idolater and/or pagan woman even though she may immensely fancy you with her beauty, riches, and social status.

d. Similarly, do not take in marriage polytheist, idolater and/or pagan men unless they enter the fold of Islam.

e. To marry a believing slave is certainly better and more profound than a free man who is polytheist, idolater and/or pagan even though he may immensely fancy you with his riches and social status.

f. These situations may be tempting, but they lead you closer to the Hellfire. See also 05:05.

g. Whereas ALLAH leads you, by HIS Grace, to the Paradise, and to forgiveness of your sinful deeds.

h. And HE makes clear HIS Injunctions to people so that they may remain mindful of their subservient obedience to HIM.

Ruling on Cohabitation with Wives during their Menses cohabitation between wife and husband during menses of the former.

b. Tell them:

- 'It is a painful and unclean condition.

- So keep away from your wives during their menstruation - the purpose is to protect women's health from being burdened by husband's desires at a wrong time.

- And do not come near them until they have cleansed by way of taking ritual bath.

- Once they have cleansed themselves, and ritually taken a bath, you may then approach them for cohabitation as ALLAH has enjoined upon you.

c. Surely, ALLAH likes those who turn to HIM in constant repentance if they had transgressed against this prohibition.

d. And, HE also likes those spouses who strive to keep themselves ritually clean.

e. The Torah/Leviticus 15:19-33 considers menstruating women unclean for seven days and during that period whoever she sits/stays with is also considered unclean and whoever touches her or sits where she sits must wash and bathe. In Islam the general rule is from three to ten days when she would also not perform her worshipful duties; otherwise, there are no restrictions on her for family get-together and social interaction.

Rules of Divorce

a. In times of married life when spouses, for one reason or another, find themselves drawn away from each other; in such situations, some husbands who swear to keep away from their wives should wait for four /unar months.

b. Then, if they change their mind and go back on their oath, and reconcile during this period of four lunar months, then, surely ALLAH is all-Forgiving for their violation of oath, as HE is Ever-Compassionate.

c. However, if the period of four months lapses, and they are determined to divorce their wives, then let them declare it while remaining mindful that ALLAH is all-Listening f00, and ever-Aware of all and everything.

02:228

a. Given their belief in Supremacy of ALLAH, adherence to HIS Injunctions and the Time of Judgment, the divorced women must wait by themselves, without remarrying, for three menstruations immediately following the divorce.

b. And, it is not lawful for them to conceal what ALLAH might have created in their wombs and they may be in a family way/pregnant.

c. In such times their husbands are entitled to take them back, should they desire reconciliation and settlement.

d. In accordance with the practice in vogue, the wives have the same rights and obligations in relation to their husbands, as are expected in all fairness and decency from them, although the men/husbands have an advantage over them because her provision is his responsibility, not hers.

e. And ALLAH is all-Mighty, all-Wise.

f. Given the mutual rights of husbands and wives, the corollary is that when the wife can no longer bear to live with her husband, and she offers to pay back the bridal money, there appears to be no reason not to grant her wish to leave her husband.

02:229

a. Revocable divorce, or renunciation of one's wife on oath, is to be pronounced two times, then it means:

- either he retains her in generosity,

- or allow her to leave in a decent way and with kindness.

b. While dissolving the marriage tie, it is not lawful for husbands to take back anything from the departing wives that they had given them as bridal money, or gifts on other occasions, unless both husband and wife have a cause to fear that they may not be able to keep within the bounds set by ALLAH.

c. Then, if you have a cause to fear that you would not be able to keep within the bounds set by ALLAH, in which case it shall be no blame on either of them for what the wife may give up to her husband in order to free herself from the marriage tie, i.e. by paying back all or a part of the bridal money, as mutually agreed.

d. These are the limits set by ALLAH, so do not violate or overstep them.

e. Whoever violates or oversteps the limits set by ALLAH shall be of the worst in wrongdoing and disobedience.

02:230

a. Should he finally divorce his wife, by pronouncing it for the third time,

b. she shall instantly become unlawful for him until such time that she consummates marriage with another person than him,

c. then, if he, the other husband divorces her in normal course of time and circumstances, in which case it shall be no sin for either of them to return to the other and remarry,

d. provided, of course, they both are convinced that they shall be able to keep within the limits set by ALLAH - the One God.

e. And these are the limits set by ALLAH, which HE makes clear to people, who have understanding of the consequences of violating these limits.

Divorcing Couples: Show Goodwill

02:231

a. And once you have divorced your women/wives, and they are about to reach the end of their waiting period, then:

- either retain them in all decency,

- or let them go away in all decency.

b. And do not retain them against their free will and out of malice with the intent to harass or intimidate them lest you should transgress.

c. And whoever does so shall definitely do wrong to oneself.

d. The Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, is reported by Abu Daiwiid to have said: Of the lawful things, the most abhorrent in the Sight of ALLAH is pronouncing a divorce. Or, as the Prophet may have said.

e. And do not take ALLAH's Decrees in a frivolous manner, and thus make a mockery by not respecting them.

f. And remember the favors that ALLAH has conferred on you, and the Book of the Qur'an, and the Wisdom to exhort you of the consequences of being disobedient to HIS Injunctions.

g. Stay conscious of ALLAH's Decrees, and be mindful that ALLAH is definitely wel/ Aware of everything.

h. See also 65:01-07.

Estranged Wife: Show Compassion

02:232

a. And when you have divorced your wives, and they have reached the end of their waiting period,

b. the relatives and friends must not prevent them from re-marrying prospective men of their choice, including their former husbands, provided they both agree to do so on mutually equitable terms and socially acceptable norms.

c. This is enjoined upon every one of you, who believes in the Supremacy of ALLAH 8 Injunctions, and the Last Day, when you would be held accountable for your intentions and conduct.

d. This is more virtuous for you as well as more righteous.

e. And ALLAH knows whereas you do not know what is (fitting in the situation.

Child Care in Broken Families

02:233

- a. Mothers shall breast-feed their babies for two full years provided they - both parents - like to complete the breast-feeding period.
- b. In this case, the breast-feeding mothers who are divorced, and babies must be maintained and looked after in a fair manner by baby's father.
- c. Yet fathers should not be burdened to bear expenses beyond their reasonable and known economic means.
- d. Neither the mothers should be allowed to cause her baby to suffer nor should the father cause suffering to his baby, i.e. the baby should not be used by either parent as a pretext to put pressure on the other.
- e. The same responsibility towards the nursing mother devolves down to father's heir, if the father dies.
- f. But, if by mutual consultation and agreement, both parents decide upon separation of the mother and the baby, the two shall incur no blame.
- g. It shall a/so not be a blame on your part if you - baby's father - decide to employ for your babies foster-mothers, provided you compensate the foster-mothers in a fair manner and according to practice in vogue.

h. And remain conscious of ALLAH's Commandments, and also be mindful that ALLAH is a/ways watching all that you do.

Rules Governing Widows

02:234

a. As and when any one of you dies and leaves the wives behind as widows, the widows should keep themselves aloof from the men whom they could potentially marry for four months and ten days, which is slightly more than that for a divorcee, unless a widow is in a family way, in which case, her waiting period extends until she has delivered.

b. When they have reached the end of their waiting period, it shall be no blame for you, as parents or guardians, to let them re-marry whoever they choose for themselves provided they do so in the bounds of decency and socially acceptable norms based on principals of Islam.

c. And let them be mindful that ALLAH is all-Aware of what you do.

02:235

a. And it shall not bring you blame if you give a hint of an intended marriage-offer to any one of these widowed women privately, or keep the intention within yourself during their obligated period of waiting.

b. ALLAH is aware of your intentions to ask them in marriage, but do not propose anything in secret unless you make a formal statement;

c. however, if you do so, speak to them discreetly, and according to Islamic values.

d. Do not tie the knot of marriage until the waiting period has reached its term.

e. And you should know that ALLAH has full knowledge of your intentions and thoughts; thus fear HIM as HE shows no haste in punishing.

f. And remember that ALLAH is definitely all-Forgiving and all-Forebearing.

Breaking up the Marriage

02:236

a. It shall not be a cause of any blame if you divorce women/wives with whom you made a marriage contract but have not yet touched them in skin-to-skin cohabitation, or the bridal money - token of economic security - has not yet been settled.

b. But even in such a situation, provide for them in fairness; the well-to-do according to his means and resources, and the poor according to his means and resources - a provision according to practice in vogue.

c. This is due in all fairness from those men who act kindly in accordance with ALLAH's Will.

- a. However, if you divorce them before you have touched them in skin-to-skin cohabitation, but after their bridal money has been settled, then
- b. give them half of what you have settled, unless they voluntarily agree to waive it, or the one in whose hand is the marriage-tie, her guardian, foregoes the claim.
- c. But it is more appropriate that you - the husbands - should forego it, as it is closer to piety and ALLAH-consciousness.
- d. And never forget to be generous between/among yourselves.
- e. Let them be mindful that ALLAH is definitely watchful of all that you do.

The Unique Attributes

02:255

- a. ALLAH is the One beside WHOM there is no one and shall never be an entity, real or myth, worthy of worship, reverence and obedience.
- b. HE is the Ever-Living, the Ever-Lasting.
- c. Neither drowsiness overtakes HIM nor sleep - to any degree and in any form. See also 07:180. This outrightly rejects the distortion seeped into the Torah depicting ALLAH as resting or sleeping: Genesis 02:02 and Exodus 31:17.
- d. To HIM alone belongs all and whatever has existed since eternity, exist now, and/or may be caused to exist to infinity in the cosmos system and in and on the earth and beyond after HE would have passed HIS Verdict on the Day for everything.
- e. Who is there that can intercede with HIM on behalf of someone except with HIS permission?!
- f. HE knows ail that is present and past and future of the existence; apparent and hidden.
- g. They - human and jinn - can never grasp the wholesomeness of HIS Knowledge except a little of whatever HE may wish them to attain.

h. The Supremacy of HIS Authority overspreads the cosmos system and the earth and in-between and beyond, the upholding of which does not burden HIM.

i. And HE is the all-Exalted, and the Supremely Great.

j. 02:255 is called Ayat al-Kursi. The Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, is reported by Al-Bokhdri to have said: Recite it while going to bed at night for then there would be a guard from ALLAH to protect you and no evil would come near you. Or, as the Prophet may have said.

No Intimidation, No Coercion in Religion

a. There shall never be any intimidation, coercion, or compulsion in matters of Faith or religion - it is a matter of conviction that does not come through threats or pressure.

b. The right guidance to salvation is now distinct through Islam from all other - previous and future - erroneous beliefs, faiths and cults.

c. Hence whoever renounces the forces and systems of evil and tyranny, and puts full and firm faith in ALLAH - the One God, and Islam, has indeed taken hold of a firm and unbreakable support.

a, ALLAH - the One God is the Patron of the Faithful.

b. HE guides them out of all kinds of spiritual and intellectual darkness and ignorance to the Light of Islam and The Qur'an.

c. Whereas those men and women, young and old who disbelieve and challenge the truth of Islam and The Qur'an, their patrons are forces and systems of evil, which lead them away from the Light to folds of darkness.

d. It is they who shall be People of the Hellfire, and they shall remain therein for good.

Virtues of Sharing Virtues

02:261

a. Those men and women, young and old, who generously spend their wealth/resources in the Cause of ALLAH may be compared to a grain of corn which sprouts into seven ears, with each ear bringing a hundred grains: thus every good deed is blessed with a reward of seven hundred times!

b. Thus, ALLAH grants the abundance of many-fold to whoever HE pleases.

c. And ALLAH is all-Encompassing, all-Knowing.

Nullifying Charitable Donations

02:264

a. O The Faithful!

b. Do not nullify your charitable deeds by vaunting your own generosity, and/or by taunts or humiliation thereby hurting the feelings and self-respect of those to whom you give charity.

c. Their example is like the person who spends for sake of ostentation to impress the people, but s/he neither believes in ALLAH's Unity, HIS Revelations, nor in the process of accountability at the Time of Judgment.

d. Such a person's likeness is the likeness of a smooth rock covered with dust; as rain falls on it, the dust is washed away, exposing the bare rock, i.e. the reward of any/all good deeds is lost.

e. They shall have no power to re-seek any reward for whatever apparent good they might have done in this life.

f. And ALLAH does not guide to the path of goodness those men and women, young and old, who boast and show-off for they are deniers of ALLAH's Authority and Directives.

Waive the Interest

a.O The Faithful!

b. Stay obedient to ALLAH's Injunctions in respect of usurious income.

c. Therefore, do not even ask for or claim whatever is due to you from usury/interest - if you are truly Faithful, and hence you act in accordance with the obligations of your belief:

The Alternative is Gloomy

a. And in case you do not stop from dealing in usury business notwithstanding weather you consider it lawful or unlawful,
b. then be warned that ALLAH and HIS Last Messenger Muhammad shall be at war with you: expressing a grave situation.

c. However, if you repent sincerely even now, and give it up for good, then you shall be entitled to your principal capital.

d. Thus you shall neither be doing wrong fo others, nor you shall be wronged.

Lighten the Burden of Suffering

02:280

a. And in case a debtor should be in strained financial circumstances, postpone the recovery of principal debt to allow sufficient grace period for the debtor's financial circumstances improve.

b. However, if you make any remission, or waive the debt altogether as goodwill, it shall be better for you by way of reward in this life as well as in the Afterlife - if you truly know the concept of human welfare in Islam.

Record Business/Debt Transactions

02:282

a.O The Faithful!

b. Whenever you contract a debt /oan from one another for a specified period of time, record it in writing.

c. Let a trustworthy scribe write it down between you with all fairness.

d. And let no scribe refuse to write it down as ALLAH has taught him in accordance with relevant laws promulgated in the Qur'an.

e. Let the debtor who incurs the liability dictate, not the lender.

f. Let the scribe stay conscious of RABB - the Lord Supreme, and HIS dictates.

g. The scribe should be fearful of causing any offence to ALLAH, and hence do not omit any part of it.

h. However, if the debtor is intellectually deficient, or superannuated in age, or a minor, or a mute, or speaker of a language not known to the scribe, or unable to explain and/or dictate, then the person who is the care-taker of debtor's interests, i.e. the legal guardian, or his/her agent, should dictate the terms in all fairness.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

i. Along with the recording in writing, you must seek two adult male witnesses from amongst you as an extra guarantee of authenticity.

j. In case two adult males cannot be readily available, then one male adult and two female adults, whom you approve, may act as witnesses.

k. This being so in case where one of the two female witnesses may happen to have been confused for a number of reasons, viz. lack of experience or knowledge, or failure to understand the subject matter, or the ramifications of the contract, the other could prompt and/or remind her.

l. Islam does not demand two women in place of one man in all cases of testimony. For example, whether it be wife or husband, whoever accuses the other of adultery, either of the two must swear by ALLAH four times in support of his/her accusation. See 24:04-10.

m. Furthermore, the testimony of two women is not sought in place of a man in the matters in which women have greater knowledge than men.

n. Also in matters of belief or disbelief, virtue or sin, morality or immorality, enjoyment of the worldly or After-worldly rewards, or application of punitive sanctions, there is no difference between man and woman - both are equal. Thus, the common perception that a male is equal to two females in all situations and circumstances, is a travesty.

o. Witnesses must not refuse to give evidence as and when called upon to do so.

p. Hence, you O Scribes! Do not fail to write down every contractual provision - be the amount small or big - together with its tenure, and the date when it falls due. — _

q. This procedure is more equitable in the Sight of ALLAH, as well as it lends greater credence to the testimony and is more likely to avoid any later doubts.

r. As for a business deal or a commercial transaction concluded on the spot, there is no harm if you do not wish to commit it to writing.

s. But ensure that witnesses are present when you negotiate a deal with one another.

t. And let no harm be suffered either by the scribe or the witness, and let either of them not act in a manner that may be prejudice to the interests of either party.

u. If you do cause harm to them, that would surely be a violation on your part. _

v. Be righteous! And stay mindful of ALLAH's Commandments. And ALLAH is commanding you to do so.

w. In fact, ALLAH - the One God is all-Aware of everything whether a witness and/or a scribe are coerced or prejudiced in any way.

02:283

a. As and when you happen to be in situations like travel, and a scribe cannot be readily found, then let there be a security deposit given.

b. If anyone of you entrusts another with a deposit, let the trustee restore the pledge faithfully to its owner.

c. Let Him/her fear ALLAH, his/her RABB - the Lord Supreme, and keep away from HIS disobedience.

d. And do not conceal or withhold any evidence/testimony.

e. For the one who conceals or withholds the evidence/testimony, surely is vicious and sinful at heart.

f. And ALLAH - the One God is all-Aware of all that you do - whether one discharges one's trust or not, and whether one conceals or withholds evidence or not.

Allah Does Not Burden any Human Being

a. ALLAH does not burden any human soul with executing HIS Directives, Orders and Commandments beyond one's capacity.

b. Each soul, man or woman, young or old, shall be responsible, and called to account, for whatever good or bad it may have done in this worldly life.

ce. O The Faithful! Make the following plea to your RABB - the Lord Supreme:

d. 'O Our RABB-- the Lord Supreme!

e. Please do not hold us to account as and when we may happen to forget the execution of YOUR Commandments, or lapse into error.

f. O Our RABB - the Lord Supreme!

g. Please do not lay on us a burden such as that YOU laid on those who lived before us, particularly the Jews and the Christians.

h. O Our RABB- the Lord Supreme!

i. Please do not lay on us a burden more than we have the strength and capacity to bear.

j. Please pardon us; overlook our faults, and

k. please forgive us for our sinful offensives, and

l. please have mercy on us.

m. YOU alone are our Supreme Patron.

n. Please help us over those individuals, communities and nations who disbelieve and disobey YOUR Message of Islam and ridicule the Qur' an.

0. Al-Bokhari reports on the authority of Abu Mas'ud al-Badri that it was the Prophet's practice, ALLAH bless him always, to recite Statements 'd-n' above while going to bed at night and he advised the parents to teach them to their children. Or as the Prophet may have said.

Ayat/Statements: Meaning

03:07

a. It is HE, WHO has successively revealed the Book of Qur 'Gn on to you O Prophet Muhammad.

b. Of Statements, Directives and Commandments some are clear and explicit in meaning. These are the Essence of the Book, and constitute the fundamental principles.

c. While there are some other Statements that are implicit with multiple meaning, and/or allegorical and metaphorical, and difficult to comprehend.

d. Those in whose hearts there is perversity, and infection of viciousness and disbelief, peruse the Statements that are with multiple meaning and/or allegorical. Thus, seeking discord and dissension, they eagerly pursue their own interpretation in an arbitrary manner.

e. Although no one knows interpretation of these Statements except for ALLAH, and those men and women, who are firmly rooted in knowledge say:

f. "We believe in it, as all is from our RABB - the Lord Supreme.'

g. Yet none is capable of understanding them except those who are imbued with true wisdom and spiritual insight.

The True Religious System

a. Truly, the right religious system with ALLAH is one sunqualified submission and devotion to HIM, namely, Islam in its true connotation; Islam is a description of mindset and dedication of one's life in submission to ALLAH - the One God; it is universal and promotes equality, peace

c. Let the ones who persistently deny and refuse to obey ALLAH's Directives, Decrees and Commandments in the Qur'an, know that their attitude is punishable, and ALLAH is swift in reckoning.

Give out in Charity What You Cherish

a. You shall never attain true standard of righteousness and piety until you spend in the Cause of AELAH out of what you truly cherish for yourselves, in the hope of receiving a much greater reward in the Afterlife.

b. And, whatever you spend in this regard, surely ALLAH knows about it fully well.

The First House for Worship

03:96-97

a. Indeed the First House for worship, devotion and Prayers ever to be set up for human beings is the one at Bakkah - the name given to the Valley of Makkah, also referred to in Psalms 84:06. This is the qibla, direction for prayers, not for worship,

b. It has been a blessed place - full of blessings, and an epicenter of guidance for all communities and nations of the world(s) for all times.

c. In this House of ALLAH are the clear marks, and the Spot of Abraham, where he used to stand in devout worship of ALLAH - the One God.

d. And whoever enters the House becomes safe and secure, and finds wholesome inner peace, or it imparts a sense of security to everyone - 29:67.

e. Performance of the annual Hajj pilgrimage to this House, once in a lifetime, is a duty owed to ALLAH, by all adult people who are Muslims, and are financially and physically able to do so.

f. And whoever does not do so despite having the means and resources, and knowing fully well that it is an obligation, incurs incredible loss for oneself,

g. then surely, ALLAH does not stand in need of either their pilgrimage or anything from anyone.

b. Stay conscious of ALLAH with all the consciousness that is due to HIM from you, as HIS creation. Es en orn we os

c. And do not allow death to overwhelm you until you are in the state of full submission to ALLAH - a truly devout Muslim.

d. The timing of death is beyond one's knowledge; hence, if anyone wants to die as a Muslim, s/he must submit to Islam perennially and abide by the requirements of this submission

World Leadership

a. And let there be a strong and dedicated group of people from among yourselves, who are authorized to deliver, and they should

- call for virtue and righteousness, and

- enjoin justice, equity and fairness, and

- forbid, as much as possible, whatever is wrong, vice and unethical.

b. And it is these people who shall succeed in the Sight of ALLAH.

ce. Leadership is granted to the Faithful to execute what the Qur 'an and Sunnah has decreed, thereby insuring the proper conduct of domestic, national and international affairs.

b. Should you ever yield to the social, economic and political pressures of those who disbelieve, they will cause you to turn back to disbelief by following their values and system.

Beware, Guardians of Orphans

a. And give the orphans their possessions, both movable and immovable, that are under your custody, and

b. do not exchange your inferior things with their superior valuables, and

c. do not cheat them of their possessions by co-mingling their possessions with your possessions and using them as yours...

d. For doing so is certainly an outrageous crime where you risk the spiritual reward you hope for by caring for them. See also 04:10, 93:09 and 107:02.

Do Not Marry More Than One

a. In case you fear that you might not be able to act equitably towards the orphan girls in your charge, or misuse their persons, then,

b. you may marry from amongst these orphan girls of marriageable age, who may seem good to you: even two and/or three and/or four of them.

c. However, if you fear that in your marital obligations you might not be able to maintain equality and fairness among so many of them at a time and all the time, then marry only one; or, marry someone from amongst those whom you may rightfully acquire in/after the qital while fighting in the Cause of ALLAH. In either of the circumstances, do not live together out of wedlock. Read it in the perspective of 04:127 and 129.

- b. Then if you perceive in them integrity, maturity and capability of sound judgment, hand over to them ai/ their possessions, property and assets.
- c. And do not deprive them of it by wastefully spending it in their names, or on the pretext of their benefit before they attain maturity. See also 04:02.
- d. The guardians of the orphans who are economically well to do must abstain from using their possessions in any way.
- e. The less-privileged guardians, however, may use for personal benefit no more than a small portion in a fair manner as compensation for services rendered.
- f. Whenever you hand over their possessions, property and assets to them, have an evidential witness, representing their interests physically present,

Essence of True Repentance

a. The criterion for ALLAH's acceptance of repentance and forgiveness relates only to those men and women, young and old, who commit a sin out of ignorance of ALLAH's Guidance, and

b. then as soon as they realize it, they quickly turn to HIM in remorse, repentance and seek forgiveness; see also 03:135;

c. then, it is they to whom ALLAH also turns to in forgiveness.

d. ALLAH is all-Knowing, all-Wise.

e. The repentance shall not be accepted from those who continue committing, without shame, sinful deeds for lifetime until when dying time approaches one of them, and then s/he says: 'For sure now I repent', as did the Pharaoh - 10:90.

f. And repentance shall also never be accepted from those men and women, young and old, who spend their lifetime in disbelief, and die while being disbelievers.

g. It is for these people that WE have prepared a painful suffering.

h. See also 03:90, 25:71 and 42:25.

Your Wives may be a Source of Good

a. O The Faithful!

b. Given the backdrop of ill treatment and absence of human rights for women in pre-Islamic pagan societies, Islam gave a hugely progressive view of family relationship based on affection and compassion.

c. It is not lawful for you to try to become heirs to the inheritance of the widows of your deceased relatives by force and against their free will - reference to a pre-Islamic custom which is still in vogue in some communities.

d. It is also not lawful for you to prevent them from re-marrying, or, place restrictions on them, or, make their lives difficult,

e. in order that you may force them to give up a part of what you may have given them as bridal money, unless it be that they have become guilty of adultery.

f. Live with them in a kind manner and show decency in speech, and bearing their household expenses even if you may dislike them.

g. It may well be that you may happen to dislike something which ALLAH may yet make a source of abundant good for you.

Be Gracious to Departing Wives

a. But if you intend to give up a wife, and instead have another wife, then, do not take from the departing wife anything of her bridal money that you had given her, even if it were a treasure of gold.

b. Should you be inclined to do so by slandering her, then it shall be grossly unjust and clearly sinful. See also 24:04, 33:58 and 104:01.

Marriages that are Forbidden

a. O The Faithful!

b. Forbidden to you in marriage are:

-your mothers,

-your daughters,

-your sisters,

- sisters of your fathers,

- sisters of your mothers,

- daughters of your brothers,

- daughters of your sisters,

- your foster mothers,

- your foster sisters,

- mothers of your wives,

-your step daughters borne of your wives from their previous husbands and are now in your charge.

c. However, in case you have not formally consummated your marriage with their mothers, you shall incur no sin by marrying your step-daughters.

d. It is also unlawful for you to take in marriage the spouses of your sons who have sprung from your loins; marrying the widow/divorcee of the adopted son does not fall in this category. See 33.37

e. Do not take in marriage two sisters at one and the same time, as also a niece and her aunt, as instructed by the Final Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, with the exception of what is past.

f. Surely, ALLAH is all-Forgiving, all-Compassionate.

Forbidding Polyandry

04:24

a. Forbidden to you in marriage are all married women who are wedded to their husbands, other than those female war captives whom you rightfully acquire in/after the qital, but, even then, you are not allowed to touch those whose husbands are with them, as opined by Imam Abu Hanifa.

b. ALLAH has decreed all this for you.

c. All women other than this are lawful for you to take in marriage provided:

- you offer them from your wealth - bridal money, etc.,

-you marry them as the law of /s/am demands, and

-you do not take them in fornication or adultery.

and even as partners. See 05 : 05 (g) goodwill may also be seen in its broader perspective; for example 02:193 and 08:61.

Indemnity of Accidental Killing

- a. And it is not /awful for the Faithful to kill another Faithful, unless it be by mistake.
- b. And the one who kills a Faithful by mistake must get one Faithful captive set free, and pay blood-money equivalent to the market value of a camel to the victim's family, unless they choose to forgo it by way of goodwill and charity.
- c. If the victim is a Faithful from a family/community hostile to you, the penalty shall on/y be to set free one Faithful captive.
- d. But if the victim belonged to a people with whom you have a treaty and possibly a non-Muslim, then blood-money must be paid to the victim's family, and a Faithful captive set free. Ahddith suggest blood money for a non-Muslim to be half of that of a Muslim: al-Bokhari, al-Muslim.
- e. The one who is not financially well endowed and hence not able to do so, must, then, Fast for two consecutive /unar months by way of repentance to ALLAH.
- f. And ALLAH is ever all-Knowing, all-Wise.

Punishment for Deliberate Killing of a Co-Believer

- a. And any Faithful who kills another Faithful deliberately, the punishment for him/her shall be the Hellfire and there s/he shall remain forever.
- b. And ALLAH's wrath shall be upon with him/hey; and His curse and exclude him/her from HIS mercy.
- c. And HE shall ready for him/her grievous suffering.
- d. The point is that he/she has neither repented nor reformed; otherwise 25:70 provide an exit via sincere repentance besides deserving the treatment at 04:92.

e. The Prophetic sayings, quoted by Sunan Ibn Maja, Sunan Bayhagi and al-Bokhari, suggest: (i) The destruction of the entire universe is less significant to ALLAH than the unjust killing of a single Faithful; (ii) Whoever aids someone in killing a Faithful, even if with merely one word, he shall meet ALLAH Mighty and Glorious on the Day of Resurrection with the following phrase inscribed on his forehead, 'In complete despair of ALLAH's mercy'; and, (iii) The Faithful may have some leeway [on the Day of Arising, despite his/her sins and enormities], as long as s/he never spilled unsanctioned blood of a single soul. Or, as The Prophet may have said.

The Qur'an is to Dispense Justice

04:105

- a. O Prophet Muhammad!
- b. WE have revealed on to you the Book of Qur'an with the Truth.
- c. This empowers you to arbitrate among people in accordance with what ALLAH has enlightened you with in the form of its Divine Law.
- d. So do not plead forgiveness for, and on behalf of, those who are treacherous and betray their trust.

Fairness that Cannot be Maintained

04:129

- a. In case of plural marriages, no matter how much you may desire and exercise best endeavors, you cannot treat your wives equitably, impartially and with fairness.
- b. Do not sway yourselves altogether towards one of them, leaving other(s) hanging in a void and excluded from all compassion and love.
- c. Yet, if you reconcile and stay mindful of ALLAH's Commandments in this regard, you will find ALLAH very Forgiving and hugely Merciful.
- d. Read it with 04:03.

Separation as the Last Resort

04:130

- a. However, in situations where the couple - husband and one of the wives, who might have been left in a dangling state and anticipates abandonment, decide to separate, then let it beso.
- b. ALLAH shall enrich each of the separating couple out of HIS infinite bounty.

c. Indeed, ALLAH has always been Infinite in bounty and all-wise.

Uphold Justice

04:135

a.O The Faithful!

b. Stand out firmly as upholders of equity and justice. See also 05:08.

c. Bear true witnesses before ALLAH even though it may turn out to be against your own interests, or the interest of your parents, and the interest of your close relatives.

d. Be a person rich or poor, for ALLAH is more caring for both than you.

e. So do not follow the desires of your hearts, lest you avoid justice.

f. And if you distort your witness or refuse to give it.

g. Then, indeed, ALLAH is Ever Well-Informed of what ever you do.

Ridiculing Allah's Word

- a. O The Faithful!
- b. You are commanded in the Book of Qur'an that whenever you hear ALLAH's Message in The Qur'an being blasphemed and ridiculed by hypocrites and disbelievers - individuals, or groups, or media,
- c. you must not continue sitting with them, watch and listen - leave to protest passively - until they start talking other than that.
- d. If you do so, then, you would certainly be liable to become like them.
- e. ALLAH shall definitely gather together all the blasphemers and the disbelievers in the Hellfire.

Maintain Social Morality

04:148

- a. As part of conscience purification process on individual and social level, ALLAH does not like ill of others to be spoken about openly, unless when uttered by the one, who has been deeply aggrieved and victim of injustice.
- b. And, ALLAH always Listens a// and Knows all.

Trinity - A Myth, A Fiction

04:171

- a. O Followers of the Former Divine Scriptures!
- b. Do not be excessive and overstep the bounds of truth in your religion.
- c. And speak nothing but the who/e Truth about ALLAH.
- d. Indeed, The Messiah, Jesus son of Mary, was no more than ALLAH's Messenger and HIS Command, which HE conveyed to Mary, i. e. ALLAH commanded Mary's womb to become impregnated without coming into contact with sperm, and a spirit from HIM. See also 03:59, 21:91 and 38-71-72.

e. So believe in ALLAH's absolute Unity and Supremacy, and HIS Messengers.

f. And do not say: 'ALLAH is Trinity': three merging into one, or one emerging from three.

g. Refrain from this false assertion for your own good.

h. Indeed, ALLAH is the on/y One ALLAH, and far from HIS status and Majesty is to imagine that HE may have a child.

i. To HIM belongs a// that has existed since eternity, exists now, or may be caused to exist to infinity in and on the cosmos, and the earth.

j. And ALLAH suffices as all-Worthy of trust.

k. The doctrine of trinity is found in many pagan religions. Brahma, Shiva and Vishnu are the Trinitarian godhead in Hindu religion. In Egypt there was the triad of Osiris, Isis and Horus; in Babylon it was Ion, Ishtar and Shamash; and in pre-Islamic Arabia: al-Lat, al'Uzza and al-Manat.

End Words on Inheritance

04:176

a. They seek a verdict from you O Prophet Muhammad on matters of inheritance in case a person dies without leaving behind an heir in the direct line, i.e. children or parents.

b. Tell them: 'ALLAH - the One God gives you the following ruling:

- When a man dies and leaves behind no child, and without living parents, but has a sister, she is entitled to half of his property and assets.

- If a married sister dies childless, his/her brother shall be her sole heir.

- If the deceased childless person has two sisters, then they shall together get two-third of the inheritance.

- But, if he has both the brothers and the sisters surviving, the male shall inherit a share equal to that of two females: read it together with 04: 11-12.

c. Thus, ALLAH makes plain to you HIS ruling so that you do not err, and make mistakes.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

Life of Righteousness.

It is like Killing Humanity; Saving Humanity

05:32

a. It was in view of that, WE decreed for all humankind, but particularly for the Israelites, a legislation that achieves the dual purpose of weakening the motive to commit a murder, and establishing the just punishment:

b. whoever kills a person other than in retribution for another person, or because of aggressive and destructive actions, and/or anarchy in and on the land,

c. it shall be considered as though one had killed the whole of humankind;

d. whereas whoever spares the life of a person, it shall be deemed to have given life to the whole of humankind.

e. And certainly a number of OUR Messengers came to the Jews and the Christians with clear proofs of their Divine Missions,

f. yet most of them committed a// manner of excesses, social and moral crimes, and ruthless killing of people in the land: the disobedience continues unabated.

Those Who Kill by the Sword Must Die by the Sword

a. In truth, the individuals, communities and nations who fight against ALLAH's Commandments and HIS Prophet Muhammad, i.e. those renouncing the authority of a Muslim government to implement the Divine Law,

b. and roam about the land committing horrendous crimes, spreading anarchy and do ruthless killing and suicide attacks are to be punished: either be executed, or crucified/hanged, or have hand on one side and their foot on the other side imputed, or exiled from the land, i.e. the power of this mafia must be destroyed.

ç. These punishments are according to the gravity of offence. Mainstream thinking is that a rebel who kills without taking any property is to be put to death, while another who has taken property without killing has the limb imputed. A person who has committed both is to be hanged, and the one who spreads fear and anarchy but has neither killed anyone nor taken any property, is sent into exile or imprisoned.

d. The Injil/Methew 26:52 states 'those who kill by the sword must die by the sword.'

e. Thus is their disgrace in the life of this world; and for them, in the Afterlife, shall be a terrible punishment.

f. The exceptions are to be those men and women, young and old, who realize their mistake and return to ALLAH in repentance before you - the law enforcing authority - over power them.

g. In such situations, you should bear in mind that ALLAH - the One God is all-Forgiving to everyone, and ever-Compassionate fo all.

Penalty for Theft

05:38-39

a. The male who steals and the female who steals, then sever the hands of both in reward for what they have earned of evil. Caliph 'Umar bin al-Khattab (636-645), may ALLAH be pleased with him, did not enforce this penalty during times of famine for theft of food items. The Umayyeds (661-750) decreed flogging for theft.

b. This is the exemplary punishment enjoined by ALLAH - the One God for their crime: a stern punishment is meant to be a deterrent for societal peace and communal security.

c. And ALLAH is ever-Almighty and all-Wise.

d. Nevertheless, whoever (i) repents after his/her transgression, (ii) retribute the stolen goods before being apprehended by the authority, and (iii) makes reparations in personal and social behavior, then surely ALLAH shall pardon him/her.

e. For, indeed, ALLAH is all-Forgiving to everyone and ever-Compassionate for all.

f. The punishment for theft is applicable only within the context of an already-existing, legal and functional social security system as in vogue in some Middle Eastern and Western societies.

The Eye for the Eye

a. And WE decreed for them in the Torah concerning murder:

- the life for the life, and

- the eye for the eye, and

- the nose for the nose, and

- the ear for the ear, and

- the tooth for the tooth, and

- the injury/cut/wound to the body, reciprocation.

b. These provisions have also been retained in the Islamic Law.

c. But whoever is charitable and forgives voluntarily, it shall be an act of expiation for him/her - this element was not included in the law of the Torah/Exodus 21:23-25, and

d. 41:34 asserts: 'Good and evil are not alike. Repel evil with what is good. Thus you will find your erstwhile enemy may become like your best friend.'

e. And whoever in authority does not make judgments in accordance with ALLAH's Decree would be unjust and oppressor.

Atonement for Breaking an Oath

a. ALLAH - the One God does not take you to task for a slip and/or blunder of your speech in oaths and testimonies when you are furious or revengeful,

b. but HE takes you to task only for the oaths which you have deliberated and sworn in earnest.

c. The penalty for breaking such oaths is:

average of the same food and beverages that one provides for one's family, or

- providing full clothing to ten needy individuals, men and/or women of the average type of clothing one gives to one's family, or
- making provisions for freeing a person from captivity.

d. In circumstances where one is not able to fulfill any one of the foregoing three options, then, one must Fast from dawn to dusk, for three consecutive days.

e. This is the atonement for breaking your oaths that you swore to keep.

f. Therefore, you shall always fulfill your oaths, and whatever else you have sworn, do not break them.

g. ALLAH - the One God thus clarifies HIS Commandments for you, so that you may be grateful for the Guidance.

Prohibition of Intoxicants

a.O The Faithful!

b. All types and forms of intoxicants - alcohol, drugs, cocaine, heroin - whether drunk, inhaled, sniffed, or ingested orally or through IV, and gambling, and fetishes, and divining arrows for the purpose of drawing lots similar to practice of raffle, etc. are a loathsome evil devised by Satan - the evil of human soul and social environment.

c.Soshun them!

d. Thus you may be successful in the Sight of ALLAH, and hence in the Afterlife.

e. The Satan seeks to precipitate hatred and animosity among you by means of keeping you involved in intoxicants, thereby weakening your consciousness and self-control, and gambling which leaves you with a deep sense of loss and grudge.

f. And, consequently, to prevent you from (i) the Remembrance of ALLAH, and (ii) attendance to the daily Mandatory Prayers.

g. Will you then be the ones who abstain from intoxicants and gambling?

h. 'Umar ibn al-Khattab responded instantaneously as did others: 'We do abstain, Ya RABB! We do abstain, Ya RABB!!'- reported by Ahmad, al-Nasdi and Ibn Majah.

i. Prohibition came in three stages: first 02:219, second 04:43, and third 05:90-91.

j. 05:90 was revealed after 04:43.

Prohibition on Hunting While in Ihram

a.O The Faithful!

b. Do not kill, hunt or trap any game whether or not their meat is lawful for consumption, while you are in the state of Ihram for the Hajj/'Umrah.

ce. The exceptions may be the scorpion, the snake, the rat, the dog, the beast with a savage bite and the aggressive predator.

d. And whoever of you kills, /unts or traps game

Reminders from History

06:42

- a. And WE sent a number of Messengers to a number of communities and regions before you O Prophet Muhammad.
- b. The host communities ridiculed their Missions, and disobeyed Divine Messages of their respective Messengers.
- c. Consequently, WE seized them with devastation and suffering, and afflicted them with calamities of famine, economic hardship and anarchy. See also 07:130-131 and 133.
- d. WE did so that they may humble themselves, and submit to OUR Authority.

06:43

- a. But, then, why did they continue refusing submission to US even when OUR punishment drew closer to them?
- b. Rather their hearts hardened as the suffering failed to make them turn to ALLAH - the One God, for Satan made their foul deeds appear attractive and pleasing to them, and, thus they took pride in their conduct.

- a. So when they had become forgetful of what they had been asked to remember,
- b. WE opened to them doors of all opportunities and poured on them the abundance of all good things, and endless pleasures of life that they sought just to be tested with a life of plenty in as much as to be tested with a life of scarcity and hardship.
- c. But just as they were rejoicing in what they were provided with, fully drunk with pleasures of life, and had thus become haughty, WE seized them suddenly.
- d. That is when they were dumbfounded and plunged into utter desperation.

- a. Thus, the /ast remnants of the community/nation that caused injustice and oppression were cut-off completely.
- b. Had it not been for the fact that ALLAH repels one group of people by another, the earth would have been utterly corrupted - 02:251.
- c. And the praise and supremacy is only for ALLAH, the RABB- the Lord Supreme of the Worlds - all creation.
- d. ALLAH - the One God followed this law to operate for the people of Noah, Hiid, Saleh, Lot as well as followers of the Pharaoh, the Greeks, the Romans, the Moguls, the Ottomans, and the history continues.

- b. "How can you take idols for worship and reverence? - the ancient Chaldeans living in today's Iraq worshiped idols, stars, sun and other planets.

- c. As in the present time, people worship ghosts and spirits, minerals and animals, stars and planets, water and fire, lightening and thunder, and man - whoever displays supernatural powers. The phenomenon exists in today's South and South-East Asia, and some other parts of the world.
- d. Clearly, I see you and people of your group misguided and wandering astray.'

- a. And, thus, WE caused Abraham an insight into the visible and the invisible wonders of the cosmos, and the earth, and their inner dimension,
- b. so that he would be of the ones who are firm in belief.
- c. Similarly, ALLAH caused Prophet Muhammad to see some of HIS Signs of Divinity and Lordship - 17:01.

a. Abraham continued:

b. 'Truly and sincerely \ turn my face - the whole being - in worship, reverence and obedience towards the One WHO created the cosmos, and the earth, and whatever lies in-between and beyond; and, then, to associate any partner(s) with HIM in worship, divinity and command is an unforgivable and sinful crime - 31:13, -

b. Abraham counter-argued against their polytheistic religious dogmas and idols/gods - see 21:51-67, and said:

c. "How can you argue with me about ALLAH - the One God, while HE has already given me the Guidance?"

d. I do not fear the idolatry images/figures that you set up besides ALLAH - the One God, unless my RABB - the Lord Supreme, wills, nothing can ever happen.

b. HE brings forth the living out from the dead, and also brings forth the dead out from the living.

c. This is ALLAH - the One God, the Originator of the ever renewable miracle.

d. How, then, can you be so deluded, and turn away from the Truth?

06:96-97

a. It is ALLAH, WHO causes to break the morning dawn from darkness of the night; and

b. it is ALLAH, WHO makes the nighttime for rest, and the sun and the moon, and their rising and setting, a means of computation to measure time.

c. That is the foreordaining of ALLAH - the all-Mighty, the all-Knowing.

- d. And it is HE, WHO made for you the stars so that you may be guided by them in darkness of the land and the sea.
- e. Surely, WE have explained OUR miraculous signs distinctly and in detail for those who have knowledge to be guided by the stars: their positioning, orbits and cycles.

07:16-17

a. And then Iblis Satan declared:

b. 'In as much as YOU have led me into error by having willed that I go astray from erstwhile position among the angels and the jinn,

c. I shall, in revenge, sit in ambush for them to lure them as they follow on YOUR Straight Path.

d. 'Then I shall come upon them - from their front, and from their back; from their right and from their left - from all directions and by all possible means.

c. 'Your RABB - the Lord Supreme forbade you both to approach that one tree of experiencing corporeality lest you both become angels, or be of the immortals' /iving in the Paradise forever. Thus, instilling in them the apprehension that ALLAH did not wish to keep them in the Paradise forever. See also 20:120.

d. And Satan swore on oath to both Adam and his wife and said:

e. 'I am definitely one of the sincere well-wishers for both of you.'

a. Thus did Satan cunningly lure both Adam and his wife with deception, deluding thoughts and florid speech.
b. Then when the two had tasted of the forbidden tree - the mechanism of reproduction - they became conscious of their and each others' corporeal-bodily selves.
c. They felt ashamed and began to cover themselves by patching up leaves from the Paradise in a desperate effort to suppress their corporeality.
d. And the Divine Voice called out to both of them:

Size: 397,789 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Preface

First published in March 2013 under the banner 'Anthology of The Highlights of The Qur'an' this monumental work by my learned brother Badr Hashemi is now reappearing as 'Journeying Through The Qur'an'. It encapsulates direct translation of one-sixth of The Ayat/Statements of The Qur'an intended for orderly conduct of life and living as peaceful and productive members of an inter-dependent global family; remaining five-sixth repeatedly reiterates same universal values relatable to contextual realities and situations at the relevant time. Direct translation of the Arabic Sacred Text is duly blended with the context of respective revelations artfully flagged in italics. That medium was first employed by learned brother for his six-volume land-mark scholarly project titled as 'Paraphrasing of The Qur'an' initiated in late 1990's. Al-Hamd o Lillah, both sets of publications have been widely commended by a readership of scholars of many faiths and not so learned too. It is specially useful for those who believe in peaceful co-existence and actively build bridges without pre-conceived notions via inter-faith harmony.

Generally throughout human history, rational explanations were sought for the issues confronting humanity in an attempt to comprehend 'The Infinite'; the pursuit that shall always remain a mirage regardless of one's belief and value system. The need for such a work becomes especially relevant in the wake of emerging global scenario as issues of existence confront the humankind. Rising since 1970's, a new type of religiosity, called 'fundamentalism', in many major religions including the three Divine with 'political spirituality, increasingly intolerant in vision' do not permit underplaying the urgency of inter-faith understanding, as so painfully noted by Karen Armstrong.

The Qur'an authoritatively documents true origin of the Universe to declare humankind as best of His creations bestowed complete mastery over its resources; provides most authentic historical account of mankind with a comprehensive world view to encourage judicious use of natural endowments in an inter-dependent Global Order at peace from within and without. Repeated expression of gratitude to the Benevolent Creator, Rabb, Who so mercifully exposed all man-made hallow of the core fabrications in the revealed religions made for petty mundane benefits, to urge guarding against subjective whims of the misguided to exhort time and again virtues of the Path of Righteousness.

For the Faithful, core principles and specific provisions, whether voluntary or binding, were prescribed for orderly regulation and conduct of life and living of an individual as a productive member of his society, irrespective of cast, creed or race were expounded with utmost clarity. It spelt out the inescapable regime of reward and punishment for every deed, big or small, with an unambiguous forewarning of eventual accountability. In this divine scheme, consequences inherent in straying off the right course pursued by His chosen and favorite slaves were expressly stated sans ambiguity. While reaffirming human obligations, The Qur'an categorically and emphatically rules out coercion in matters of faith and belief systems.

Uniquely concise in style, this work flags core principles and imperatives of the Divine Commandments, primarily addressed to followers of Islamic Faith trained and tuned in contemporary learning in the West; others are encouraged to read the Sacred Text with an open mind, to directly ascertain rational explanations that may satisfy their inquisitive minds to facilitate informed choices without pre-conceived prejudice or hostility to the extent possible. For the uninitiated among large readership of educated classes in all faiths exposed to similar contemporary learning environment of the West, this brief walk through is intended to cultivate, nurture and intensify inter-faith harmony. Learned Brother's own education at the global Centers of Excellence, living experience in many continents and intellectual exposure to diverse cultural environs had motivated him to translate his deep understanding and conviction that beyond the faith, all segments of readership are as inquisitive if not more, as the other. This set of readers will also find this effort as an invaluable beneficial addition to the literature.

technology for making garments to cover your body privacy and also as an adornment.

c. However, she garment of ALLAH-Consciousness, all the

d. These are some of ALLAH's Messages so as to make you think and reflect.'

Enemy becomes Protector

07:27

a. O Descendants of Adam!

b. Let no Satan tempt, dupe or lure any one of you just as he lured your two parents causing their eviction from the Paradise.

c. He deprived both of them of their garment of ALLAHconsciousness and obedience in order to make them aware of each other's body privacy and arouse the carnal impulses embedded in them.

d. Surely, he and his fellows - the satanic forces that serve the same function - can see you from a place/position where you cannot see, or even perceive them.

e. Truly, WE have made the Satan - corruptive forces - partners and allies of those who do not believe and obey

Coming of the Ummy Prophet

07:157

a. ALLAH said:

b. '[shall be kind to those men and women, young and old,
who follow the /ast Prophet Muhammad, the 'Ummy Prophet whom they find described in the Torah - Deuteronomy 18:15-19, and the Injil- John 14: 16-17.

c. He motivates and enjoins them to do what is right and righteous, and he forbids what is wrong and sinful.

d. And he makes halal//icit to them the things that are made lawful, by divine decree, and makes haram/prohibits to them the things that are foul and unlawful by divine decree.

e. And he relieves them of their burden, and of the restraints that weigh upon them - a reference to difficult obligations laid down in the Torah, particularly relating to foods, disrespect to the parents and adultery, etc.

f. So those men and women, young and old, who:

- believe in Prophet Muhammad's Divine Mission, and
- honor him and show reverence to him, and
- extend a// assistance in fulfilling his Divine Mission, and
- follow the Light of the Qur'an that has been revealed

on to him by ALLAH - the One God; see also 05:15,

g. they are the ones who shall surely succeed in the Sight of ALLAH, and thus in the Afterlife.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

c. Surely I am the Last and final Messenger of ALLAH to all of you besides being the Seal of all Prophets - 33:40 - and ALLAH 8 Grace to Humankind - 21:107.

d. ALLAH is the One God to WHOM belongs the Sovereignty over the heavens and the earth.

e. There is no one, real or myth - worthy of any form of worship, reverence and obedience and shall never be, but HIM alone.

f. It is ALLAH - the One God WHO grants life and causes death.

g. Therefore, believe in the ever existence and prime supremacy of ALLAH - the One God, and the mission of HIS Final Prophet Muhammad, the 'Ummy Prophet, who firmly believes in ALLAH - the One God, and follows HIS Speech - the Quran.

h. So follow him, and thus you may be guided aright.

Seek Protection against Satanic Prompting

07:200

a. And as and when Satan attempts to incite you to evil, evil prompting inclining to evil, then seek refuge with ALLAH.

b. Truly, HE is all-Listening, all-Knowing.

Mercy through Listening to the Qur'an

07:204

a. In the perspective of 41:26 describing disbelievers' attitude not to listen to The Qur 'Gnic recital, but disrupt it with booing and laughter, the rebuttal follows:

b. And whenever The Qur'an is recited/read aloud, whether in public or in private, listen to it attentively, and remain silent so as to understand its Message and also demonstrate respect for ALLAH's Word.

c. Thus you may be blessed with H/S Mercy.

Be Close to Your Rabb

07:205

a. And commit to the Remembrance of your RABB - the Lord Supreme, within yourself, by contemplating to feel HIS Presence, without raising your voice with all humility and awe in the mornings and in the evenings/sunset. See also 50:39.

b. And do not ever be of the ignoring and heedless to the Remembrance of ALLAH.

The Angels and The Faithful

08:12

a. When your RABB inspired the Angels with His Command, saying:

b. I am with you!

c. Go and strengthen the Faithful and make them stand firm in the battle.

d. I shall cast fear into the hearts of the disbelievers - the fear of My Prophet Mohammad and his companion fighters.

e. So strike above their necks, meaning their heads,

f. Strike off every joint of their bodies: arms, hands and fingers, etc. i.e. destroy them completely.

g. This was the scene of the Day of Badr when scores of Angels descended in reinforcement of the Faithful, and The Prophet" threw a handful of pebbles against them and every single idolater was struck in his eye. The battle was won.

Respond to the Call

a.O The Faithful!

b. Respond to ALLAH and to HIS Final Messenger Muhammad whenever HE/te calls you to that, which enlivens your souls.

c. And know that if you do not respond to the Call ALLAH's Command will surely intervene between a person and temptations of worldly desires and disbelief in his/her heart. Wording in italics is derived from a Hadith quoted by Al-Muslim in Kitab al-Qadr.

d. And, that it is HE to WHOM you all shall be gathered subsequent to the Resurrection.

e. And guard yourselves against all forms of sedition, discord and temptation that may also include your riches and your children/family, as it is not only the wrongdoers among you who shall be afflicted, if may inflict you too.

f. And be mindful that ALLAH is severe in punishment to those also who stir temptation and/or discord, whether disbelievers or believers.

Do not betray Allah, the Messenger and your Trusts

a.O The Faithful!

b. Do not betray ALLAH and the Final Messenger

Muhammad, i.e. do not abandon compliance to ALLAH's Injunctions and HIS Prophet's Sunnah.

c. And a/so do not betray others who repose their trust in you with personal matters, property and public affairs, etc - when you know. See also Masnad Ahmad, Vol III, Pg 135.

Source of Temptation

a. And you should know it well that your worldly possessions, family status and your children, etc., are given to you as a means to test and tempt as it keeps the heart pre-occupied with this worldly life with little or no time to accord attention to the Service of ALLAH;

b. and, that with ALLAH is the greatest reward.

Spending that brings regret

08:36-37

a. Indeed, those nations and institutions that group the disbelievers, they spend their riches/resources and direct their financial assistance, charity and targeted programs through the Non-Governmental Organizations and various other channels towards preventing the Muslims from the Path of ALLAH - the One God.

b. Thus they dissipate their resources that would ultimately cause them anguish and painful regret, and, finally after that they shall be overcome.

c. 08:36-37 was revealed in post-Badr situation when Elders of Makkah pooled money to secure revenge against victory at Badr in Year 623 that led to Battle of Uhud a couple of years later. History was repeated during the Crusades, and lately in Afghanistan, Iraq, Libya, Syria, and implicitly in Pakistan and other Lands of Crescent.

d. And those who remain disbelievers all their life shall finally be gathered into the Hellfire.

e. In order that ALLAH - the One God shall sift the disbelieving/wicked from the believing/pious; see also 30:59,

f. and club together all the disbelieving/wicked by heaping them one upon another, a// in one pile, and then cast them into the Hellfire.

Sifting Commitment to Belief

a. Do you reckon that you shall ever be left without ALLAH first distinguishing those among you who (i) strive diligently in the service of HIS Cause, and (ii) do not take other than ALLAH, and HIS Messenger, and the Faithful as allies and well-wishers? See also 02:154-155.

b. Indeed, ALLAH is all-Aware of whatever you do.

c. Read 09:16 together with 29:02 and 11-12.

Basis of Ties of Kinship

a. O The Faithful!

b. Do not take your parents, and your siblings, and your sons, and your daughters as your true well-wishers so long as they adopt the value system and social behavior of people who prefer disbelief instead of belief. See also 03:28 and 118, 05:51 and 58:22.

c. And whoever among you turns to them, despite this warning, then they are transgressing and wicked.

d. then just wait until ALLAH brings HIS all-prevailing Command for your punishment.' See also Al-Bokhari, Kitab al-Eman.

e. And ALLAH does not like and guide the disobedient people.

Divine Turns in Mercy

09:27

a. The door to repentance is always open to receive those who wish to change their mindset and behavior.

b. ALLAH turns mercifully to whom He pleases of those who repent amongst them;

c. for ALLAH is all-Forgiving, all-Compassionate towards him who repents and dies repentant.

Dispensing Charitable Donations

09:60

a. The charitable donations - that are given and sanctified to the Service of ALLAH - shall only go to the following eight categories:

- the poor, and
- the needy, and
- those employed for that purpose - to collect and distribute the funds, and
- attract the hearts of those who have been inclined towards Islam and/or to the new converts, and
- ransom captives, freeing of slaves and/or to pay for the - freedom of jailed innocents and/or prisoners of war,

- those burdened with debts and sudden expenses, and
- promote the Cause of ALLAH, and
- the traveling alien in need of support.
b. This is duty to ALLAH, i.e. it is mandatory to do so.
c. And ALLAH is all-Knowing, all-Wise.

09:105

- a. And tell them O Prophet Muhammad:
- b. Do deeds of righteousness and behave well, so that ALLAH should see you doing righteously, and so should HIS Final Messenger, and the Faithful.
- c. Regretting mistakes and repenting past errors does not guarantee forgiveness; it is the subsequent non-repeat of the same actions which follow such repentance that counts. The Prophet, ALLAH bless him always, is reported to have said:

Do not plead for the Polytheist

a. It is not befitting the Prophet Muhammad and those who have attained Faith to seek and plead for ALLAH's forgiveness for the idolaters and polytheist - even if they may happen to be their nearest relatives, him and his family - 11:40 - whether believers or disbelievers

- from devastation of the great flood.

Relationships are by Faith, not Biology

11:46

a. And the Divine Word was swift:

b.'O Noah!

c. Your plea for your son is against MY Decree for he is certainly not of your family as he is not of your Faith;

d. he was definitely of an unrighteous conduct: the son, Canaan, like his mother, rejected Noah's prophet-hood and opposed his mission thereby allying with disbelievers. Thus, both were stripped off their affinity to Noah.

e. So do not ask of ME about matters of which you have no knowledge of their true connotations.

f. I advise you not to be among the ignorant of what is right.'.

g. ALLAH's revelations have always given precedence to ties of Faith and religion over those of blood and ancestry. To love or to hate, for sake of ALLAH, has always been and shall remain the basis of agreement or otherwise among individuals, families and nations.

h. Abraham could not help his father, Noah his son, and Lot his wife. So who else could salvage the guilty from ALLAH' punishment?

Noah admits Erring, Seeks Forgiveness

11:47

a. He said:

b.'O My RABB-- the Lord Supreme!

c. I do indeed seek refuge with YOU from asking YOU about matters of which I have no knowledge of their true connotations.

d. If YOU do not kindly forgive me, and show me mercy, I shall then be among the losers.'

Perversity brings Doom

11:77-78

a. And when OUR angel-envoys came to Lot,

b. he was concerned and worried for them in his heart for he was powerless to offer them protection against the gay gangs.

c. And he murmured fo himself: 'This is indeed going to bea very hard and a distressful time!'

d. And his people came rushing towards him with desire of lust for the angel-envoys as they had been long accustomed to committing sin and perverted practice(s).

e. He said:

f. 'O My People!

g. There are my daughters: get married to them as they are purer for you, and make natural couples with you.

h, Fear ALLAH - the One God, and do not disgrace me by your motives in front of my guests.

Dreadful Destruction

11:81-82

a. Noting the anxiety of Lot, the angel envoys disclosed:

b. 'O Lot!

c. In fact we are the ange/-envoys from your RABB - the Lord Supreme.

d. Do not worry. We are your group, and we are strong and powerful. They will not be able to reach you, and cause you orus any harm.

e. So move out with your family, in the course of the night, and let not anyone of you stay behind,

f. except for your wife, who shall remain behind.

g. She shall definitely be afflicted with what is to afflict them.

h. Their appointed time is the morning.

i. Lot said that he wished the punishment should come sooner.

j. The angel-envoys comforted him and said: Is not the morning near?'

k. So when OUR Command came, WE turned the sinful city upside down; made its highest part into the lowest,

1. And WE rained down on it a torrent of stones of baked clay, continuously, ranged one after another: possibly lava from a volcanic eruption.

Faith does Not Allow Cheating

a. And to Madyan - territory of presently known as Ma'an in Jordan, they are also referred to as the People of Aykah - 15:78, 26:176, 38:13 and 50:14, WE assigned their brethren Shu'ayb with a twin mission: condemnation of polytheist belief; fighting commercial cheating and economic corruption.

b. He proclaimed:

c. 'O My People!

d. Worship ALLAH - the One God.

e. You have no one, real or myth, worthy of worship, reverence and obedience other than HIM.

f. And do not cheat in commercial transactions: do not give short measure and weight.

g. 17:35 asserts: 'And give full measure whenever you measure out, and weigh with accurate scale.' The Injunction applies not merely to commercial transactions but to all dealings between individuals and/or corporate entities. See also 83:01-09.

h. No doubt I can see you are prosperous through unlawful business practice(s), yet, truly I fear for you an all-encompassing punishment.

i. Hence, seek forgiveness from your RABB - the Lord Supreme for the sins you have committed by duping your customers, and turn to HIM in repentance with a sincere promise of never doing it again.

j. And once you have done it, you will find that my RABB - the Lord Supreme, is indeed all-Merciful; all-Caring.'

Size: 372,661 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Prelude

The Qur'an by all accounts and standards, is the most stirring event of history. It has been the most intensely recited and extensively studied Book in all periods following its dissension upon the pure heart and sincere soul of the last Prophet of Allah (peace be upon him). The Divine Book has been the locus of reverence for the believers and focus of keen study by The scholars of Islam. This tremendous scholarly enterprise evolved under the direct guidance of The Prophet (peace be upon him), the prime teacher of The Qur'an, its living embodiment and the ideal executer of its mission in history. With the onward progress of Islamic educational tradition, the area of Qur'anic scholarship exponentially grew and expanded in both vertical and horizontal dimensions.

Avery accomplished gentleman brother Badr Hashemi has included himself in the honorable list of writers on The Qur'an. He has devoted his exceptional talents and energies to this labor of love for several years and has delved in the depths of this shoreless ocean. He continues his utmost intellectual concentration on understanding The Qur'an with great zeal and fervor. In the present work brother Badr Hashemi has made a commendable effort to relate the message of The Qur'an to the pressing problems of modern man. He has made a successful attempt to capture what he saw the core of The Qur'anic message so as to make available the fruits of his labor to the present day reader. A great many people find it difficult to devote so much time to ponder over The Qur'anic discourse as the author of 'Journeying Through The Qur'an'. His work provides the reader with an easy access to the essential teachings of the Divine Book sent down for the guidance of mankind.

The methodology evolved by the leaned author to bring home the answers of The Qur'an to the problems of modern life is indeed a praiseworthy service to the formidable field of Qur'anic studies. The details of this intelligently conceived methodology has been sufficiently explained by the author himself. Further, he has provided simple English translation along with The Qur'anic text and supplemented the literal rendering with brief explanatory words in italics. In this way, it becomes easier for those readers who are less familiar with Qur'anic style, to comprehend the Statements of The Qur'an throwing light on the relevant issues that have been dealt within the selected verses.

The value of the author's effort lies in his earnest attempt to elaborate the contents of The Qur'anic text wherever such an elaboration was required by the brevity of Qur'anic Statements. When The Qur'an enters a theme of significance, its discourse is preceded or supplemented by similar Statements at other places in different contexts.

Moreover, often times, The Qur'anic discourse proceeds on the basis of given premises. These premises are intrinsic to The Qur'anic universe of knowledge and guidance. Without due notice of this epistemological and teleological framework in which Qur'an speaks to man, it is not easy to make sense of the perennial Qur'anic Message. The author of this work has supplied this necessary clue to The Qur'anic world-view to the readers. This has been an essential task of every commentator of The Qur'an. However, brother Badr Hashemi has performed this onerous task without encumbering his work with copious foot notes.

In this way, the author has succeeded to bring forth a work of great utility in a single user-friendly volume. He deserves our admiration and gratitude for this noble contribution. May Allah accept his service to His Book and enable his readers to make the best use of this Valuable Companion to the Study of The Qur'an.

- 'they would still not believe unless ALLAH had enforced HIS Will' - 10:99.

b. For certain, the Power and Command is altogether with ALLAH - the One God, i.e. all power and choice to show a miracle belongs to HIM, and that HE alone knows the expedencies which go into the working of miracles.

c. Do the believers not realize that, had ALLAH enforced HIS Will, HE would have indeed guided all human beings to the Right Way? - the believers, then, should leave the disbelievers to ALLAH.

d. And the disbelievers, because of their wrong Faith and associated misdeeds, shall not cease to be afflicted by a calamity, disaster or hardship, or see it fall at their very doorstep until ALLAH's promise is fulfilled.

e. Truly, ALLAH never fails to fulfill HIS Promise.

Mockery of the Divine Message is to be Punished

13:32

a. And certainly the Messengers were mocked and ridiculed, before you O Prophet Muhammad,

b. yet initially I granted respite to those who disbelieved, and then suddenly I seized them in various forms - all unbearable, lethal and terrible.

c. And how terrible was MY punishment! See also 11:102.

A Good Word is like a Good Tree

a. Do you not consider how ALLAH - the One God compares a good word/the word of truth to a good tree?

b. Its roots are firm in the ground, and its branches spread out high in the sky.

c. 14:27 asserts: ALLAH strengthens the believers with firmly rooted Word of the Qur'an both in the life of this world and the Afterlife. And 35:10 states: To HIM ascends all good words, and HE exalts the good deeds.

d. A good word implies a Call to the Righteousness that is the innermost purpose of every one of ALLAH Word.

A Bad Word is like a Bad Tree

a. And the example of a bad word/word of falsehood is that of a bad tree,

b. uprooted from the surface of the earth, with no resilience to endure - having no stable bed and firm root - beliefs of a disbeliever have no roots so they lose their ground quickly; and,

The Organic Curve

a. And it is ALLAH - the One God, WHO created you; and then in due course, HE will cause you to die.

b. And there are some of you who are left to the most miserable and feeble stage of lifetime - the organic curve of human's growth and decline - so that they no longer know/remember what they had previously known:

JForgetfulness catches up with age.

c, ALLAH is indeed all-Knowing for HE is your Creator, and all-Powerful.

Means of Testing

a. And it is ALLAH - the One God, WHO has given better means of sustenance and livelihood to some of you over some others as a means of testing: both in times of prosperity, and in times of adversity.

b. So those who are favored are often unwilling to share their provisions with those whom their right hand possesses, i.e. those whom they acquire in/after the qital campaign, and/or others who are under their authority: servants and subordinates so that they might be equal in this respect.

c. The rich are encouraged to contain their greed and selfishness, and look with compassion towards the deprived, and care for them.

d. Why do they, then, renounce ALLAH's blessings, favors and associate partner(s) with HIM in divinity, worship and command?

Combine All Goodness, Shun All Evil

a. Indeed, ALLAH commands justice and kindness to all, and generosity and goodness towards relatives; and,

b. HE forbids immorality, and injustice, and transgression in matters of Faith and its oracles.

c. HE advises you repeatedly, so that you may take heed, and thus be guided aright.

Book: Journeying Through The Quran - Badr Hashemi

Title: Brother Badr Hashemi's compilation of 'Journeying Through The Qur'an' contains much more than

Size: 396,800 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Foreword

Brother Badr Hashemi's compilation of 'Journeying Through The Qur'an' contains much more than selected portions of the Muslim Scripture. Additional materials provided beyond the title in Introduction and explanatory statements, in italics, mostly from the primary (Qur'an) and secondary (Traditions and Sayings of the Prophet Muhammad, Allah bless him always) sources are uniquely invaluable in trustfully informing readers, which is generally absent or inconsistent in similar attempts by earlier authors available elsewhere.

This novel approach adopted by Brother Badr Hashemi places his contributions in a class by itself, especially if we keep the targeted audience for whom he undertook the challenge. This compilation adds scholastic value and credibility because of the vast multilingual command, diversified cultural exposure in formal professional settings, combined with religious training and expertise right from author's childhood to the brief expose covered selectively but systematically, chapter-by-chapter, 1-114, the compilation is a very worthy addition to meet hitherto unmet need of English-speaking people interested in learning the gist of The Qur'anic Message written in literate English, as spoken in the US.

Within the same chapter, reading is enriched by sub-titles appropriately formulated to indicate the intent and content of the Ayah/Statement under consideration. There is a common thread of emphasis on behavioral, inter and intra communal, societal, and moral aspects of the guidance, without sacrificing the mandatory aspects of acts of worship and the importance of obligatory religious duties assigned for both the Creator and His creation, starting from parents, siblings, relatives to next-door neighbors. Some of these aspects of The Qur'anic guidance have not been adequately covered in books written by Orientalists or religious scholars, the former dwell on where the guidance lacks in their perceived notion of gender equality, while the latter overemphasize the minute details of performing religious duties.

Brother Badr Hashemi has devoted care and attention to what The Qur'an commands how to treat other co-humans with whom believers come into contact during their mundane life on this earth, from bedroom to boardroom. The compilation is emphasizing that guidance from The Qur'an is meant to lead Mankind in all its affairs according to its basic ethics of Allah's Sovereignty, Prophetic Traditions, Accountability in the Afterlife, without adopting any extremes of violating others rights to justice, security, and freedom to choose between right and wrong; plus, the religion of their choice to follow.

The intended purpose of the compilation is to initiate, motivate, and attract the youth, who consider English as their first language, to the Last and Final Scripture, viz., The Qur'an, and its guidance to lead the entire mankind for all time to come. The book, as a whole, does it successfully and succinctly so. See also references, mostly from The Qur'an itself, interspersed throughout the text are helpful in understanding the Message from The Qur'an itself and in convincing the reader of the argument, augmentation provided appropriately by Brother Badr Hashemi.

The tone and approach of the body of compilation is non-sectarian, true to the spiritual intent of Allah-consciousness, sincere toward leading to piety and righteousness, not adhering dogmatically to any particular school-of-thought. The style of presenting the paraphrasing, notes in italics, and other textual material is persuasive that is inviting both for Muslim and also for non-Muslim readers. Comparatively, at several places, citations from Torah and Injil provided viz-a-viz Qur'an put an issue in perspective from all three monotheistic faiths originating from the common patriarch Abraham, peace be upon him.

This book has enabled advancing my personal learning of The Qur'anic message and modifying my own knowledge-base of The Qur'anic understanding to serve Humanity at large. I trust it would equally help in refining and fine tuning what everyone knows about The Qur'an, Islam, and Muslims.

Journeying Through The Qur'an

Mission Defined

20:47

- a. The Divine command continues:
- b. Go, then, the two of you to him — Pharaoh - and proclaim:
- c. 'We are the Messengers of your RABB — the Lord Supreme.
- d. So let the Israelites go free with us, and do not oppress them anymore - see also 02:49, 07:141,14:06 and 26:16-17.
- e. We have come to you with a Miraculous Sign from your RABB- the Lord Supreme.
- f. And know that HIS peace shall be on the one who follows HIS Guidance.'

Confronting the Tyrant

20:57-58

- a. So Moses and Aaron went to the Pharaoh, presented the Divine Signs and invited him to the truth as commanded.
- b. The Pharaoh said:
- c. "Have the two of you come to us to drive us out of our land, and deprive us of our rule with your magic, O Moses?
- d. In that case, we too shall bring the like of your magic to challenge you.
- e. So set an appointment between us and between you,
- f. which neither we nor you shall break, at a central place convenient for us both.'

Show of Falsehood

20:65-67

- a. The magicians of Egypt were called in a show of magic power.
- b. They challenged:

c.'O Moses!

d. Either you would cast the staff first, or shall we be the first ones to cast?"

e. Moses responded:

f.'Rather you cast first!'

g. And by virtue of their magic, their strings and sticks suddenly appeared to him, i.e. Moses, Aaron as well as to the audience, as if these were moving swiftly. See also 07:116.

h. So Moses sensed a fear within himself, and was actually frightened.

The Truth Prevails

20:68-70

a. The Divine Voice called out:

b. O Moses!

c. Do not be frightened.

d. You shall definitely prevail.

e. And now cast down that staff which is in your right hand;

f. and it shall swallow up all moving strings and sticks that they have crafted.

g. For, they have crafted is nothing but a magician's trickery and deception;

h. and the magician can never succeed, wherever s/he may be,' or no matter what s/he does - conveying a categorical

Job's Affliction and Relief

21:83-84

a. And Job, when he cried out to his RABB — the Lord Supreme:

b. "Indeed, this ailment has thoroughly exhausted me, and I am trying to endure it with fortitude. Please deliver me from this by having mercy on me as YOU are the Most Merciful of all who are merciful."

c. So WE responded to him, and WE relieved him from ailment which he suffered from.

d. And WE brought him back his family, which had abandoned him to his fate after his ailment, and as many more grand children with them, as a grace from US, and as an example to the devout.

Jonah is Swallowed and Rescued

21:87-88

a. And Jonah alias Dhu'l-Niin means Man of the Whale, when he fled 'like a runaway slave' - 37:140 - disappointed and in fury with his own people of Nineveh, Assyria.

b. And he reckoned that WE would have no power over him to cause him any distress.

c. But then he /anded in a difficult situation, 37:141, and he called out to US in the midst of the darkness:

d. 'There is no entity, and can never be any, worthy of worship, reverence and obedience other than YOU!

e. Limitless glory is to YOU!

f. Indeed, I have been of the ones who acted improperly.'

g. So WE answered his plea, and WE rescued him from distress in which he had fallen.

h. It is thus WE rescue those who are the Faithful, and turn to US sincerely repenting for their offences. See also 68:48-49.

No Sectarian Divide

21:92-94

a. O The Faithful!

b. Undoubtedly, this re/igious community of yours, is one single community with one single Faith,

c. and, I am your One and the Only RABB — the Lord Supreme.

d. So, worship ME alone.

e. But some people have divided the Unity of Faith - 23:53 - and splintered their religious affairs among themselves;

f. forgetting that they all have to return to US, and be held accountable for creating factions.

g. And yet, whoever does the least of deeds of righteousness, and is a believer, his/her endeavor shall not be disregarded, i.e. even the breach of religious unity may not be unforgivable so long as it does not involve the worship of entities other than ALLAH - the One God, 04:116.

h. And, indeed WE are recording it in his/her favor.

Creation, Life and Resurrection

a. O People of the World!

b. If you are in doubt about truth of the Resurrection,

c. then realize that WE created every one of you out of dust - and gradually developed you through the following stages where the fetus travels to womb before taking a human form,
d. and after that (i) out of a drop of seminal fluid,

e. and after that (ii) out of a clot of blood — a clinging cell mass,

f. and after that (iii) out of an embryonic lump, complete in itself and yet not complete,

g. so that WE might make things clear to you about your origin.

h. And WE cause to (iv) retain in the mothers' wombs whatever WE desire, for a specified term, i, and after that WE (v) bring you out as babies, then WE nourish you so that you may grow up to attain your full maturity. See also 23:12-14.

j. And among you some are caused to die young and some of you live on to the most degrading and abject old age - worst part of the age when human faculties and senses begin to degenerate - when all that they once knew, they know/remember no more by becoming forgetful.

k. And if you are still in doubt about the Resurrection, you can see the land lifeless, barren and dead;

l. and you see that the earth suddenly stirs up to life when WE send down the lifeline of rain water upon it, it swells and blossoms with all kind of vegetation.

Universal Submission to Allah - the One God

a. Do you never consider that all things and beings in the cosmos, the space, and all things and beings in and on the earth always bow down in worship and submission to ALLAH- the One God,

b. and so do the sun, and the moon, and the stars, and the mountains, and the trees, and the beasts, willingly or unwillingly - 13:15, and so do a great number of human beings? See also 16:48-50.

c. Yet there are a/so a great number of human beings who defy HIM consciously, and will inevitably have to suffer the deserved punishment in the Afterlife.

Title: Introduction

Size: 404,860 bytes | Dimensions: 1166x1701

Introduction

All Praise is for Allah - to whom be ascribed all perfection and majesty. He is the Eternal, the Infinite and the Mighty, the Merciful and the Compassionate, the Creator and the Sustainer. I beg for His mercy and forgiveness. I seek refuge in Allah from the Satanic, accursed and evil forces of my soul and the surrounding social environment.

I testify that there is no one worthy of worshipful reverence and obedience except Allah: the Singular, the Unity. I testify that Muhammad bin Abd Allah bin Abd Al-Mittalib Al-Hashemi is His obedient servant, His Prophet and His Emissary. He designated him to be 'The Seal of the Prophets' and 'Mercy for Humanity.'

Prophet Muhammad was and shall always be the most remarkable man to have received and preached the Divine Word, led the greatest spiritual revolution, transformed a man-centered society to Allah-centered nation, initiated fundamental social and political reforms, established a dynamic and powerful socio-economic order that changed the worlds of human thought and action, and left a most profound influence on history, culture and civilization. May the eternal peace and blessings of Allah, the angels and the righteous souls be upon him. Amin.

The Qur'an is the recited speech of Allah, the Exalted. The Qur'anic imperative 'Qul', i.e., read, recite, state, declare, announce or proclaim - which introduces more than three hundred passages - is a reminder that the texts are to be read, recited, understood, practiced and preached.

The Prophet, Allah bless him always with honor, is reported by al-Bokhari to have said: 'Read the Qur'an for you will be rewarded at the rate of ten good deeds for reading every letter of The Qur'an. Note that I do not say that alif-lam-mim is one letter; rather, alif is one letter, lam is another, and mim is yet another.'

He would often recite the Qur'an in a low but audible voice, and at times ask others to recite for him. He would advise his followers to 'recite/read even one Ayah/Statement with mind fully attuned to its meaning as it would be better than offering one hundred raka' of nawafil' - the optional Prayers. He further said: 'You can return to Allah nothing better than which came from Him; recite/read The Qur'an!' In fact, a community that is given the Scripture and continues to recite/read it and live by it, is in a relationship through which Allah continues to guide it.

The tradition of reciting/reading The Qur'an appears to be slowly diminishing both in the Arabic speaking countries as well as in the others. On the basis of a snapshot survey informally conducted during my visits to and/or stays in Algeria, Iran, Iraq, Indonesia, Jordan, Morocco, Malaysia, Pakistan, Turkey, Syria and interactions with Muslim communities in Canada, Japan, Taiwan, South Africa, UK and USA during 1992-2001 and later in 2005-07, notwithstanding statistically insignificant size of the sample, it transpired that only about three percent of the educated Muslims had read The Qur'an once in their lifetime, while about seven percent were content with selective reading of the Scripture, with a statistically insignificant number able to develop a rudimentary understanding or any meaningful comprehension of the Divine Message.

The trend was more disheartening among the college/university-going youth, especially those who were being raised in the English speaking environment in their native places and/or overseas, where they were confronted with challenges of identity in the perspective of growing influence of Western culture and hate campaign against Islam and Muslims.

It may not be unreasonable to argue that the situation may have worsened in the intervening period due to increasing number of population entering that age-group combined by reduced family time for in-house teaching and training as well as an increasingly hostile attitude against Islam. Notwithstanding the challenges, it appeared that their lack of inclination was, inter alia, due to huge volume of The Qur'anic body and non availability of comprehensible and friendly English translations.

Title: Al-Datis Falla Falaluh

Al-Datis Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Hafiz. Al-Hafeez where /H/ is a harsher sound than the English initial /H/ may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /i/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in seen, meet and beef.

Related Strah: Ayat — occurs as Inne Rabbi 'Ala Kuli Shay' in Hafiz in Q.11:57; Wa Rabb-oka 'Ala Kuli Shay' in Hafiz in Q.34:21. Reference to hafiz in Q.06:104 appears to be to the person of The Prophet, Muhammad".

A variant also appears as Hafiz (Sift F'iliyya) in Q.12:64.

Approximate Meaning: The Protector. The Preserver. The One keeping a watchful eye. There is nothing in the heavens and the earth which is not preserved by Al-Hafiz whether it is of the weight of an atom or the planets. Al-Hafiz preserves what people do of good or evil through His power. The preservation of these is not a burden for Al-Hafiz, Allah — The One God.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Whoever repeats 'Ya Allah Ya Hafiz' several times a day, every day, shall be shielded against intimidation and fears.

Al-Jalil Falla Fataluh

Pronunciation: Al-Jalil. Al-Jaleel. /j/ is pronounced as in jam, jack and age; and /l/ as /long e/ as in seed, beef and seen.

Related Source — The epithet is not mentioned in The Qur'an. It is reported as a Divine Attribute by Al-Tirmidht 3508.

Approximate Meaning: Al-Jalil is Allah - The Majestic. The Sublime. The Mighty. The Revered. It may be said that Al-Kabir is traceable to the perfection of the essence; Al-Jalil to the perfection of the qualities; and, Al--Azim to the perfection of essence and qualities. This is what is perceived by intellectual insight provided it encompasses intellectual perception.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating it a few times a day shall cause a person reverence in social circle. It also helps healing cancer.

Title: Introduction

Size: 298,648 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Introduction

The concept of the existence of a Supreme Divine Entity is a living reality with humankind — from eternity to infinity. The Qur'an (Q.14:04) tells us that Allah — The One Lord Supreme has been sending Messengers to various nations with Messages in their own language. In each language, the Names or the Attributes represented by different sounds and symbols were used for The One Lord Supreme.

The One Lord Supreme was known as 'El Shaddai' to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Exodus 06:03). Later, He spoke to Moses as 'Yahweh' and 'Elohim' (Exodus 06:12); 'Elah', an Aramaic expression, written in the Tanakh (Jeremiah 10:11) describes the Jews' God. Jesus addressed Him as 'Eloi' (Mark 15:34); and, to Muhammad 'Allah' was the proper name for The One Lord Supreme (Q.112:01). Interestingly, the Divine Names of Elohim, Elah, Eloi and Elah (Q.43:84)/Allah are etymologically related and carry a close common thematic and audio denominator.

The Towrat — Old Testament — a fifteenth century BC document, lists at least 33 Divine Attributes: None beside Him, None before Him, None like to Him, None Good but He, Fills Heaven and Earth, God Is light, Love, Unsearchable, Eternal, Omnipotent, Omniscient, Omnipresent, Immutable, Glorious, Most High, Perfect, Peace, Holy, Just, True, Upright, Righteous, Good, Great, Gracious, Merciful, Compassionate, Forgiving, Sanctifier, Unique, Transcendent, Savior, Owner, Master to be Worshipped in Spirit and in Truth.

The Injil - New Testament - preceding Islam by about six centuries, states the Divine Attributes: Salvation is through His Name, Believers are to gather in His Name, Prayer is to be made in His Name. It stresses His Strength, Sovereignty, and Supremacy. The Everlasting Divine Entity emphasizes His Unchangeableness and is connected with His Inexhaustibleness.

Al-Ranib Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Raqib. Ar-Rageeb with stress in accent on letter /t/ to signify the doubling of the letter’s sound in pronunciation (Shadd). For /Q/ no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in ‘quail’. /l/ is /long e/ as in eat, beef, seen and see, etc.

Related Sirah: Ayat — occurrence as single: Kunta Ant-Al-Raqib-a “Elaihim in Q.05:117; and as Inn-Allah-a Kana ‘Elaikum Raqib-a in Q.04:01; 33:52.

Approximate Meaning: The Watchful. The One who observes all and every action. The Vigilant. Al-Raqib appears to be closely connected to Al--Alim, The Knower; and Al-Hafiz, The Preserver, in order to be Watchful and Vigilant.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Whoever repeats “Ya Allah Ya Raqib’ seven times for several days, with a focus on him/herself shall be protected from calamities.

Al-Wlast "YD gotta gata

Pronunciation: Al-Wasi'y. Al-Waasi'y where /a/ is pronounced as / longer a/ as in cab, not as in cake; /s/ as in sound, service, messy and grass; for /'y/ no close sound equivalent exists in English, a guttural sound in the back of the throat - /a-a-a-ah/ raising the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled.

Related Strah: Ayat — occurs as Inn-Allah-a Wasi'y-un 'Alim in Q.02:115, 247, 261, 268; 03:73; 05:54; 24:32; and Inna Rabb-ak-a Wasi'y Al-Maghfirah in Q.53:32.

Approximate Meaning: The Absolute Vast. The All-Embracing. The Omnipresent. The Boundless. The Infinite. The Comprehending. Al-Wasi'y refers to expansiveness. Sometimes expansiveness is related to knowledge, as it is extensive and embraces a great number of things that are known or less known. At other times it is related to unlimited bounty, grace and blessings. If one would like to contemplate Allah's knowledge, the seas would be depleted if they were used as ink for writing of His Names/Knowledge - Q. 31:27.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: If repeatedly recited for a few times, continuously for several days, one shall be bestowed with abundance in lawful sustenance.

Title: The Qur'an — Final Testament - uses a large number of Names/Attributes

Size: 289,733 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

The Qur'an — Final Testament - uses a large number of Names/Attributes for Allah which indicates continuity of the Divine Names/Attributes from the Towrat and the Injil. It makes an explicit reference to these Names/Attributes as 'Al-Asma al-Husna' — The Names, The Uniquely Beautiful - on four occasions:

* Q.07:180 —To Allah belongs The Names, The Uniquely Beautiful; so call Him by them.

* Q.17:110 - Call upon Him either by The Name of Allah, or by The Name of Al-Rahman; by whichever Name you call upon Him, for His are The Names, The Uniquely Beautiful;

* Q.20:08 - To Him alone belongs The Names, The Uniquely Beautiful.

* Q.59:24 — For Him are The Names, The Uniquely Beautiful.

The Names/Attributes portray expositions about the Divine Essence rather than doctrinal expositions concerning the nature of Allah — the One God. The Prophet Muhammad, Allah bless him always, is reported to have stated: 'Allah created man in His Own Image.' Mohyuddin Ibn Al-'Arabr (b.1165) takes it further that *....upon the Form of Allah, so he (man) was also created upon the Form of Other Names — that is why Q.02:30 mentions that Allah taught Adam "All The Names.' Hence, man displays an indefinite variety of divine aspects.'

The Hadith literature adds the expression of 'Al-Sifat al-'Ulya' - The Exalted Attributes - to the Qur'anic title of 'Al-Asma al-Husna.' While the Qur'an does not explicitly use the phrase '99 Names of Allah', it is the Prophet, Allah bless him always, who is reported to have said: "There are 99 Names of Allah; one hundred minus one. Whoever enumerates them (or commits to memory) would get into Paradise.' Reported by Al-Bokhari in [70]6410.

Four of the 99 Blessed Names have a special significance in the sense that 4 of the 114 Surahs of The Qur'adn are named after them: Al-Nir (24), Fatir (35), Ghafir (40) and Al-Rahman (55). The Muslim Opening Prayer of every Salat is embedded with a Two-Word Phrase addressed to

Al-Mayzid Jala Falaluh

| 102

Pronunciation: Al-Majid. Al-Majeed; /j/ as in jam, jack and age; and /i/ as /long e/ as in eat, beef, seen and see.

Related Strah: Ayat — occurs as Inna-Hu Hamid-um-Majid-un in Q.11:73; and as Dhil-‘Arsh-il-Majid-o in Q.85:15, etc.

A variant with same root occurs as Al-Majid in Q.11:73.

Approximate Meaning: The Glorious. The Majestic. The Sublime. Allah is Al-Majid as He is noble in its essence, beautiful in its acts, and generous in its bounties. Even as nobility of essence is joined with goodness in deeds is ‘glory’ so that Allah is called The Glorious, as well as Al-Majid (The Noble) where the latter is a more intense form of the verb. Al-Majid (The Glorious) appears to combine the meaning of Al-Jalil (The Majestic), Al-Wahhab (The Bestower), and Al-Karim (The Generous).

Related Strah: Ayah—occurs as Imperfect Tense: Yab'athu, meaning 'he is raised up/resurrected,' in Q.22:07. Al-Ba'ith is listed as a Divine Attribute by Al-Tirmidhi 3508.

Approximate Meaning: The Resurrector. The One who gives life to all dead during the Time of Resurrection. The One who brings the dead back to life. The Resurrector is Allah's quality, Al-Ba'ith, of raising up those in the grave, and bring forward their actions, thoughts, and feelings that they encountered in their lifetime. Human beings shall die the way they lived, and they shall be resurrected the way they die. Whatever they plant by way of their behavior, conduct and actions in this life, they will reap the reward — jannah or jahannam - in the Life after this life.

Allah: 'Wa Tabara-ka-smuka,' i.e. And Full of Blessings is Your Name. Q.67:01, etc. state 'Tabaraka Alladhi,' i.e. Blessed is He. Again Q.23:14 asserts 'Fa-Tabarak Allah' — Blessed is Allah. Thus, whatever Name He may have given to Himself has its own blessings uniquely - both spiritual and material, bounty, luminosity and healing power to the one who recites it with faith, repeatedly and regularly over time.

The Attributes - as adjectives, word constructs, or derivatives from Arabic infinitive verbal noun are thematic in content and manifestation and their occurrence in the Qur'an varies from one time to as many as more than one hundred times. However, not every verb can be considered a Divine Name/Attribute. In form, however, every Name/Attribute is a masculine singular.

They appear in 86 of 114 Strahs. The initial Sirahs contain a major occurrence of almost all of them. They occur solo as Al-Samad, Al-Wahhab, Al-Ghaniyye, etc; while those in pairs — 59 — add a different dimension to the mosaic, like Al-Rahman Al-Rahim (pronounced as Ar-Rahmaan-ira-Raheem), Al-Tawwab Al-Rahim (pronounced as At-Tawwaab-ur-Raheem) and Al-Hayy Al-Qayyum (pronounced as Al-Hayy-ul-Qayyum), etc., three, four, five and more appear together with much lesser frequency. Q.59:22-24 contains 17 of them in one place.

Some of 'The 99 Names' do not occur literally in the Qur'an like, for instance, Al-Qabidz, Al-Basit, Al-Rafi'y, Al-Mo'izz and Al-Mu'akhkhir, etc. Hence the list is liable to contain some variants. Each of 'The 99 Names and Attributes listed in this book is in the order that it is enumerated in the related Hadith. With every Name/Attribute the expression of 'Jalla Jalaluh' is added to signify Allah's Majesty and Exaltation, where in case of 'Jallah', first letter 'J' is assimilated with second letter 'l' to indicate the doubling of its sound in pronunciation with stress on its accent - Shadd.

The Prophet, Allah bless him always, advised his companions to keep their hearts illuminated with the Dhikr, i.e. Devotional Remembrance of Allah. And one way to do so is by repeatedly reciting 'The 99 Names' while sitting in seclusion, as it is in this Remembrance that the believers' hearts would find inner peace, solace and satisfaction — Q.13:28. Thus the Dhikr of 'The 99 Names' is one of the most diligent devotions as it illuminates one's heart, thereby leading to fulfill the requisites of Faith,

Al-Qatwi' VPP gata Fatatus

Pronunciation: Al-Qawt 'yy. Al-Qawee with stress in accent on letter /y/ to signify Shadd which indicates the doubling of the letter's sound in pronunciation. Sound of /Q/ may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'. /l/ as /long e/ as in eat, beef and see.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs in combination with Al-'Aziz as Al-Qawi 'yy Al-'Aziz in Q.11:66, 22:40,74; 42:19; as Qawi 'yy-un Aziz-un in Q.58:21; as Qawi 'yy-an Aziz-an in Q.33:25; and as Qawi 'yy-un Shadid-ul 'Eqab in Q.40:22.

With the same root also occurs as Dhiil Quwwat-ul-Matin, where Dhiil Quwwat means 'The Owner of Power and Strength' in Q.51:58.

Approximate Meaning: The Extremely Powerful. The Possessor of All Strength. Allah is Al-Qawt 'yy because He has the power and strength that is unlimited and unconditional as He creates millions of galaxies with the same ease as millions of bees.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who cannot fight an adversary and repeats this epithet several times with the intention of not being harmed shall be free from harm. It also helps healing muscular pains and thymus gland.

Pronunciation: Al-Matin. Al-Mateen where /t/ is softer as /t/ in Italian 'dental.' /i/ as /long e/ as in eat, beef, seen and see.

Related Siirah:Ayat — occurs as Al-Razzaq Dhil-Quwwat-ul-Matin in Q.51:58. Occurance of matin in Q.07:183 is not a reference to the Divine Attribute.

Approximate Meaning: The Forceful. The Staunchly Firm and Strong. The Unshakable. Allah is Al-Matin as He embodies perfection of unlimited and unconditional power with which He continues the creation, protects the creatures, and guides them. Nothing can be saved from this strength whether it is His Compassion, His vengeance or anger and wrath.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: If repeatedly read/recited for several times shall cause a person relief from troubles.

Al-Hamid Jala Fataluh

Pronunciation: Al-Hamid. Al-Hameed; /H/ is a harsher sound than the English initial /H/, and may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /l/ signifies /long e/ as in eat, beef and see.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs in combinations as Al-Ghani'yy Al-Hamid in Q.22:64; 31:26; 35:15; 57:24; Al-'Aziz Al-Hamid in Q.14:01; 34:06; 85:08; Al-Wali'yy Al-Hamid in Q.42:28; Ghani' yy-un Hamid in Q.02:267; 04:131; 14:08; 31:12; Hakim-in-Hamid in Q.41:42; and, Hamid-um-Majid in Q.11:73.

Approximate Meaning: The Laudable. The Embodiment of Good. The One to Whom All Praise is due. Allah is Al-Hamid by virtue of His praising Himself from eternity, and by virtue of human beings' praising Him to infinity. This fact of Allah being praised stems from His Attributes of Majesty, Exaltation, Perfection, and from the point of view of those who make mention of Him by remembering and reciting His Uniquely Beautiful Names and Attributes.

Size: 328,000 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

which entitles The Faithful to hope for Allah's Mercy and Compassion in this life, and Success in the Life After This Life.

The Qur'an directs The Faithful to invoke and solicit the Blessings of Allah by His Names — Q.07:180. Thus, as a part of the social etiquette and mannerism the Muslims recite 'Bi-Isim-Allah,' pronounced as 'Bismillah,' meaning 'With the Name of Allah, before starting any act of worship, work, ceremony, social gathering, or taking meals/drinks, etc.

Interestingly, each of the 28 letters of Arabic alphabet carries a numerical value; e.g. its first letter 'Alif' has 01, second letter 'Ba' has 02, and so forth. Based on this premise, '786' is the most popular numerical equivalent for 'Bismillah' among The Faithful. Thus, carrying the thread forward, each of the Divine Name/Attribute also has its own numerical equivalent, which is stated at the bottom of each epithet for the benefit of those who may wish to benefit.

'The Divine 99' are normally recited in a state of physical and spiritual purity as part of the Dhikr and making a plea to Allah. Hence, the expression 'Ya' appears as prefix to the Name; e.g. Ya Allah, Ya Rahman, etc. where 'Ya' means O' - as an address to the addressee. For purposes of pronunciation, see Transliteration, Transcription and Sound Equivalents at Page 260.

This book comprises three sections. Section 1 presents all the Single 99 Attributes as they appear in the Qur'an and Hadith literature. Section 2 presents those of The Attributes that appear in pairs — The Composite Attributes. These are neither plurals nor morakkab. In both sections the Names/Attributes are presented in Arabic with transliteration and pronunciation; references either to Sirah:Ayah/Statement or source of Hadith appear below each. Meanings and Blessings of the Names/Attributes, both spiritual and material, are also briefly stated which have been adapted from some of the literature mentioned in Bibliography. The blessings may shower on those who believe that Allah's Holy Names and Majestic Attributes are the fountainhead of barakat. Section 3 presents a Glimpse of Images of Divine Fragrance as it glows up in various Ayat.

Great care has been exercised in transliterating the Arabic Names/Attributes as also relating the Sirah numbers with those of Ayat/

Title: Al-Mubdi Falla Fatatuh

Size: 232,747 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Mubdi Falla Fatatuh

[122

Pronunciation: Al-Mubdi. Al-Mubdee where /d/ is softer like /d/ in the Italian 'dental'. /l/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in eat, beef, seen and see.

Related Sirah: Ayat — derived from Yabd'ao (Imperfect Tense Almudzar'i', meaning 'He originates') as it occurs in Q.10:34; 27:64; and Ma Yubdi'o (again a Imperfect Tense Almudzar'i', meaning 'originates') in Q.29:19; 85:13; etc. Al-Mubdi is listed as a Divine Attribute by Al-Tirmidhi 3508.

Approximate Meaning: The One from whom everything originates. The One who causes the beginning of everything. He who creates existence out of nothing. The meaning of Allah's qualities of Al-Mubdi — The Beginner and Al-Mu'id - The Restorer is to bring another into being. When this bringing into being has no precedent in terms of an act similar to it, it is called a beginning. If there is a precedent in terms of an act similar to it, it is called a restoration - Mu'id. Allah began the creation of human and jinn, and it is He would also restore them. All things first originated from Him, and, then are restored to Him.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating it a few times every day on the expectant mother - who may be afraid of losing the baby via still-birth or abortion, shall cause her to be relieved of the apprehension, and blessed with a baby.

Statements. Nevertheless, it is quite probable that some inaccuracies may have crept in as part of human weakness, or I may have overlooked a point out of ignorance. I should appreciate if such errors and omissions are advised via hashemibadr@gmail.com

The Divine 99 Names are in Arabic. These have been presented in this book as in their written form; not as in their spoken form. The two forms have a subtle difference which has been taken care of by adding a sub-title "Pronunciation."

The spirit, the beauty, the eloquence, the depth and the comprehensiveness of these Arabic Divine 99 Names can never be captured by any other language. Translations can be dull and convey the apparent meaning but remain devoid of the true spirit and divine sanctity. Strongly mindful of these limitations and my inadequacies, I have suggested a range of Approximate Meanings, and supplemented translations with extended wording by way of paraphrasing, wherever necessary.

This work is not entirely mine. My wife Shahida and sister Apa Bushra, both educationists, provided extensive research support for over a year. The devotional artwork was created by Nayyer, talented wife of my friend, Prof. Ehsan Rashid, former Vice Chancellor of Karachi University. I am deeply indebted to Shahida, Apa Bushra and Mme Nayyer.

I owe special thanks to the Islamic Research Institute, International Islamic University, Islamabad, for consenting me to use the Arabic Calligraphy from one its publications, titled: To God Belong The Names Most Beautiful.

My audience is an educated reader, not a scholar with partisan inclination. Thus, the text has been purposely kept simple without using jargon of theology and going in to the depth and expense of explaining the varying patterns of the Divine Attributes in the perspective of the circumstances during the time of their respective revelations.

I seek Allah Jalla Jalaluhu's guidance to accomplish a faithful translation, transliteration, transcription and transmission of His Majestic Names and Exalted Attributes embedded with true devotional spirit. May Jalla Jalaluhu grant acceptance to this humble endeavor dedicated with awe and humility to His Name: The Greatest Name, Al-Isim Al-'Azam. Amin.

Title: QI-Samad Falla Fataluh

Size: 177,092 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

QI-Samad Falla Fataluh

[142

Pronunciation: As-Samad with stress in accent on letter /s/ to signify “Shadd’, i.e. doubling and assimilating the letter’s sound. While /S/ has no close sound equivalent in English, it may be approximated by pronouncing it as /sw/ or /s/ farther back in the mouth, with a hissing sound as in ‘bus’.

Related Sirah:Ayah — occurs only once as Allah-u-Samad in Q.112:02.

Approximate Meaning: The Besought. The Uncaused Cause of All Being. The Eternal. Free from want, desires and needs. The Perpetual. The Absolute. Allah’s quality of Al-Samad is the one to whom we turn for our needs, and the one who satisfies them. He is the only recourse, support, and response to our needs and our pain.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who keep repeating ‘Ya Allah Ya Samad’ every day, days in and days out, Allah shall take care of that person’s worldly needs. When read/recited 111 times it shields against tyrants, workplace problems and mundane worries.

Title: Al-Randir Jalla Falaluh

Size: 236,870 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Randir Jalla Falaluh

[144

Pronunciation: Al-Qadir. Al-Qaadir where /Q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'. /a/ is pronounced as /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake); and /d/ is softer as in Italian 'dental'.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs as Huw-al-Qadir in Q.06:65; as Qadir in Q.17:99; 75:40; 86:08. Occurs as Qadirin-a in Q.75:04, and as Qadirin-a in Q.77:23.

Also occurs as a variant — Qadir (Active Particle on the measure of Fa'il, meaning 'Possessor of Power' but signifying the same possessing power of ability as Qadir; Qadir has an intensive significance) in Q.02:20,106,109,148,259,284; 03:26,29,89; 04:133,149; 05:120; 06:17; 08:41; 09:39; 11:04; 15:70,77; 22:06,39; 24:45; 29:20; 30:50; 33:27; 35:44; 41:39; 42:09,29,50; 46:33; 48:21; 57:02; 59:06; 64:01; 65:13; 66:08; 67:01.

Another variant is Muqtadir (Active Particle, meaning 'All Powerful') in Q.18:45; 54:42; 54:55.

Approximate Meaning: The Omnipotent. The Possessor of Power. The Powerful. The One Who Rules Supreme.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who recites "Ya Allah Ya Qadir" 41 times, almost every day over weeks, shall have his/her wishes come true. It leads to strengthening of the body and soul and protection from the mischief of non-well-wishers.

Title: Al-Mugtadir Falla Jalaluh

Size: 228,741 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Mugtadir Falla Jalaluh

| 146

Pronunciation: Al-Mugtadir where /q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'. /t/ is softer as in Italian 'dental.'

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs as Muqtadir in Q.18:45; 54:42; 54:55.

Variants of the same root include: Qadir (Q.17:99; 75:40; 86:08) and Qadir (Q.02:20; 03:26,29,89; 04:133,149; etc.

Approximate Meaning: The Absolute in Power. The Creator of All Power. The Respected. The Determiner. The Dominant. Allah not only creates all power but controls it too. Through this control, He creates what He Wills. If He Wills, He can strengthen the weak, and, weaken the strong. Allah strengthens those who seek His obedience and follow His commands by giving them wisdom, patience, and perseverance, and weakens those who follow their ego by increasing their ambition and self-conceitedness.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating "Ya Allah Ya Muqtadir" 21 times in the morning causes alertness of the mind and body, develops awareness of the truth, successful completion of one's assignments, and heart ceases to be as negligent as it might otherwise be. One should stay mindful of the fact that whatever happens in this world is by the Will of Allah.

Title: Al-fMugaddim Falla Jalaluh

Size: 193,787 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-fMugaddim Falla Jalaluh

| 148

Pronunciation: Al-Mugaddim with stress in accent on letter /d/ that indicates the doubling and assimilating the letter's sound in pronunciation. /d/ is softer as in Italian 'dental.' /q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'.

Related Sirah:Ayat — derived from the expression Yastaqdimin, meaning 'they go ahead,' which occurs as Imperfect Tense (Almudzar'i') in Q.16:61. Al-Mugaddim is listed as a Divine Attribute by Al-Tirmidhi 3508.

Approximate Meaning: Al-Muqaddim is the opposite of Al-Mu'akhkhir. The Expediter.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Fear of being alone and lonely in an awe-inspiring place shall convert to comfort by repeatedly saying "Ya Allah Ya Muqaddim-o Ya Mu'akhkhir-o'. It brings protection from major personal crises when repeated 184 times besides blessing one with renewal of faith. Allah elevates the one who submits to Him in totality.

Size: 221,128 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Allah (swt) are embedded. He has further facilitated by providing the closest English equivalent of those characteristics unique to the Almighty (swt). In places, his references to the Qur'anic Ayat are much beyond comprehensive; it is closer to being voluminous, which attests to his understanding of Allah's Word in the Qur'an.

Brother Badr has produced such a unique encapsulated information in such a small space where my personal interest was aroused by the special values that the book brings with it in its terse textual, well organized material on the significance of these Names/Attributes that relate to the Absolute authority and ownership of what happened, happens, and will happen to His creation in this physical, temporal world, and more importantly so in the Life after this life.

This aspect of my appetite was succinctly and authoritatively whetted and satiated the way Brother Hashemi has presented his erudite argument. His contribution has been greatly beneficial to my understanding, and I trust to yours too, for which I thank him. Let us pray for his success both here, in this world, and in the Hereafter, inshaAllah. May Allah (swt) grant acceptance to this contribution. Amin.

Pronunciation: Al-Akhir. Al-Aakhir; /kh/ is pronounced as /ch/ in 'Bach' in German, and 'Loch' in Scottish, but rougher; sound is produced by bringing the tongue in to the position of /k/ as in 'key' while pronouncing a strong rasping /h/. /A/ is pronounced as longer /a/ as in cab, not as in cake.

Related Strah:Ayah - occurs only one time with other Divine Attributes as Huw-Al-Awwal-o wal-Akhir-o wal-Zahir-o wal-Batin-o in Q.57:03.

Approximate Meaning: The Last. The Eternal. The One who will remain after everyone and everything else will not remain. Al-Akhir is the opposite of Al-Awwal. To Allah is the ultimate return upon death/the resurrection, last of all; and from Allah is the beginning, first of all, when nothing existed.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating 'Ya Allah Ya Akhiro' several times every day over days shall ensure a person a good life and a good death. Senior citizens should make it a habit to recite this epithet for as many times a day as possible to facilitate transfer to a new dimension of existence prior to peaceful Life after this life.

Pronunciation: Al-Zahir. Az-Zaahir with stress in accent on letter /z/ which may be approximated by pronouncing /th/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated palatal /z/. /A/ is pronounced as /longer a/ as in cab, not as in cake.

Related Strah: Ayah - occurs one time with other Divine Attributes as Al-Awwal-o wal-Akhiro wal-Zahir-o wal-Batin-o in Q.57:03.

Approximate Meaning: The Manifest. The Outward. The Evident (i.e. His Existence is Evident in the effects of His activity, whereas He Himself is not perceptible to human senses). The Manifest and The Hidden are two divine qualities that are relative. A thing is manifest to some and hidden from others depending upon one's ability to see and realize. For those who seek Allah by means of their senses or imagination, Allah is The Hidden; but those who seek to know Allah through inference with their powers of reason find Him, The Manifest.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: In case a person repeats this epithet 15 times after every Friday Congregational Prayers (al-Jumu'ah) over weeks, Allah shall bless him/her with safety from troubles, inner peace and solace and, above all, gain trust of others. It helps in healing problems related to nerves of the eye.

FAl-Waali Jalla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Wali. Al-Waalee where /w/ is pronounced as in wet, wait and wheel; /a/ is pronounced as /longer a/ as in cab, not as in cake.

Related Siirah: Ayat — occurs as Wa-Allah-o Walliyy-ul-Muttaqin in Q.45:19; Huw-Al-Walliyy-u in Q.42:09; and as Wa Ma Lahum Min Din-i-Allah-i Wal in Q.13:11, which is Active Particle (Ma'ritf) combining function of an adjective and a verb (Sifat Fe'liyya).

Three variants of the same root occur as Al-Wali, Walliyy and Wal.

Approximate Meaning: The Defender. The Protector. The Patron. The Governor. In a broader perspective, the meaning may have three dimensions: (i) Allah is the only Planner of all creation; (ii) He is responsible for and empowered with the ability to actually bring into existence everything that was planned; and, (iii) He is in charge of the creation by perpetual and continuous actions of all things that were planned and affected. The whole of creation is under the governorship of Allah from before its existence to its extinction before re-creation in a new form of existence. He only says, "Be! And it is (comes to be)." Everything that is created is organized, grows and develops, and then dies and disappears till the Time of The Resurrection, when all human and jinn will be brought back to life into a new dimension of existence.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: It protects the reader and an asset/object from calamities and dangers when read/recited repeatedly over it.

Pronunciation: Al-Barr with stress in accent on letter /r/ which indicates Shadd, i.e. the doubling and assimilating the letter's sound in pronunciation.

Related Strah:Ayah — occurs only once as Inna-Hu Huw-Al-Barr-ur-Rahim in Q.52:28.

Approximate Meaning: The Source of all Goodness. The Great Benefactor. The Righteous. The Beneficent One. The Benign. These are all the qualities of The One Who is The Merciful, and Who loves good ('al-barr') for His servants. If He chooses to punish, the punishment never goes beyond the misdeed committed, while His rewards are ten times greater for a good deed than the deed itself. As The Source of All Goodness, He rewards good intentions even if these are not carried out.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Reciting it several times a day for a number of days shall cause one protection from untoward events. Repeating it for 700 times enables one to overcome one's sinful life.

Title: Al-Tatwtwab gous gatas

Size: 223,422 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Tatwtwab gous gatas

| 166

Pronunciation: Al-Tawwab. At-Tawwab with stress in accent on letters /t/ and /w/; stress in accent indicates the doubling and assimilating the letters' sound, i.e. Shadd. /t/ is pronounced softer as 'dental' in Italian.

Related Surah: Ayat — occurs as Inna-Hu Kana Tawwab-a (Intensive Form indicating increased emphasis; Ism Mubalighah) in Q.110:03; and in combination with Al-Rahim as Al-Tawwab-o Al-Rahim in Q.02:37,54,128,160; 09:104,118; as Tawwab-un-Rahim-a in Q.04:16,64; 49:12; and as Tawwab-un-Hakim-un in Q.24:10.

Approximate Meaning: The Acceptor of Repentance. The Grantor of Forgiveness. The One who turns to humans with favor. The Ever Relenting. Oft-Returning with Compassion. In perspective, Al-Tawwab implies that He continues to accept repentance from His creatures, both human and jinn, time and again. And it shows them Allah's warnings with the intent that having been made aware of the dangers of their sinful disobedience, they might be filled with fear of Allah, and, thus, turn to Him in repentance, and, thereby favors start reverting to them once again - Q. 39:16.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who repeats "Ya Allah Ya Tawwab" many times every day shall have divine intercession and repentance accepted by Allah. It also helps in disciplining one's mind and reforms one's social and ethical behavior.

Pronunciation: Al-‘Afti. Al-‘Afoou with stress in accent on letter /a/ indicates the doubling and assimilating the letter’s sound in pronunciation. /‘A/ has no close sound equivalent in English, it may resemble a guttural sound in the back of the throat - /a-a-a-ah/ by raising the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs as Inn-Allah-a Kana ‘Afui-wan Ghafur-a in Q.04:43,99; 22:60; and as Inn-Allah-a Kana ‘A fuii-wan Qadir-a in Q.04:149.

Approximate Meaning: The All Pardoning. The Effacer. The Absolver of Sins. Al-‘Aftii is the opposite of Al-Muntaqim. This epithet approximates the sense of The Forgiver, though the former is more far-reaching than the latter. For the Effacer of Faults indicates an overlooking of sin whereas The All Pardoning indicates an erasing.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: In pursuit of seeking Allah’s forgiveness and consequent blessings by entry to heaven, it should be repeatedly uttered almost regularly every day.

Pronunciation: Al-Mugsit; where /q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'; /t/ may be approximated by pronouncing /t/ farther back in the mouth, a little thicker pronunciation as for 'tumble.' /s/ as in sound, service and grass.

Related Sirah:Ayah — based on Qa'iman Bil-Qist in Q.03:18; and as Qul Amara Rabbi Bil-Qist in Q.07:29, Al-Mugsit is listed as a Divine Attribute by Al-Tirmidhi and Ibn-Majah.

Approximate Meaning: The Upholder of Equity and Justice. He acts to grant justice to those who are wronged from those who are doing wrong. Its perfection lies in linking not only the satisfaction of the one wronged but also the satisfaction of the one who did wrong. That is the ultimate of justice and equity.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: A person is blessed with protection from the evil in all forms whether emanating from human soul, social environment and/or imperceptibles - when read/recited 100 times every day, over days and weeks.

Pronunciation: Al-Jaami'y; /j/ is pronounced as in jam, jack and age; /i/ as /long e/ as in eat, beef, seen and see; /'y/ has no close sound equivalent in English, a guttural sound in the back of the throat - /a-a-a-ah/ raising the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled.

Related Strah: Ayat — occurs as Rabbana Innaka Jami' y-un-Nas in Q.03:09; and in combination with Allah as Inn-Allah-a Jami'y-al-Munafigin in Q.04:140.

Approximate Meaning: The Assembler. The One who gathers and brings together. In a broader perspective, it may also mean: (i) bringing together the human race on this earth and gathering them in the realm of The Resurrection; (ii) bringing together the heavens, the stars, the air, the earth, the seas, the animals, the plants, and the minerals; (iii) bringing together bones, nerves, veins, muscles, brains, skin, blood and the rest of the components in the body; and, (iv) bringing together things opposed to each other like heat and cold, moisture and dryness, etc.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Reciting it 142 times after Friday Congregation Prayers (al-Jumu'ah) shall cause one contentment and recovery of lost/misplaced objects. It would make one's heart free from malice/hatred for other human beings except in case of those situations where love for Allah's obedience and love for His Prophet Muhammad's obedience is challenged.

The Single Attributes

This Section comprises the Names/Attributes that occur as Single or in combination with other(s) in The Qur'an. The ones occurring in pairs have been split and counted as Singles on the premise that it is the Singles that have been conventionally enumerated as "The 99." The serialization of these from 01 to 14 in this Section follows the sequence as it appears in Q.59:22-24. The remaining have been cherry-picked as they appear in most of the 114 Sirah. In total there are 72 Names/Attributes that are directly mentioned; these are marked in green, e.g. Al-Rahman.

Thus to complete the conventional number of 99, 27 comprise such epithets which are either word constructs, or derivatives from Arabic infinitive verbal noun/nomen verbi mentioned in The Qur'an, and/or the Hadith literature. These 27 are marked in blue e.g. Al-Muhsi. It may, however, be mentioned that the specific Hadith which contains the list of 99 epithets was recorded by Al-Tirmidhi, Ibn Majah and Abi Dawid. This Hadith is considered weak by Al-Tirmidhi himself and others including Al-Bayhaqi, Ibn Hazim, Ibn Taymiya, Ibn Kathir, Ibn Hajr, Ibn Baz and Al-Albant, etc. Nevertheless, given that the Prophet, Allah bless him always, did say that there are 99 Divine Names, the classical and contemporary scholars take a lenient stance on the report by Al-Tirmidhi.

The Divine Attribute of 'Al-Wadiid'— Q.85:14 and Q. 11:90 — meaning 'loving' is articulately balanced by its counterpoint in Q.05:54, depicting Divine Love answered by human love: 'He loves them as they love Him.

The Attributes of 'Al-Barr — The Maker (Q.02:54; 59:24), 'Al-Badi'y' — The Originator (Q.02:117; 06:101), 'Al-Musawwir' — The Shaper

Title: of Forms and Appearances (Q.59:24), 'Al-Khaliq' — The Creator

Size: 267,123 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

of Forms and Appearances (Q.59:24), 'Al-Khaliq' — The Creator (Q.13:16), and 'Al-Khallaq' — The One Who is Constantly Creating (Q.36:81) frequently describe Allah's Creative Power. Allah creates whatever He Wills — Q.03:47; 05:17; 24:45; 28:68; 30:54; 39:04; 42:49 — and gives existence to all existence by the Command 'Be! And it is' — Q.02:117; 03:47, 59; 06:73; 16:40; 19:35; 36:82; 40:68.

While researching through The Qur'an there appear to be numerous instances which offer a very clear expression of a Divine Attribute, but are not included in the conventional enumeration. One conspicuous example is of 'Rabb' - with stress in accent on letter 'b'. It occurs 969 times and is only second to the occurrence of Allah which is 2697 times. It is this very Attribute with which Allah introduced Himself to Moses" in Sinai: 'I am Allah. Rabb of the Universe' — Q.28:30. And it is the same Attribute with which the First Divine Revelation descended upon Muhammad") in Hira': 'Recite with The Name of your Rabb'— Q.96:01. The Author of The Qur'an, Allah, opens its First Chapter with: "All Praise and Gratitude is for Rabb of the Universe' —Q.01:01. Illustration below shows the linkages of 'Rabb' with other Divine Attributes.

Gl-Nur Jalla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Nir. An-Noor with stress in accent on letter /n/ indicates the doubling and assimilating of the letter's sound in pronunciation. /ii/ is pronounced as /long u/, as in boot and food.

Related Sirah: Ayah—occurs only once as Allah-u Nir-us-Samawat-i wal-Ardz in Q.24:35. All other 45 occurrences of 'niir' relate to non-divine contexts.

Approximate Meaning: The Light. The Radiant. The Light is Allah's quality of being the visible by means of which everything is made visible. When existence is contrasted with non-existence, it becomes obvious that visibility pertains to existence, and that there is no darkness darker than non-existence. Existence is a light which flows freely upon all things from The Light of Allah's Essence. Therefore, Allah is The Light of the heavens and the earth — Q.24:35. Just as there is not a particle of the light of the sun which does not point to the existence of the illuminating sun, so is there not a particle of the existence which does not, by the mere possibility of its existence, point to the necessary existence of its Creator.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Those who read/recite "Ya Allah Ya Nir" 1,001 times every morning, days in and days out, shall be blessed with spiritual enlightenment. Mystics normally repeat this Name 256 times every Friday. Its recitation also helps in healing eye related ailments and cardiac problems.

Title: The Attribute of ‘Rabb’ is particularly significant as it conveys
Size: 276,404 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

The Attribute of ‘Rabb’ is particularly significant as it conveys the basic functional Divine Concept which not only comprise the fostering, upbringing and nourishing His Creation but also regulating, completing, accomplishing, sustaining and perfection of the existence of His Creation. It also means Originator of things and their Combiner to create new forms. The lexicons of Arabic language speak of all of them, and more, when they give the detailed meaning of the root ‘Rabb.’

It is open to discussion whether some or all of these epithets may be considered either to supplement or to replace ‘The 27’ that do not directly appear in The Qur’an. The additional ‘identified’ Attributes have been listed with reference to specific Sirah:Ayah/Ayat in the later part of this Section, titled ‘The 99 Plus.’ While referencing to Stirah:Ayah, the first number denotes the Sarah, the second number denotes the Ayah; thus, 02:20 would mean Second Sirah and Twenth Ayah.

The adjectives — Al-Asma Al-Sifat - used for portraying the Divine Attributes are not exclusive. There are several instances in The Qur’an where these have also been used for non-divine entities and purposes. Consider the Arabic Expressions in red letters below where the whole Ayah has been reproduced for benefit of contextual reference and

The Composite Attributes

Almost all of the Divine Attributes marked in green in Section -1 appear in an equal number of Pairs like Al-Rahman Al-Rahim, phrased here as Composite Attributes, but are not Asma al-Morakkab. These Attributes carry a pre-fix ‘al’ to make a common noun to a proper noun; as also does “‘tanwin’ on a common noun to make it a proper noun.

Tanwin is also referred to as Nunation where the signs of short vowels are doubled, and are pronounced with the addition of the sound of ‘an’ (as in gun), ‘in’ (as in fin), or ‘un’ (as in sun) which takes place only at the end of a vowel, and is shown as a syllable in writing as part of the word. Q.03:34 states the Attribute of Sami-un ‘Alim-un, where ‘un’ is tanwin/nunation; and Q.03:35 closes with Al-Sam7’ Al-‘Alim, with ‘al’ pre-fix, both conveying the same meaning.

This Section considers all the 59 Composite Attributes both with a pre-fix of ‘al’ as well as with tanwin/nunation. 16 of these are common to both. It restricts translation and paraphrasing of The Composite Attributes to one Ayah.

It would be unusual for The Composite Attribute to appear in the beginning or middle of the Ayah as Q.20:114; their appearance is usual at the closing of the Ayah/Ayat. The Pairs repeat themselves in various permutations and combinations. These occurrences are linked with each other like honey-comb [Illustration on Pages 220-222]. Within the Pairs, Al-‘Aziz Al-Hakim ranks highest, followed by Al-‘Aziz Al-Rahim and Al-Sam7’ Al-‘Alim, and so forth.

The repeated variations of The Composite and Single Attributes throughout The Qur’an and The Composites in this Section are meant to stress the moral odiousness and intellectual futility of attributing Divine Qualities to any entity, real or myth, human or jinn, spirit or saint, other than Allah — The One God - Q.07:180.

Allah Jalla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Allah; Allaah with stress in accent on letter /l/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation.

Occurrence: 2,697 times in The Qur'an. Q.20:14 stresses: "Surely, I am Allah. There is no entity worthy of worship and reverence except Me. Worship Me alone. And keep up your prayers for My Remembrance." Allah and Elah are two different expressions. The former is not a contraction of the later Al-Elah. Elah occurring 147 times in the Qur'an has been used sometimes meaning Allah, the One God, like Allah-o Elahuw-Wahid in Q.04:171; 22:34; Elahukum Elahuw-Wahid in Q.02:163; and Huwalla-dhi Fis-Sama-i Elah wa fil-Ardz-i Elah in Q.43:84, etc. However, most of the times it occurs in negation of more than One God, Allah, e.g. La Elaha; La Elaha [la-Allah; La Tattakhidhi Elahain. While Allah is Singular and has no plural; Aliha is the plural of Elah.

Approximate Meaning: The Greatest Proper Name for the Almighty. The One God, Singular, who does not have a gender, parents, siblings, spouse, daughters and/or sons. Allah is above and beyond all description; "There is nothing whatsoever like Him" - Q.42:11 and 112:04. Faith in Allah is the fulcrum of Islamic Monotheism and obedience to His Will is the focus of the Muslim way of life. This belief is called "Tawhid" and it constitutes the foremost article of the Islamic Profession of Faith. To attribute divinity to a created entity is the only unpardonable sin mentioned in The Qur'an — 04:48, 116.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Reciting "Ya Allah" 1,000 times daily will make one's heart free from all sorts of doubts, apprehensions and suspicions, and instill determination and faith. One suffering from incurable diseases should repeat this Name many a time, every day, then pray to Allah for healing, health and recovery.

Glimpses of The Majestic Image

The Divine Attribute of 'Al-Wadiid' - Q.11:90 and 85:14 - is articulately balanced by its counterpoint in Q.05:54, depicting Divine Love answered by human love: 'He loves them as they love Him.' A number of the Ayat declare stereotypically that Allah loves those men and women, young and old, who are:

o devoted to doing good/deeds of righteousness — Q.02:195; 03:134;

o put trust in Allah — The One God — Q.03:159;

o cleanse themselves of spiritual impurities and are repentant —Q.02:222;

o _ Allah-conscious and fear His disobedience — Q.03:76;

0 patient and steadfast in situations of adversity — Q.03:146; etc.

While Allah does not love:

corruption/the ones who are corrupt — Q02:205;

evildoing/the evildoers — Q.03:57;

aggression/the aggressors — Q.02:190;

disbelief/the disbelievers — Q.02:276; 03:32; etc.

ooo°o

These Divine Images are woven into the fabric of Ayat but are not considered in 'The Conventional 99'. Thus, this Section identifies 54 of the Ayat as they appear in progressive sequence with Divine Fragrance of these Majestic Images with necessary translation and paraphrasing for textual context.

Title: QI-Rahman Falla Fatatuh

Size: 294,448 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

QI-Rahman Falla Fatatuh

Pronunciation: Al-Rahman. Ar-Rahmaan with stress in accent on letter /t/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /h/ a harsher sound than the English initial /h/ may occur medially and in word-final position as well; it is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /A/ is pronounced as in /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake).

Related Sirah: Ayat— Occurs 57 times either as Al-Rahman or Rahman-un (Active Particle Noun) in Q.01:02;13:30;17:110;19:26,44,45,58,61, 69,75,78,85,88,91,92,96;20:05,90, 108,109; 21:26,36,42; 25:26; 36:52; 43:33; 50:33; 55:01; 67:19,29; 78:38; and in combination with other Divine Attributes as Al-Rahman Al-Rahim in Q.01:02, 02:163, 27:30, 41:02; 59:22; as Rabbuk-um Al-Rahman in Q.20:90; and as Rabb-un Al-Rahman-o Al-Musta'an in Q.21:112.

Q.17:110 reads as '... Invoke Allah or invoke Al-Rahman....'implies that Al-Rahman is also His Proper Name in addition to Allah, Jalla Jalaluh.

Also occurs as Arham-ur-Rahimin (where Arham means 'most compassionate') in Q.12:64, 92; 59:22; 41:02; and Khyr-ur-Rahimin (where Khyr means 'better') in Q.23:109,118; and Dhiir-Rahma (where Dhi is Demonstrative Pronoun) in Q.06:133; 18:58.

Approximate Meaning: The Lord of Infinite Mercy. The Dispenser of Grace. The Benevolent. The Beneficent. The Merciful to All. The Most Gracious.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: This Name is recited repeatedly to get rid of calamities and misfortunes. If recited 500 times after every Mandatory Prayer during the night-day cycle, one would be forgiven one's sinful offences; and, it would improve one's memory and make it intelligently alert. In case it is recited 100 times after the Early Morning Prayers, al-Fajr, it rids one of hard-heartedness towards others and softens the attitudes of others towards the one who recites.

Numerical Equivalent: 298.

| Epilogue

It was noted in the ‘Introduction’ that a report carried by both al-Bokhari and Muslim, on the authority of Abii Hurayrah, suggests that The Prophet, Allah bless him always, said: ‘There are 99 Names of Allah, one hundred minus one, whoever enumerates them would enter the Paradise.’ But The Prophet is neither reported to have specified nor elaborated The 99 Exalted Names.

It was observed in ‘Section 1’ that listing of the 99 Exalted Names/ Attributes, one by one, was a report carried by Tirmidi, Ibn Majah and Abii Dawid, but not by Bokhari and Muslim; and that this Hadith was considered weak even by Tirmidi himself, who was joined in his opinion by luminaries like al-Bayhaqi, Ibn Hazim, Ibn Taymiya, Ibn Kathir, Ibn Hajr, Ibn Baz and al-Bani, etc.

Thus it was concluded that while ‘The 99’ number is considered authentic by all and sundry, listing of specific Exalted Names/ Attributes, in varying versions, does not meet the standard of scrutiny, notwithstanding the fact that some of The Exalted Names/Attributes in every version do not match one another.

Moreover, actions associated with Allah, Exalted and Almighty, are numerous as illustrated in ‘Section 3’. For example, He removes evil, He hurls the truth, He will distinguish them, He is a Witness of Retribution, Receiver of Repentance, Forgiver of Sins, Merger of Night into Day, Merger of Day into Night, Bringer of Life from death, and Bringer of Death from Life, The Everlasting Essence, The Willer, The Thing, etc.

So if deriving ‘Names from Actions’ be permitted, then one may derive His Exalted Names/Attributes as: The Remover, The Hurler of Truth, The Distinguisher, The Cultivator, The Sower, The Thrower, The Humbling One, and The One Who Decrees; and such ‘Derived Names’ would be countless.

Size: 291,884 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

The Prophet, Allah bless him always, is reported to have said: 'What-ever distress or affliction that befalls a person, let him say:

BRO Se FOE) GIO GIS Sy Ab)

69 C859 iim she
O Allah!

I am Your servant, the son of Your servant, the son of Your she-servant, my Sorelock is in Your Hand, Your judgment concerning me is done.

I implore You by every Name which is Yours, by which You have Named Yourself, or which You have revealed in Your Book, or which You have taught to anyone from Your Creation, or which You have appropriated to Yourself in

Your Knowledge of hidden things, that You might make The Qur'an a source of renewal of my heart, a light for my inmost thoughts, a way through my affliction, and the unraveling of my distress.'

And, The Prophet, Allah bless him always, continued to say: 'And Allah, Exalted and Almighty, will remove his distress and affliction, and replace them with comfort and happiness.' See Ibn Hanbal 1.391, 456.

And, The Prophet's saying 'which You have appropriated to Yourself in Your Knowledge of hidden things,' and, thus has not informed us of these, shows that the Exalted Names/Attributes are not limited to any specific number or any known version.

Let's revert to the Hadith, authenticated by all and sundry, that "There are 99 Names of Allah, one hundred minus one, whoever enumerates them would enter the Paradise,' and taking the point further, if the Exalted Names/Attributes were to exceed '99' and one was to estimate, for example, that there were a thousand of such epithets, yet whoever enumerated '99' of them, would be entitled to the Paradise. The question may be raised as to why '99' has been singled out although all are the Names of Allah, Exalted and Almighty.

Exploring it further may suggest that it is quite possible that some of the Exalted Names may differ in excellence because their meanings differ in eminence and distinction, so that '99' of them will bring together a variety of meanings which tell of The Divine Majesty, which another set of meanings, would not be able to bring together, and so that one particular combination is possessed of greater eminence and distinction than the other.

It has been mentioned earlier in the book that Allah, Exalted and Almighty, has The Supreme Name — 'Al-Ism Al-A'zam' — which is neither explicitly mentioned in The Qur'an nor in the Hadith, although a lot of conjunctures have floated around since the seventh century AD. Nevertheless, it would be pertinent to examine whether 'Al-Ism Al-A'zam' is included in the known Exalted Names/Attributes; if it is, which one would it be; and if it is not, then, how can it be distinguished by greater dignity and yet be outside the Exalted Names?

It would not be unfair to argue that 'Al-Ism Al-A'zam' may not have been included in the listing carried by Tirmidi, Ibn Majah and Abii Dawid, yet it is also probable that it may be 'hidden' in one of the ones mentioned in The Qur'an, and listed under 'The 99 Plus', 'Section 2' and/or 'Section 3'. The Prophet, Allah bless him always, is reported in Tirmidi (5.517) to have said: The Supreme Name is in these two Ayat:

Q.02.Al-Baqarah:163

And you Allah is the One Allah: there is no entity worthy of worship except Him, The Infinitely Merciful to all,

The Ever-Compassionate to everyone.

Alif. Lam. Mim. Allah — there is no entity worthy of worship except Him, the Ever-Living, the Self-Subsistent.

It is reported by Ibn Majah that The Prophet, Allah bless him always, heard a man praying and making a plea: 'By Allah, I ask You that I may testify that You are Allah, and there is no entity worthy of worship except You, the Eternal One, Who is neither giving birth to anyone, nor being born of anyone, and there is no one equal or comparable to Him.'

So The Prophet said: 'By the One in Whose Hand is my soul, he has invoked Allah, The Most High, by His Supreme Name — the Name by which He answers when He is called upon with it, and gives when He is petitioned with it.'

The Prophet's quotation regarding '99' and specifying it as 'one hundred minus one' explains his point of view that 'Allah, Who is odd (One), loves what is odd.' This pertains to His Essence and His Divinity, and there is no restriction on their number and its principle. He does not make them '100' just because He loves what is odd; hence 99"

It is Allah, Exalted and Almighty, Who knows best what is right in such and all matters. It is also He, Who is The Source to which we ever return, time and again, for truth and guidance.

Transliteration Guide

Sound Equivalents

Trans.lit.er.ation is a mechanism to represent letters or words of one alphabet into the corresponding characters of another alphabet. However, no transliteration can exactly express the vocal difference between two languages. Besides, the inability of the characters of one language representing the exact pronunciations and sounds of another, there are specific difficulties in romanizing Arabic words. Compared to English, Arabic speech requires that the muscles of the vocal organs be kept taut which results in clearer speech, lips are much more mobile, stress is placed on producing the full sound of every word, transition from one sound to another is very rapid and vowels do not glide off into diphthong and voiced consonants.

There are ten characters in Arabic alphabet which do not have equivalents in English. These comprise: ء «h» <b.b «vu? «ved C<Cad In English the same sounds are some times spelt in more than one way, and the same letter may be used to represent more than one sound, e.g. “C’ represent “S’ in ‘face’ but ‘K’ in ‘cloth’. Arabic spellings are much more regular and one letter or symbol represents just one sound.

Over the years several attempts have been made to bridge the gap for transliterating the Arabic sound correctly into the English language. Currently, a combination of three different techniques are employed for transliteration of certain Arabic alphabets, which do not have an equivalent in the English language.

1. Placing a macron (-) over the English alphabets to indicate long vowels of the Arabic language; for example:

Imanos Rasilds4) — Injil Jew!

Book: the-divine-names-of-allah

Page: 283 | Image index: 0
Title: 2. Placements of dots under certain English alphabets; for
Size: 322,766 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

2. Placements of dots under certain English alphabets; for example:

Hajj = Muhammad > Tawaf Gi5b Salat ste

3. Underlining certain alphabet or combination of alphabet for example:

Uthman oi Hadith es

Notwithstanding the foregoing, there remains a considerable confusion in the systems in practice. A normally authoritative and careful encyclopedia employs, within the space of a dozen pages, three different versions of a common name like ‘Quraish. At least three more spellings of the word are commonly used, and another twelve spellings are theoretically justifiable according to the various principles of transliteration of Arabic.

A comparative matrix of eight systems of transliteration currently in vogue is presented in Table 1. While there is no apparent ambiguity in signifying certain letters with special signs, it is the sound equivalents and hence the pronunciation that presents the challenge. Thus, in practice building a usable romanization involves tradeoffs between Arabic and English characters. Pure transcriptions are generally not possible as Arabic contains sounds and distinctions alien to English.

Table 2 endeavors to specify the sound equivalent and the pronunciation of each letter. The choice of transliteration for this Study has been made for the one stated in Column 7 of Table 1 which is a mini variant of the Western Orientalist’s template. Table ‘A’ below presents a summary of the exercise.

BH

Badr Hashemi (BH) was born and raised in a religious family environment which inherited a legacy of the centuries' old tradition of dispensing values, virtues and education. He completed the elementary learning and partly memorized the Qur'an while under ten and continued with learning the Arabic language, grammar and exegesis of the Qur'an and Hadith in parallel with formal western education in social sciences and development studies.

BH attended sandwich courses at Al-Azhar in the Qur'anic Arabic and lectures in interpretation of the Qur'an and Fiqh by Shykh Ali Al-Tantawi (Faqih) in Cairo, and Shykh Yusuf Al-Qaradawi (Faqih) in Qatar. He had periodic learning sessions with Professor Arther J. Arberry (Roman Catholic, translator of the Qur'an and Ahadith, etc.) during the mid-sixties while BH was a student at the University of Cambridge (UK), and, later in the late-eighties, with Muhammad Asad (Jewish convert to Islam, translator of the Qur'an and Ahadith, etc.) in Gibraltar.

BH is a Professional Economist and a Fellow of the World Bank Institute of Development Economics in Washington DC, and the United Nations Asian Development Institute. Worked as a civil servant in Pakistan and was part of the international civil service with the United Nations. He has been a keynote speaker at international seminars/conferences in Europe, the Middle East-North Africa, and the Far East; widely travelled with long periods of stay in the Arab Middle East and North Africa.

Well versed in Arabic and English and well read in the Torah, the Psalms, the Bible, Islamic history and culture, ancient civilizations and comparative religions, BH has held interactive discussions with Jewish Rabbis and Christian Priests in North America and Western Europe. He has visited various sites and places of history enumerated in the Torah, the Bible and the Qur'an— scattered from the Nile delta through the Levant to Babylon.

BH initiated work on 'English Translation and Paraphrasing of The Qur'an' in 1999 with the aim of understanding The Qur'an with The Qur'an. This 6-volume monumental research project was completed in late 2016. In addition, his other works comprise: 'The Divine 99', 'Journeying Through The Qur'an', "Introducing the Qur'an", 'Living with the Prophet Muhammad', 'Essence of Islam' with ISBN 978-1-4951-1945-3, 978-1-4951-2588-1, 978-1-4675-9891-0, 978-1-5323-2227-3, 978-1-5323-2228-1, 978-1-5323-5986-6 have been published by International Islamic University, National Book Foundation and Holy Qur'an Research Foundation.

He is also exploring the principal thematic issues in the Hadith literature that form the common heritage between the Shiite and the Sunni schools of thought in Islam. BH lives in USA and can be reached via email at hashemibadr@gmail.com, and visited on www.quranhighlights.com, Treasuresofthefaithofislam.com. Facebook

Title: Al-Rahim Falla Fatatuh

Size: 301,800 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Rahim Falla Fatatuh

Pronunciation: Al-Rahim. Ar-Raheem with stress in accent on letter /t/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /h/ a harsher sound than the English initial /h/ may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /i/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in meet, beef and see.

Related Sirah:Ayat — Occurs 115 times either as Al-Rahim or Rahim-un (Active Particle Noun), or in combination with other Divine Attributes as Al-Rahman Al-Rahim in Q.02:163,27:30; 41:02, 59:22; as Al-'Aziz Al-Rahim in Q.26:09, 68, 104, 122, 140, 159, 175, 191, 217; 30:05, 32:06; 36:05, 44:42; as Ghafr Al-Rahim in Q.02:31, 89, 129, 173, 182, 192, 199, 218, 226; 03:89, 129; 04:23, 25, 96, 100, 106, 110, 129, 152; 05:03, 34, 39, 74, 98; 06:54,145,165; 07:153,167; 08:69,70; 09:05,27,91,99,102; 10:108; 11:41; 12:53,98; 14:36; 15:49; 16:18,110,115, 119,; 24:05,22,33,62; 25:06,70; 27:11, 28:16; 33:05, 24, 50, 59, 73; 34:02; 39:53; 41:32; 42:05; 46:08; 48:14; 49:05,14,; 57:28; 58:12; 60:07,12; 64:14; 66:01; 73:20; as Rabb Al-Rahim in Q.36:58; with Al-Barr Al-Rahim in Q.52:28; Al-Tawwab Al-Rahim in Q.02:37, 54, 128,160; 04:64; 09:104,118; 49:12; and Ra'oif Al-Rahim in Q.09:117; 16:07,47; 22:65; 24:20; 57:09.

Also occurs as variants: Marhama (Noun) in Q.90:17; as Al-Ghani' yy Dhir-Rahmah in Q.06:133; and as Al-Ghafr Al-Rahim in Q.18:58.

Approximate Meaning: The Ever-Caring. The Merciful. The Compassionate to the Faithful. The Source of Infinite Beneficence. The Giver of Intensive Form of Mercy. The Dispenser of Grace.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Reciting this epithet 100 times a day after the Early Morning Prayers, al-Fajr, brings Allah's protection from calamities, and heat of the Time of Judgment. Its recitation helps in healing nasal cavities.

Title: Al-Malik Jalla Falatub

Size: 236,864 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Malik Jalla Falatub

Pronunciation: Al-Malik where /k/ is pronounced as in king, buckle and kinetic.

Related Sirah: Ayat — occurs 5 times as Malik Al-Nas in Q.114:02; and in combination with other Divine Attributes as Fa-Ta'al-Allah-o Al-Malik-ul-Haqq in Q.20:114, 23:116; as Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-Salam Al-Mt'min Al-Muhaymin Al-' Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23; and as Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-'Aziz Al-Hakim in Q.62:01. Other references to Malik are in non-divine context.

A variant of this epithet is Malik-i Yaum-i-Din in Q.01:03, and Malik-ul-Mulk in Q.03:26, both meaning The Lord, The Master. Another occurant is 'Inda Malik-um Mugtadir in Q.54:55, meaning All-Powerful.

Approximate Meaning: The Absolute Ruler. The Eternal Lord. The Sovereign Supreme. The King. The Owner of all creation and existence from eternity to infinity. The One with the complete Dominion. The Master.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Reciting this epithet 19 times a day strengthens one's faith and enlightens one's intellect. If done so 99 times every day, it makes one more decisive and facilitates one's prominence at work place. Reciting it several times after the Early Morning Prayers, al-Fajr, brings material and spiritual gain. When recited as "Ya Allah Ya Malik Ya Quddiiss" it helps in getting abundant worldly benefits in a lawful manner.

Title: FAL-Quddus gaa gaa

Size: 215,553 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

FAL-Quddus gaa gaa

Pronunciation: Al-Quddiis. Al-Quddoos with stress in accent on letter /d/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation. /Q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'. /ii/ is pronounced as /long w/, as in boot, food and mood.

Related Siirah:Ayat — occurs twice in combination with other Divine Attributes as Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-Salam Al-Mu'min Al-Mohaymin Al-'Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23; and with Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-'Aziz Al-Hakim in Q.62:01.

Approximate Meaning: The All-Holy. The Perfect. The Pure - devoid of all blemish, shortcoming, weakness, heedlessness, error, absent mindedness, free from incapability and every kind of defect and imperfection. The All Holy is one of the meanings of Al-Quddiis being above and beyond every description of which human perception can grasp — Q.42:11.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: This epithet is normally recited to cultivate love for offering Mandatory Prayers. Repeating it 100 times every day, at any time during the day/night, shall make one free from anxieties, cure one of spiritual sickness, bring peace of mind and blessed with tranquility.

Al-SHalam gous gears

Pronunciation: Al-Salam. As-Salaam with stress in accent on the letter /s/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /S/ is pronounced as in sound, service, messy and grass; and /a/ as in / longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake).

Related Strah: Ayah — occurs once with other Divine Attributes as Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-Salam Al-Mw' min Al-Muhaymin Al-'Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23.

Approximate Meaning: The Fountainhead of Peace, Security and Salvation. The Protector. The Bringer of Peace. The Free from all defects. The Flawless. Al-Salam with one of the meanings as The Flawless is Allah's quality of lacking all imperfection and any trace of deficiency, an Attribute that persists unfaltering and uninterrupted from eternity to infinity. In terms of an active attribute, Al-Salam is The Giver of Peace and Salvation at the beginning of the creation and at the time of the recreation.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who repeatedly reads/recites "Ya Allah Ya Salam" would be free from all dangers, obstructions and calamities. Reciting it 115 times on a sick person shall help the patient recover.

SI-w' min Falla Jataluh

Pronunciation: Al-Mu'min where /m/ is pronounced as in man, simple and memory.

Related Sirah: Ayah - occurs once with seven other Divine Attributes as Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-Salam Al-Mu'min Al-Muhaymin Al-"Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23.

Approximate Meaning: The Inspirer of the Faith. The Giver of Faith. The Granter of Security. The All-Affirming. The Comforter. The One Who gives Tranquility. Al-Mu'min is Allah's quality of giving safety and security, and negating fear of anyone or anything other than Him. Safety and security in the absolute sense are inconceivable from any source unless it is sourced from Allah — The One God.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who recites "Ya Allah Ya Mu'min' 631 times every time, at any time during the day/night, would be protected from harm, mishaps and losses, and blessed with tranquility.

Title: Al-Muhaymin Jalla Jalatuh

Size: 188,188 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Muhaymin Jalla Jalatuh

Pronunciation: Al-Muhaymin where /h/ is pronounced as in hat and hero, unlike /h/ in English, in Arabic /h/ is pronounced in medial and word-final positions as well.

Related Sirah:Ayat - occurs in combination with other Divine Attributes, namely, Al-Malik Al-Quddis Al-Salam Al-Mt'min Al-Muhaymin Al-'Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23. Occurance of muhaymin in Q.05:48 does not relate to the Divine Attribute.

Approximate Meaning: The Ever-Watchful. The Protector. The Guardian. The One who determines what is true and false. The All-Preserver. All meanings of Al-Muhaymin imply that Allah brings about the evolution and growth of entire existance through knowledge, control and protection. No creation combines these qualities in an absolute and perfect sense other than Allah — The One God.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who repeat 'Ya Allah Ya Muhaymin' 100 times while being in a state of ablution (wudzo) would be blessed with purity of soul, inner peace and cure from rheumatism.

Al-Mutakabbtr sg. yaa

Pronunciation: Al-Mutakabbir with stress in accent on letter /b/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /k/ is pronounced as in king, buckle and kinetic.

Related Sirah: Ayah - occurs only once as Huw-Al-Malik Al-Quddiis Al-Salam Al-Mi'min Al-Muhaymin Al-'Aziz Al-Jabbar Al-Mutakabbir in Q.59:23.

Approximate Meaning: The Supreme in Greatness. The Proud. The One to Whom all Greatness belongs. The All-Sublime. Allah's Attribute of Al-Mutakabbir considers everything less in comparison to its own essence; all majesty and glory belong to Allah. From this Attribute comes the command to pronounce The Takbir, Allah-u Akbar, Allah is Greatest. This is 'pride' in the purest sense of Al-Mutakabbir.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who repeats 'Ya Allah Ya Mutakabbir' several times a day would be blessed with peace of mind; and, when repeated before cohabitating with one's spouse, the couple shall be blessed with righteous and upright child.

Title: Al-Khalig Falla Falaluh

Al-Khalig Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Khaliq. Al-Khaaliq where /Kh/ is pronounced as /ch/ in 'Bach' in German, and 'Loch' in Scottish, but rougher; sound is produced by bringing the tongue in to the position of /k/ as in 'key' while pronouncing a strong rasping /h/; /a/ as in /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake); and /q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs 8 times as Khaliq in Q.06:102, 13:16, 39:62, 40:62; and as Huw-Allah-o Al-Khaliq Al-Bari Al-Mosawwir in Q.59:24, etc.

It also appears as Ahsan-ul-Khaliqin (where Ahsan is Perfect Tense) in Q.23:14, and Al-Khallaq Al-'Alim (where Khallaq is the Intensive Form indicating increased emphasis, i.e. Ism Mubalighah, meaning The Most Powerful Creator; The Great Creator; The One Who is constantly Creating) in Q.15:86 and 36:81. The expression 'khalq' is derived from the same origin, meaning the creation including human, jinn and angels, etc.

Approximate Meaning: The Creator of all things. The One who creates from nothing, creating at the same time the state, condition and sustenance for all the creation. Allah is Al-Khaliq as He plans, establishes and defines the state of things before they actually come into existence. This includes the conditions and sustenance for all that He creates establishing the how, when, and where creation is to take place.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating "Ya Allah Ya Khaliq" 100 times continuously for seven days would cause protection from all sort of adversities and calamities including healing of womb diseases.

Title: QI-Bari Jala Jalatuh
Size: 213,907 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

QI-Bari Jala Jalatuh

Pronunciation: Al-Bari. Al-Baaree where /B/ is pronounced as in bell, but and rubber; /a/ as /longer /a/ as in cab (not as in cake); and /i/ as /long e/ as in bee and beef.

Related Strah:Ayah — occurs only once as Huw-Allah-o Al-Khaliq Al-Bari Al-Mosawwir in Q.59:24.

Approximate Meaning: The Evolver. The Maker. The Originator. Literally, it also means to separate, to tear apart. There is a certain degree of commonality between Al-Mosawwir and Al-Bari while maintaining a subtle difference. Allah manifests the quality of Al-Bari by bringing into being in perfect harmony not only every thing within itself but with other creation in relation to each other, as well - all interconnected. When one part of this connectivity is affected, all parts are affected because the function of one depends on the function of others. And the time when inter-connectivity breaks, it would herald the emergence of a new world, a new creation.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: A couple who is not blessed with a baby and wish to have one, the lady may Fast for seven consecutive days and break the Fast with water/juice while repeating “Ya Allah Ya Bari’ 21 times. It also helps healing pancreas related problems.

Title: FAI-Mosgawwir Falla Falalub

Size: 196,798 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

FAI-Mosgawwir Falla Falalub

Pronunciation: Al-Mosawwir. Al-Mosawwir with stress in accent on letter /w/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation. /s/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing it as /sw/ or /s/ farther back in the mouth, with a hissing sound as in 'bus'.

Related Sirah: Ayah — occurs as Huw-Allah-o Al-Khaliq Al-Bari Al-Mosawwir in Q.59:24.

Approximate Meaning: The Evolver. The Giver of Forms and Appearances. The Fashioner. There is a certain degree of commonality between Al-Mosawwir and Al-Bari while maintaining a subtle difference. Allah manifests the quality of Al-Mosawwir by the fact that the originations are shaped in forms of unique beauty, and supreme perfection, while no two things are exactly alike in every way.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: In case an expecting mother is having difficulty in delivering her baby beyond the due date, she may Fast for 7 days and break the Fast while repeating 21 times "Ya Allah-Ya Mosawwir-Ya Bari-Ya Khaliq'.

Title: QI-Ghatfar Falla Falaluh

Size: 265,523 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

QI-Ghatfar Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Ghaffar. Al-Ghaffaar with stress in accent on letter /f/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation. / Gh/ Ghyn has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing it like the French /r/ in Rogue, and /r/ of Paris. Guttural /g/ but soft; requires that the throat muscles be in gargling position. /a/ as /longer /a/ as in cab (not as in cake).

Related Stirah: Ayat — occurs 5 times as Wa Inni la-Ghaffar-un Liman Taba in Q.20:82; Inna-Hu Kana Ghaffar-a in Q.71:10; Al-“Aziz Al-Ghaffar in Q.38:66 and 40:42; Huw-Al-‘Aziz Al-Ghaffar in Q.39:05.

A variant of the same root appears as Al-Ghaftr in Q.85:14; and in combination with other Attributes as Ghaftr-un-Halim in Q.02:225,235; 03:155; and Ghafur-urRahim in — — Q.02:182,192,199,218,226; 03:31,89,129; 04:23,25,100,106,110,129,152; 05:03,34,39,74,98; 06:54,145,165; 07:153,167; etc; and ‘Affttiwan Ghafira in Q.04:43,99. It also occurs as Khyr-ul-Ghafirin in Q.07:155 and as Ghafir in Q.40:03.

Approximate Meaning: The Ever-Forgiving. The Most Protecting. Al-Ghaffar is Allah’s Attribute that makes manifest what is good, and hides what is disgraceful. The sins of human beings are among the disgraceful things which Al-Ghaffar covers in this life, and disregarding their punishment in the Life after this life.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Making a daily habit of repeating “Ya Ghaffar lghfirli”, at least for 100 times, especially after the Late-Afternoon Prayers, al-‘Asr, would invoke Allah’s forgiveness and mercy.

Al-Qabhbar Falla Falatub

Pronunciation: Al-Qahhar. Al-Qahhaar with stress in accent on letter /h/ to signify the doubling of its voice in pronunciation; /a/ as /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake); /Q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in ‘quail’.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurs as Allah-ul-Wahid Al-Qahhar in Q.12:39; 38:65; 39:04; Li-Ilah-i-Al-Wahid Al-Qahhar in Q.40:16.

Approximate Meaning: The Vanquisher. The Irresistable Power. The Subduer. The Dominator. The Omnipotent. The All-Powerful. The One Who holds Absolute Sway over all that exists. Al-Qahhar is the Attribute of Allah that breaks the backs of His enemies. He dominates over them by humiliating them and punishing them. Everything in existence is subjected to Al-Qahhar’s dominance and power.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The person who repeats this epithet every day would develop a tendency of becoming free from conspicuous worldly desires, and increasingly attain peace of soul and mind.

Al-Rasz3saq Falla Jalalub

Pronunciation: Al-Razzaq. Ar-Razzaaq with stress in accent on letters /r/ and /z/ to signify the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /a/ is as /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake); /q/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in “quail”.

Related Sirah: Ayat — occurs only once as Al-Razzaq-o Dhul-Quwwat-Al-Matin in Q.51:58.

Other occurrences of the same root are as Al-Raziq in Q.05:114 and Allah-o Khyr-ur-Raziqin (Active Particle combining function of an adjective and a verb; plural; F’il Ma’aroof; Sifat F’iliyah) in Q.05:114, 23:72 and 34:39.

Approximate Meaning: The Great Provider of all Sustenance, both spiritual and physical, needed to maintain the creation. The expression Al-Razzaq provides two kinds of sustenance: (i) food for existence of physical bodies, humans included, for a defined period of time; (ii) knowledge for which the need is caused to exist in the human heart and inner self. Al-Razzaq is thus the Divine Attribute which assumes responsibility for the creation of both types of sustenance, graciously making them available to both bodies and the human heart. Allah, Al-Razzaq grants ample sustenance to whoever He Wills; and grants a measured amount to whosoever He Wills.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Allah’s sustenance would flow abundantly to the person who repeats ‘Ya Allah Ya Razzaq’ 40 times every day. It also helps in healing pain of stomach, intestine, cardiac muscles and lungs.

Title: Al- F. attah Falla Jalaluh

Size: 234,937 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al- F. attah Falla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Fattah. Al-Fattaah with stress in accent on letter /t/ signifying the doubling of its sound in pronunciation; /a/ is as / longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake); /h/ a harsher sound than the English initial /h/ may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat.

Related Strah:Ayat — occurs only once in combination with Al-“Alim as Huw-Al-Fattah Al-‘Alim in Q.34:26.

Approximate Meaning: The Opener. The Victorious Revealer. The All-Decider. The Superb Arbiter. Al-Fattah connotes three meanings: (i) the one who vanquishes difficulties and brings about ease; (ii) the one who makes decisions known; and (iii) the one who discloses the concealed. Note the words of Al-Fattah as He speaks in Q.48:01: ‘Inna Fatahna Laka Fattah-um-Mobina,’ i.e. Truly, We have granted you, O’ Muhammad, a clear victory which is a gateway to further victories.’ This was the time of Hdaybiyah in 627, which Allah speaks of ‘a clear victory’ as victories after victories followed thereafter.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The heart, mind and intellect of the one who regularly repeats “Ya Allah Ya Fattah’, 70 times after the Early Morning Prayer, al-Fajr, shall be bestowed with enlightenment.

Title: Al-Qabids Jalla Falaluh

Size: 206,287 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Qabids Jalla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Qabidz. Al-Qaabidz where /Q/ may _ be approximated by pronouncing /k/ farther back in the mouth; strongly articulated guttural /k/ as in 'quail'. /a/ is a /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake). /dz/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /d/ and /z/ farther back in the mouth.

Related Sitrah: Ayat — based on Yaqbidzu (Imperfect Tense Almudzar'i') meaning 'withholds', in Q.02:245, 25:46. Al-Qabidz is listed as a Divine Attribute in a report quoted by Al-Tirmidhi 3508.

Approximate Meaning: The Constrictor - all existence is in His power. The One who withholds, reduces and closes. The Restrainer. The Straightener. Al-Qabidz is the opposite of Al-Basit. It is that Divine Attribute which constricts or withholds the means of subsistence to whoever He Wills, and who takes out the soul from the bodies at the time of their being given death. Q.02:245 sets the Divine Attribute as: '...It is Allah Who withholds, and it is Allah Who gives abundently...'

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who would read 'Ya Allah Ya Qabidz' on food and eats it for 40 consecutive days shall be free from constraints of livelihood and body harms.

Title: Al-Khatias Jalla Jalaluh

Size: 226,567 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Khatias Jalla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Khafidz. Al-Khaafidz where /Kh/ is pronounced as /ch/ in 'Bach' in German, and 'Loch' in Scottish, but rougher; sound is produced by bringing the tongue in to the position of /k/ as in 'key' while pronouncing a strong rasping /h/. /dz/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but may be approximated by pronouncing /d/ and /z/ farther back in the mouth. /4/ is a /longer a/ as in cab (not as in cake).

Related Source — Al-Khafidz does not appear in The Qur'an. It is listed as a Divine Attribute in a report quoted by Al-Tirmidht 3508.

Approximate Meaning: The Abaser. The One who can turn everything upside down. The One who causes disgrace. Al-Khafidz is the opposite of Al-Rafi'y. Allah is Al-Khafidz because He abases His enemies by isolating them from Himself. Q.56:01-03 describe the ultimate situation as: "When the Event to happen happens, there is no denying of its happening — abasing some, exalting others."

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who may fast for three consecutive days and then on the fourth day repeats "Ya Allah Ya Khafidz' 70 times would be entitled to get Allah's Blessings for protection against punitive harm from bad wishers. Its recitation also cures medical ailment of blood pressure.

Al-fHlo Bs Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Moi'zz with stress in accent on letter /z/ to indicate the doubling of its sound in pronunciation. /z/ is pronounced as in zoo, easy and zeal.

Related Sirah:Ayat — based on Tu'izzo (Imperfect Tense Almudzar'i') meaning 'You confer honor and dignity', in Q.03:26, 04:139, etc. Al-Moi'zz is listed as a Divine Attribute in a report quoted by Al-Tirmidht 3508.

'Izzah is the common root for "Aziz and Moi'zz, meaning The Invincible, The Powerful, The Almighty, etc.

Approximate Meaning: The Giver of Honor. Al-Mo'izz is the opposite of Al-Modhill. Al-Mo'izz elevates those who attain to know the beauty of Allah's Presence and are granted contentment so as to contain their disposition. Allah will raise them to honor in the Life after this life in terms of their gaining 'closeness' to Allah, when He would call for them during the Time of Judgment, saying: "O The Soul At Peace! Return to your Rabb; well pleased and well pleasing; go in among My Servants; and go into My Garden.' Q.89:27. This is the utmost honor bestowed by Al-Mo'izz.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one repeating "Ya Allah Ya Al-Moi'zzo' 140 times on Mondays and Fridays after the Night Fall Prayers, al-'Isha, would never be subdued, besides gaining respect in eyes of the others.

Al-Modhill Jalla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Modhill with stress in accent on letter /l/ signifying Shadd which indicates doubling of its sound in pronunciation. /dh/ sound is between /z/ and /th/ as in father, worthy and with, etc.

Related Stirah: Ayah — the epithet is derived from Tudhillu (Imperfect Tense Almudzar'i') meaning 'You abase', in Q.03:26, etc. Al-Modhill is listed as a Divine Epithet in a report quoted by Al-Tirmidhi 3508.

Approximate Meaning: The Giver of dishonor, disgrace, humiliation and abasement. The One who subjects others to be low. The one who subdues. Al-Modhill is the opposite of Al-Mo'izz. The dishonored is the one to whom Allah speaks during the Time of Judgment in this tone: 'But you allowed yourselves to be tempted, you were hesitant, doubtful, deceived by false hopes until Allah's Command, i.e. death came upon you; the Deceiver, Satan, tricked you about Allah; so this Day no ransom shall be accepted from you or from the disbelievers: your home is the Fire, that is where you belong, a miserable destination.' Q.57:14-15. This is the limit of dishonor decreed by Al-Modhill.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating "Ya Allah Ya Modhillu" 75 times, preferably in the posture of sajdah/prostration, shall provide a shield to the person against jealousy, wishful harm and animosity.

Pronunciation: Al-Sami'y. As-Samee' with stress in accent on letter /s/ to double its sound in pronunciation signifying Shadd. Letter /'y/ or /'ayn/ has no close sound equivalent in English; it is like a guttural sound in the back of the throat, like /a-a-a-ah/, and then raising the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled. /i/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in bee and see.

Related Sirah:Ayat — occurring single as Sami'y in Inna Rabb-i la-Sam? y-ud Du'a in Q.14:39; and in combination with other Divine Attributes as Innaka Anta-s-Sami'y-ul Al-'Alim in Q.02:127 and 03:35; Huwa-as-Sami'y-u-Al-'Alim in Q.02:137 and 06:13,115; Wa-Allah-o Sami'y-un-'Alim in Q.02:256, 03:34, 09:98, 09:103, 24:21, 24:60; Inna-Hu Sami'y-un-'Alim in Q.07:200; Inn-Allah-a la-Sami'y-un 'Alim in Q.08:17,42; Inn-Allah-a Sami'y-un 'Alim in Q.08:53 and 49:01; Inn-Hu Huwa-s-Sami'y-ul-'Alim in Q.08:61, 17:01, 26:220, 41:36, 44:06 and 112:34; Huwa-s-Sam? y-ul-'Alim in Q.10:65, 21:04; 29:05; 29:60; Sami'y-un Qarib in Q.34:50; and as Kana-Allah-o Sami'y-um-Basir-a in Q.04:134; Anna-Allah-a Sami y-um-Basir in Q.22:61; Inna-Allah-a Sami'y-um-Basir in Q.22:75; 31:28; Inna-Allah-a Huwa-s Sami'y-ul-Basir in Q.40:20; Inna-Hu Huwa-Al-Sami'y Al-Basir in Q.40:56; Huwa- Al-Sami'y-Al-Basir in Q.42:11; Inna-Allah-a Sami' y-um-Basir in Q.58:01. Approximate Meaning: The All-Hearing. The All-Listening. Al-Samt'y is the Divine Attribute from which nothing audible escapes, regardless of its being loud or silent. Al-Sami'y is conscious of an ant creeping in the darkness of night in as much as He hears the praise of those who praise Him and rewards them; He hears the invocations of those who invoke Him in their heart and answers them.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Early-Afternoon Prayers, al-Zuhr, on Thursdays is the best time to repeat "Ya Allah Ya Sami'y' 100 times and be blessed with any desirable wish. It also has the healing power for ears/hearing.

Al-Basir Falla Jalaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Basir. Al-Baseer where /s/ has no close sound equivalent in English, but it may be approximated by pronouncing it as /sw/ or /s/ farther back in the mouth, with a hissing sound as in bus. /i/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in bee and see.

Related Siirah:Ayat — occurs as single in form like Wa-Allah-o Basir-um bi-ma Ya’lamiin in Q.02:96,233,237; 03:15,20; 25:20; 33:09; 64:02; 67:19; 84:15; and in combination with other Divine Attributes as Huw-Al-Sami’y-o Al-Basir in Q.17:01; 22:61,75; 31:28; 40:20,56; 42:11; 58:01; and Inn-Allah-a bi ‘Ebadihi al-Khabir-um Basir in Q.35:31 and 42:27.

Another derivative of the same root as Basir is Al-Basa’er (pl), meaning ‘enlightenment,’ appears as Noun Plural in Q.06:104 and 07:203, etc. where it means Divine Enlightenment, and, elsewhere it refers to The Torah and The Qur’an as Al-Basa’er. Q.27:13 mentions Mubsiratun, as Active Participle from the derived stem, meaning ‘clear to sea’.

Approximate Meaning: The All-Seeing. The All-Watching. Al-Basir refers to watching and observing things in such a manner that nothing escapes its attention including even what is in the earth, the cosmos, in-between and beyond. This is far beyond the perception of a sense of human sight which is limited to the appearance of things as visible. Consider Q.06:103 — ‘No mortal power of sight can ever encompass Him; but He grasps sight of all.’

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who repeats ‘Ya Allah Ya Basir’ 100 times after the Friday Congregation (Jumu’ah) Prayer shall be bestowed with respect and esteem in the eyes of others; also helps in healing eye-related ailments.

Title: Al-Hakam Falla Falaluh

Size: 236,139 bytes | Dimensions: 1165x1801

Al-Hakam Falla Falaluh

Pronunciation: Al-Hakam where /H/ is a harsher sound than the English initial /H/, and may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /k/ as in king, buckle and kinetic.

Related Strah: Ayat — derived from Yahkumu (Imperfect Tense Almudzar'1') in Q.10:109, 22:69, and Hukm in Q.28:70, etc. Al-Hakam is listed as a Divine Epithet in a report quoted by Al-Tirmidht 3508.

Expressions with variance but with same root like Ahkam-ul-Hakimin (relative) occur in Q.11:45; 95:08; and Khyr-ul-Hakimin in Q.12:80.

Approximate Meaning: The Judge. The Arbitrator: who hands down verdicts; who gives orders. Al-Hakam's ruling regarding happiness for the righteous and misery for the wicked is that Allah makes good or evil, positive or negative, a cause which leads those who practice them to happiness or misery. In a similar way, Allah makes medication and the poison the causes which lead one to recovery or to death. If the meaning of Hakam is to arrange causes to their effects, then Allah is The Absolute Arbiter because He is the Cause of all causes. Causes are directed to the effects in Al-Hakam's judgment.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Uttering "Ya Allah Ya Hakam' several times during the day over days shall cause one to be blessed with wisdom and insight.

Al-Khabir Falla Falalub

Pronunciation: Al-Khabir. Al-Khabeer where /Kh/ is pronounced as /ch/ in ‘Bach’ in German, and ‘Loch’ in Scottish, but rougher; sound is produced by bringing the tongue in to the position of /k/ as in ‘key’ while pronouncing a strong rasping /h/. /l/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in bee and beef.

Related Sirah:Ayat - occurs single as Al-Khabir/Khabir in Q.02:234, 04:128,135; 24:53; 33:02; 57:04; 58:11,13; 64:02; and in combination with other Divine Attributes such as Huwa Al-Hakim-u-Al-Khabir in Q.06:18, 06:73, 11:01, 34:01; Huw-Al-Latif-u Al-Khabir in Q.06:103, 33:34 and 67:14; Innahu Kana Bi-’lbadihi Khabir-um Basir-a in Q.17:30,96; 35:31, 42:27; Innal-Allah-a Kana “Alim-un Khabir-4 in Q.04:35, 06:18,73; 31:34, 49:13, 66:03; Huw-al Al-Latif-ul Khabir in Q.06:103; 22:63; 31:16; 33:34; 67:14; and Inna-Allah-a Khabir-um bima Ta’amaliin in Q.59:18.

Approximate Meaning: The All-Aware. The One Who Knows Full Well. The Sagacious. Al-Khabir is the Attribute from which nothing is hidden. Nothing occurs in either the physical or spiritual domain, not an atom is set in motion or becomes still, not a breath is disturbed nor silenced without The Aware’s knowledge of it. The Attribute is similar to Al--Alim, both being attributes of knowledge, but The Aware’s knowledge is related to that which is outwardly unknown, namely, consciousness.

Blessings, if Allah Wills: The one who may have an undesirable aspect of social behavior and wishes to get rid of it, repeating “Ya Allah Ya Khabir’ continuously shall help the person to become free of it.

Pronunciation: Al-Halim. Al-Haleem where /H/ is a harsher sound than the English initial /H/, may occur medially and in word-final position as well. Sound is produced by expelling the air through a narrowed throat in much the same way as one tries to clear one's throat. /i/ gives /long e/ sound as in beef and seen.

Related Sirah:Ayat—occurs as Halim/Al-Halim in combination with other Divine Attributes, such as Ghafir-un Halim in Q.02:225,235; 03:155; 05:101; 17:44; 35:41; Shakir-un Halim in Q.64:17; 'Alim-un Halim in Q.04:12; 33:51; and Ghaniyyi-un Halim in Q.02:263, 04:12, 05:101, 17:44, 22:59, 35:41.

Approximate Meaning: The Forbearing. The Clement. The Gentle. The Indulgent. Al-Halim is an Attribute which shows neither anger nor rage upon observing disobedience or violation. It is not prompted by haste and recklessness to take swift vengeance even though it has unlimited power to do so. Q.35:45 asserts: 'If Allah took people to task by that which they deserve, He would not leave a single living creature on the surface of the earth.'

Blessings, if Allah Wills: Repeating "Ya Allah Ya Halim" shields a person from loss of providence.

Pronunciation: Al-'Al'yy. Al-Aleeyy with stress in accent on letter /y/ indicating the doubling of its sound in pronunciation (Shadd). For /'A, 'Ayn/ there is no close equivalent in English, a guttural sound in the back of the throat - /a-a-a-ah/ raising the lower part of throat in order to narrow the passage through which air is expelled. /i/ is pronounced as /long e/ as in bee, beef and meet.

Related Sirah:Ayat - occurs as Al-'AIP yy Al-Azim in Q.02:255; 42:04; as 'Ali' yy-un Hakim in Q.42:51; 43:04; as "Al yy-un Kabir in Q.04:34; and as Al-' Ali' yy-ul-Kabir in Q.22:62; 31:30; 40:12.

Approximate Meaning: The Outstanding. The Exalted. The Superior. The Highest of the high. The Sublime. Al-' All yy refers to height, which, in turn refers to the concept of elevation, which is the opposite of lowness. It may be conceived in terms of perceptible height. Everything that can be described as being 'above' in respect of space possesses spatial highness, and everything that can be described as being 'above' in terms of rank may be said to have a highness exceeding all others. 'The Persian conquest of the fortified town of Daraa (Adhri'at) is sometimes identified with the Byzantine defeat mentioned in the Quran (30:2-3), since it lay on a principal caravan route between Arabia and Syria. About nine years later, in 622, the Byzantines were victorious over the Sasanians at the battle of Issus near Antioch, fulfilling the Quranic prophecy.

First Hijrah: A small group of Muslims fled to Christian Abyssinia from persecution in Makkah in 615; about a year later a larger group of Muslim refugees came. The Prophet encouraged them but did not join them. This group of emigrants rejoined the Prophet in Madinah in 628, not long after the signing of the peace treaty of Hdaybiyah and the final Byzantine victory over the Persians.

The emigration (hijrah) of the Prophet and his companions from Makkah to Madinah occurred during the late summer of 622.

Counterattacking Byzantines defeated Persians at Issus in 622.

The Byzantine victory at Nineveh opened the way for ultimate triumph against the Sasanian Empire and the return of all conquered territories within two years.

This map shows the state of the structure enclosing the Ka'bah circa 2005. At the time of the Prophet no such structure existed. It was built in various ways over the centuries, and it continues to be modified and expanded today.

The first and most important ritual of umrah is circumambulation (fawaf), comprising seven circuits around the Ka'bah, which begin and end at the Black Stone or an imaginary radius extending from it.
